

this one. We may find that life is a constant progression in the next life, as it is in this one, for those who understand and obey Nature's laws, and a constant retrogression for those who fail to understand and obey them. We shall likely find over there that we shall reap as we have sowed and that we are punished by our sins not for them. Those who have been able to come to us with a message from the other side of life tell us that this spirit world, like this material world, is governed by laws. "We feel that there is a God who over-ruleth all things; but knowledge we do not possess," said Dr. Hodgson, after he passed to the world of spirits. Worlds, yea millions of worlds, teeming with life, move along their orbits in obedience to laws so perfect that not a leaf is moved nor a ripple formed upon the ocean of ether. To try to understand these laws will keep us busy in this world, and likely in the next. Let us leave to theologians and fools the discussion about the gods!
