

Cadets who do not specialize in engineering, on being advanced to Midshipman, will continue to receive training with corresponding Officers of the Royal Navy until they have passed their examinations for promotion to the rank of Lieutenant.

After passing for the rank of Lieutenant, they may be required to serve either as General Service Officers, or to specialize in Gunnery, Torpedo, Navigation or other special branch. As far as possible Officers selected for special service will be allowed to choose the Branch in which they will specialize, subject to the proviso that all branches are satisfactorily filled.

7. After passing the necessary examinations on completing 12 months' instruction, Naval Cadets attain Midshipman's rank in their Branch of the Service, and, from this point, come under the ordinary regulations for Officers of the R.C.N.

They continue to serve with the Royal Navy for several years in battle-ships, battle cruisers, or cruisers, usually in the Mediterranean or Atlantic Fleet.

Subsequently, after taking up appointments in Canada in Sub-Lieutenant's or Lieutenant's rank, they perform approximately a third of their service with the Royal Navy, and two-thirds of their service in His Majesty's Canadian ships.

The regulations for promotion of Officers of the Royal Canadian Navy are the same as those for promotion of Officers of the Royal Navy.

8. Cadets, whilst serving in the Training Ship, will receive the leave granted to Cadets, R.N., at the end of each term—usually four weeks approximately at Christmas, Easter, and in the summer.

The travelling expenses of Cadets proceeding on leave are chargeable to their parents. Advance of the expenses will be made by the Accountant Officer of the Training Ship, will be charged to the Cadet, and will be payable out of the private allowance made to the Cadet by his parents.

After leaving the Training Ship they receive the leave authorized for other Officers of the R.C.N. whilst on Foreign Service, viz., 30 days a year.

Visit to Canada for leave.—Free transportation to Canada to visit their homes for leave is granted after two years or more service with the Royal Navy. The granting of leave depends, of course, upon the service, etc., on which their ships are employed, but it is probable that Naval Cadets will be able to visit their homes in Canada about 2½ years after entering the Navy.

9. Particulars of the expenses for preliminary training at the Royal Military College, Kingston, may be obtained from the Commandant of that Institution.

The expenses probably devolving upon the parents of Naval Cadets are as follows:—

(i) Travelling expenses in connection with examination for entry in the R.C.N.—The most economical arrangements possible will be made, and it is not anticipated that such expenses will be great.

(ii) Transportation when proceeding on leave—not covered by the allowances referred to in paragraphs 4 and 8 above.

(iii) Uniform.—Must be supplied by the parent at his own expense.

A list of the outfit required will be forwarded to the parent of each Cadet whose entry is approved.