

Clarification

Uruguay Round participants agreed early today that the proposed multilateral trade organization will be called the World Trade Organization (WTO).

This should be taken into account while reading these documents. All references to the Multilateral Trade Organization (MTO) should now read World Trade Organization.