VIOLENT ATTACK ON THE GOVERNMENT IN THE COMMONS.

Osman Digma's Following Increased—Gordon's Proclamation Being Circulated on the Nile.

LONDON, March 3.—In the house of commons this afternoon questions were put to the government regarding the condition of affairs in Egypt, which the government refused to answer. Great excitement arose.

The marquis of Hartington said it was not the proper time to vindicate the policy of the government in Egypt. The immediate object was to secure the safety of the remaining Egyptian garrisons and provide for the safety of the Nile.

Gladstone replied to the strictures of Sir Wilfrid Lawson. He justified the policy which the government had been pursuing, and asserted it was necessary to hold Suakin for the present in order to keep down the slave trade.

Sir Stafford Northcote said a lack of coherency in the government's Egyptian policy caused the misfortunes in the Sudan.

The marquis of Hartington, secretary of state for war, said the British would retire from Suakin as soon as it was compatible with the safety of that town.

The motion for adjournment was rejected by 105 to 103.

Before the British renewed the attack upon the rebel Osman Digma will be offered a conference. Five thousand rebels who fled from Tokar when the British entered Saturday have joined Osman Digma. Only 1000 of them are Soudanese, being fanatic sent from Urdofan and Barfou.

If Osman Digma refuse to surrender it is expected that the rest of the tribes under the sheikhs will express a desire to come to terms.

The ambassadors of all the powers have been instructed to compliment the government upon Gen. Graham's victory.

A previously hostile chief has offered to accompany Col. Stewart up the Nile to promulgate Gordon's manifesto.

El Mahdi has forbidden the British on the Nile and Blue Nile to advance to Khartoum or provoke hostility. Four hundred to five hundred men were admitted to Gordon. Three soldiers of the old garrison of El Obeid have arrived here. They report great misery at El Obeid.

ALLIANCE AGAINST ENGLAND.

Russia, Germany and Austria Jealous of her Supremacy.

Berlin, March 3.—The German ministerial organs associate the alliance of Russia, Germany and Austria with the coming league of continental powers against the maritime and commercial preponderance of England.

A notable article appears in the Kreuz Zeitung which predicts the formation of a league, including France, to break the insular supremacy of England, which it says by the annexation of Egypt has completed the links of a gigantic chain extending from Gibraltar to China, and coiled around the body of Europe, making the Mediterranean sea and the Indian ocean English lakes.

The Berlin Post urges France to join the alliance, promising more substantial benefits than those arising from her agreement with England.

Dr. Busch, under foreign secretary in an article in Grenzboten remarks that Russia's progress toward India is a matter of indifference to Germany. England, he says, is no longer our ally but regards us with evident mistrust.

It is supposed these articles are indications of a diplomatic campaign against England.

The "Creole" Company Stranded. CLEVELAND, March 3.—Lillian Spencer, the young emotional actress of Pittsburgh, who recently got her name in the newspapers by her quarrel with and separation from her husband, Edward Gray, has, for six weeks past, been ill in the Huron street hospital in this city. She has frequently been visited by Clayburg, who for a week past, has been in the city, now said, on the best of authority, that Lillian and her husband have not separated, but that the whole affair was simply an advertisement to promote the interests of the "Creole" company. The company has been playing to poor houses for two months past and is completely stranded in Detroit.

Another Cultured Case. LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 3.—Recently a young man named Geary shot himself. The authorities of the catholic church refused to allow the body to be buried in the church cemetery. Threats have been made to remove the remains by violence, and the grave is strongly guarded.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3.—There was considerable excitement in the quinine market to-day in consequence of the great fire at the factory of Powers & Weightman, the price of the drug, which has been only in moderate demand for some time past, jumped from $1.40 to $1.50 per ounce. The foreign article, which has been quoted as low as $1.10 per ounce, went up to $1.50, with only a limited quantity offered at that price.

Disarmament Organ Charges that the Secessionists Prompted the Revolution of Contention.

Berlin, March 3.—North German Gazette (Disarmament's organ) condemns the proposal of the secessionists to offer in the Reichstag a resolution thanking the house of representatives for its action on the death of Laaker. The resolution is a resolution the Gazette says would constitute a shameful act. The Gazette refrains out of respect to secessionists actually paid cash for the Laaker resolution but says it was offered in the hope of reaping a reward in the furtherance of the revolution.

The Gazette adds: An attempt to carry the proposed resolution would be a violation of law and a direct correspondence with a foreign foreign representative would be a breach of the constitution. The government would certainly visit such an encroachment upon the main of the monarchy with serious consequences.

Evening journals say that secessionist deputy Kapp is a man of great intelligence. He asserts that congress politically is far too enlightened for a sensible foreigner to feel tempted to molest it with his wishes.

GARMOLY GUSH. A Noble Sutor's Letter to His "Golden-haired Darling."

