

PRETTY PROTECTION!

(Duty on flour sent in by Yankee millers, 50c. per barrel; duty on corresponding amount of wheat imported by Canadian millers, 7 1/4c.)

SIR JOHN.—"My dear milling friend, don't judge by appearances. I do love you (and your vote;) and I do hate the unspeakable Yankee. But there are political exigencies, you know—and besides, you can't deny that I am 'protecting' you from the necessity of working your mills, don't you see!"
