A PRINCE OF PEACE.

It was eminently fitting that Pope Leo XIII.'s message of peace and good-will to Manitoba Catholics should be made public, as as possible .- Exchange. it was, on Christmas, for it breathes the very spirit of charity and torbearance. Its lack of aggressiveness, coupled with its firmness in its opposition to mixed schools, is remarkable. It deprecates religious and political strife in regard to the settlement of the school question, and it counsels peace and moderation, trusting to time to lighten or remove the burdens which the Catholics of Manitoba are now called upon to bear, owing to unwise legislation and decisions. In this the Holy Father is a very Prince of Peace, realizing fully that the hour is not far distant when all difficulties of contending parties and sects will be settled satisfactorily by amicable arbitration, without bitterness and without unmanly and unbrotherly strife. He is great as a statesman because he sees clearly through the sophistry of men with the light which Christianity, the only true rule for gov ernment, gives to its anointed sons, who can look into the future far as human eves can see. The Pope believes that there must come something more satisfactory than the Laurier-Greenway compromise, and he awaits its coming with that spirit of peace and patience which he desires to impart to his religious children, and gristmill, and were operated and and more especially to those who managed by the two brothers. Lalor would mar everything by the saving appliances being then commanifesting of bitter feeling and angrily aggressive unrest.-SA-CRED HEART REVIEW.

The English Church before the "Reformation,"

Catholic Times.

The excellent little tract just disease, Mr. Murray told the following published by Canon Moyes entitled story of his long misery and final cure "Twelve Facts proving that the by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills: English church before the Reformation was Roman Catholic," will, let sufferer from rheumatism. I attribute the us hope, be carefully studied by Anglicans. It is a pity the twelve facts as set forth cannot be affixed to the notice-board of every Protestant church in England. For even according to the "Church Times" these prove "that the Mediæval English Church professed the most unbounded Popery; that the Sta-tute of Provisors forbidding the direct appointment of English Bishops by the Pope was so utterly disregarded by the English Crown and the English Church that the number of appointments made by direct Papal provision was ally wet clothes, and this would last vastly greater after the passing of till the ice had melted in the pond. the statute than before it; and that After a few years rheumatism fastened a careful selection of them without itself upon me as a reward for this inany admixture of fiction might discretion, and ever increasing in its present the English Church in the full dress of Ultramontanism." These and other qualified admissions are reluctantly made, and times I was able to hobble about the surely this is much to admit; for to prove that the English Church at other times it would ease off a little "professed Popery" before the "Reformation" is to disprove the Continuity theory. The Church of England as by law established has always hated "Popery." The Church that did and does and will to the end of the world "profess Popery" is clearly quite a different institution to the Parliamentary establishment of the sixteenth century.

Dr. Barrett, who has held the position of house surgeon in St. Boniface hospital for the past year, left on the 30th ult. for Yukon, where he will journey with a party of gold seekers from Oak Lake. That evening the medical staff of the hospital assembled in Dr. Good's office, and the worthy dean presented Dr. Barrett with a beautiful opal scarf pin. Drs. Good, Jones McArthur and Todd made short speeches, expressing the pleasure which it gave them to present him with a slight token of their esteem, and also complimenting him on the most excellent manner in which he had performed his duties in the hospital.-FREE PRESS.

When an innocent man is condemned for any crime he doesn't lose hope. His lawyers appeal from one court to another. They are bound to save him, if he can be saved. It is the same way with a good doctor when his patient seems condemned to death by disease.

But doctors make mistakes sometimes; they lose heart too soon. After they have tried everything they know and the patient is no better, they think there is nothing more to be done. They don't always get at the root of the dis-ease. They frequently give a patient up to die of consumption, and are afterwards surprised to see him get strong and well again.