LONDON, March 3.—The Fortescue-Garmoly breed of promise case continues the rulinessening. Earl Cairns, the father of the recent lover, reverts the revelations which continue to appear in the papers. Miss Fortescue's friends assert that the last letter written by Lord Garmoly to that lady was a veritable insult. He had left Miss Fortescue at Brighton and expressed that he would return on the following day and take her to his ancestral home at Bournehead. But instead of writing a letter breaking off the match and giving an imaginary list of titled friends who have declared they would not see her. He added: "Though we cannot marry, we will always be the dearest friends. My golden-haired darling will be my darling still. The letter from Earl Cairns justifying his son's desertion of his betrothed in lawyer-like and marked by an utter absence of sympathy for the woman. He offered her first £3000 and then £3000 to settle the matter. A still later offer of £10,000 was made, but that has been withdrawn.

LINKED WITH LUORE.

An Old Woman Who kept her Money in Peculiar Places.

There died in Essex Court the other day an old maiden lady named Isabella McEwan. She was the last of a family of four, two brothers and two sisters, who came from Scotland to Essex Court forty years ago. When her death was announced throughout Essex Court the whole town was agog to know what she was worth.

She had lived closely, held very little communication with her neighbors, and was supposed to have all her money about the house. The executors proceeded to take an inventory of the house. They found nothing unusual till they came to her room. They soon discovered in the drawers some purses full of bills. In her trunk they found bills pinned to the lining of her dress alcove. All they got were £400. They found a bag containing $688 in gold, mostly English sovereigns. Whilst this search was going on, Mr. Powrie was sitting on the bed and putting his hand down he felt some lumps of something in the bed tick, which was filled with what was brought out by his pocket knife, he ripped open the tick, and at every dive in with his hand, he would bring out small bundles of silver tied up in rags, between bags and stockings, which were flung into a basket, and when they finished they had as much money as a man could lift. The basket was brought to the billage the next day, and the contents, in bills, gold and silver, amounted to about £4200. They also found certificates of money invested in Dominion stocks, Postoffice savings bank slips, bank books showing deposits in Detroit savings bank, which were worth in the neighborhood of $15,000.

The miser like habits of all the members of this family are accounted for by the fact that many years ago they deposited money in a Detroit bank, which failed, and they lost it all. A cousin, John McKwan, and his wife, who recently came from Scotland, and who took care of the old lady until she died, come in for all the wealth.

THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN

REGULATIONS OF THE PROPOSED BATHS AT HANLAN'S POINT.

Mr. Mulock's Railroad Crossing Bill—The Council to Wait on the Ontario Government—Clearing the Order Paper.

The meeting of the board of aldermen this afternoon was devoted to the basic and important question of the proposed baths at Hanlan's point. There were only ten members of the board present, and the grocers' license bylaw was so vigorously talked about and listened to by a great crowd of temperance people and the opponents of the bylaw. But what the session lacked in interest was made up by the hilarious expressions of a certain alderman who had evidently been certifying citizens as to how he should be treated.

There were present—Mayor, Beersell, Ald. Turner, Staines, Leves, Carlyle, Lobb, Maughan, Verrall, Hastings, Pape, Brandon, Allen, Sheppard, Millinchamp, Hunter, Barton, Irwin, Walker, Davies, Adamson, Crocker, Blevins, Denison, Mitchell, Farley, Piper and DeLoe.

A letter was read from John Small, M. P., stating that Wm. Mulock's bill providing that railroad trains shall not remain on a crossing more than three minutes at a time had been referred to a select committee and asking for an expression from the council as to how he should be treated with regard to the measure. McIntyre and others to erect public baths at Hanlan's point (referred to in the petition above), was discussed at length. The frontage of the baths to be leased is 300 feet on the lake side. The license shall use and occupy the said 500 feet for the purpose of erecting bathing houses and other conveniences for bathers, including dressing and refreshment rooms, and for no other purpose whatsoever, and the license shall be subject to the terms of the ordinance in that behalf.

The bathing houses and other necessary improvements are to be erected and ready for use on or before June 1, next. The license not to charge any higher rate for admission than the rate for bathers than the following, namely: For bathing box and towel 10 cents; bathing box, dress and towel, 15 cents; and for a bath offered amendment that if these conditions were varied in any respect the lease should void. All of the reports were passed and the order paper was then gone into and read.

Ald. MRS. DORTY DENIES IT.

She Says She Went up to Hamilton Just for Fun.

The colored people in the ward are greatly exercised over the Dority scandal which appeared in yesterday's World. In order to get both sides of the story a reporter called at the Dority residence yesterday. They live in a three story rough-cast house with a lane back at No. 16 Elizabeth street. The reporter was admitted by a pretty little brunette who was neatly dressed and presented a strong contrast to her surroundings. In the room on the first floor was an array of ginger beer bottles and glasses while a couple of youths were playing euchre with a groovy back of cards at the table. On making known the object of his visit the good looking brunette said that she was Mrs. Dority and that she had just returned from Hamilton, whither she had come with her husband's sister.

"Are the reports true which have been circulated about you?" inquired the reporter. "No, indeed they are not. I went up to Hamilton just for fun, and not to see Deitz. I stayed at the St. Nicholas hotel of course, but I did not stay with him. I don't know where Deitz is, and I don't care."

"Are you and your husband on good terms again?" "We were never on bad terms," said Mrs. Dority, with an uneasy laugh. "There is no truth in the story, and I am going to have it contradicted."

The visitor left after promising to give Mrs. Dority's side of the story.
