The only one killed outright on the first train was one of the cooks, who was badly mangled in the wreck.

One unfortunate sailor was pinned in the burning ruins, anu both legs were burned off below the knee.

The passengers who were not injured worked like beavers to extricate those who were caught in the burning timbers and twisted from work.

Doctors were on the scene within a very short time after the crash, and the injured were hurried to the hospital at Kamleops, where they are doing as well as possible.

None of the passengers on the first train saved any of their belongings.

Nothing authentic can be gathered, and the railway men are very uncommunicative regarding the accident.

Dr. Scribner, surgeon of H. M. S. Shearwater, left this morning by the steamer Charmer for Kamloops to attend the injured men of the homewardbound draft who were victims of the collision. He will attend to the medical wants of the men while they remain in Kamloops and will accompany them home to England when they are in condition to travel. It was expected that Lieut. Kerwen, navigating officer of the Shearwater, would also proceed to the scene, but his orders were countermanded.

Mr. Birrell said he hoped the Lords would recognize during the committee stage of the bill that they had gone too far, and that a Liberal government could not be carried. Liberal government could not be carried on with advantage and sincerity if meas-ures prepared in accordance with its pledges were mutilated and destroyed by an unrepresentative assembly.

London, Nov. 13.—The Liberal papers this morning comment upon the speech of Augustine Birrell, presider of the board of education, at Bristol last night as an ultimatum on behalf of the government to the House of Lords. The Tribune declared the education bill is the last effort that will be made to reconcile popular control with religious education, and avers that if the present bill is destroyed, it will be substituted by not a denominational, but a secular system of religious education. religious education.