All lung and bronchial diseases are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden try and sailing dates, bronchial dis-eases are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, because it supplies the system with healthy blood. It puts the vital forces into action and fills the circulation with the life-giving red cor-puscles which builds up solid, muscular flesh and healthy nerve-force. Mrs. W. B. Duncan, of Arlington, Phelps Co., Mo., writes: "My husband took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Dis-covery when he was (as he thought) almost into consumption, and we were very thank-ful that such a medicine could be found. I wish all persons troubled with cough would take it. Long may the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription' be made. I shall always recommend and praise these medicines." "I will now endeavor to give you a full description of my husband's illness as near as I can," writes Mrs. M. J. Tedder, of Ellington, Reynolds Co., Mo. "Eight years ago last March is the date when he com-menced to take Dr. Pierce's medicine. He was formerly a robust and hearty looking young man. He was 31 years old when married, and that winter every time he took a little cold he would cough very hard. He had pains all through his chest and lungs. When summer came he was feeling well and looking well. He said he had always coughed in the winter since a child. He was not alarmed at the symptoms as I was. though unheeded at the time, have crippled its victim with rheumatism. In a late conversation regarding his "For over twenty years I have been a cause of disease to the time when as a young man I worked at our mills. In the coupled in the winter since a child. He was not alarmed at the symptoms as I was. I knew that his mother and the rest of the family had that dreadful cough and the most of them died with that dreadful dis-ease, consumption. He continuted to cough every winter, but kept at work and paid very little attention to his disease until in See he does attack of neuromonia. Brom winter we would haul logs on the pond where the alternate thaws and frosts of early spring would imbed them in the ice and slush. When the time came for every winter, but kept at work and paid very little attention to his disease until in 1883 he had an attack of pneumonia. From that time he was never as well as he was before. His cough grew worse and worse, although he kept around all the time. Sometimes he would vomit immediately after his meals. Helwent on in that way for sometime. In the winter of 1888 he coughed all winter and in the spring com-menced his work as usual, coughing night and day the most of the time. Then I re-quested him to try something new, or to go to the doctor. He said 'well, if I go to the doctor I will go to bed, and go there to stay. I will never get well if I depend upon the doctor's medicine.' By this time he was getting very weak, and had no appetite, so he went to the drug store and the druggist said to him 'well I think it the best for you to go to the doctor.' My husband said 'No I will not, for if I do I will die sure, as I have known people with this disease who went to the doctors and next they went to the grave. You know as well as I that the doctors all call this disease hereditary con-sumption.' 'Well, said the druggist, I will give you Dr. Pierce's medicine, and you can try it as I believe it is the best medicine I have in my store. You can give it a trial.' So my husband commerced Dr. Pierce's starting up the mill I would go out on the pond sometimes in water up to t e knees and work away from morning till night chopping logs out of the slush and ice. I was generally wet from head to foot, and every second night of the week I would, without changing my clothes, stay up and run the mill till daybreak. So you see I was for two days at a time in a suit of partican try it as I believe it is the best medicine I have in my store. You can give it a trial.' So my husband commenced Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and also the 'Pellets' and by the time one bottle was gone he was improving. He had a better appetite and was feeling much better. He took seven bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and as many of the 'Pellets.' At the end of that time he looked like a new man, and said he felt like a new per-son. He has weighed more, since using your medicine than he ever weighed before. At the end of that said he felt like a new per-son. He has weighed more, since using your medicine than he ever weighed before. He gained about twenty - eight ponnds. When he was at his worst he looked like a skeleton, but after he began to look so well and hearty the people would say, 'Well, George, we all thought in the spring that you would be in your grave by this time.' This was in the fall after he took your med-icine. Our home doctor had remarked that he could not live very long, and when he he could not live very long, and when he saw the change he said, 'Well, I am surprised to see so great a change in that length of time.' At this time the fame of 'Golden Medical Discovery' spread rapidly through all that neighborhood." TROY LAUNDRY. 465 Alanxeder Ave. West. REMARKS :--Goods called for and deliv-ered.
