

THE CANADIAN MAGAZINE

Christmas Number

The Christmas Number of THE CANADIAN MAGAZINE, at 25 cents, will be unequalled by present competitors or past attempts. The leading Canadian writers will contribute. The illustrations will be superior to anything ever shown before in the MAGAZINE. The cover will be appropriate to the season: "Johnny Canuck's Christmas," a striking design in colours, by S. C. Simonski. The collection of typical, Canadian-nature scenes, reproduced in colour, will make the number most suitable as a holiday souvenir to send abroad.

—READY DECEMBER 1st

—PRICE, 25 CENTS

—ALL BOOKSELLERS

The London (England) Spectator of Aug. 11, 1900, says: "The Canadian Magazine is a credit to the Dominion and to the Ontario Publishing Company in Toronto which issues it."