

other stock, says: "I venture to say that there are more women poultry-raisers than men. To be successful one requires a large stock of good common sense. Worn-out, nervous women especially, will find it a boon. One, two or three hours out-door work each day will do wonders for them, as a relief from the monotonous daily routine of housework. The raising of early pullets for winter layers helps fill a demand which is greater than can be supplied. Have regular hours for caring for them. Order, system and judicious work in the morning hours, bring our days to a satisfactory close. Very small capital, time and expense is required, and nearly all the failures come from those too proud or shiftless to attend to details."

A Grand Trial Trip.

We want every poultry fancier or breeder in the country on our list of subscribers, and to them we make the following liberal offer:

There are none of you but either have something for "sale or exchange" or some "want," and we offer to all who send us $1.00, subscription to the CANADIAN BEE JOURNAL AND POULTRY WEEKLY for one year, a
