

“When one’s pluck has been proved—as has mine—

By giving his foemen their gruel,
He can quite well afford to decline
To be made to take part in a duel.

But when it’s his duty to fight,

With odds he is ready to cope—a Question of Right against Might !”

Says John Bull to his dear Dame Europa.