Some questions are never settled. They ever hang around us, from year to year seeking solution, and at the end go unanswered.

The question that has often busied your mind during the wakeful hours of the night, regarding the future of your wife and family, should they be minus your guidance, can be settled quickly and forever. The adjustment of your financial affairs so that you can pay an annual premium to the Sun Life of Canada, of an amount not to embarrass you, will solve the problem. A few hundred dollars laid aside for this purpose will at once put your mind at ease and you can give all your efforts to other work at hand, untrammelled by fear regarding your family's future.

A man with enough protection in the shape of life assurance can snap his fingers at "what may happen" and face anything the future may have in store, with confidence that all is well. The battle with death can be fought in life—in fact it must be—and the brave and true man can be the victor.

A life assurance policy is the great relief of fear, slackening the heart strings and giving buoyancy to the soul.

Are you struggling along with chance against you? if so, you are facing hopeless defeat. Wave aloft a life policy and join the happy throng who are relieved of this horrid fear, and go happy on your way to your business.
