URGE THAT MARRIED WOMEN SHOULD HAVE RIGHT TO VOTE

Hon. Mr. Hanna Was Glad to Meet Army of Men and Women Who Sought Municipal Franchise For Married Women Property Holders, But He Would Make No Promises and Deputation Was Disappointed.

Toronto's women vote-seekers once again failed to get satisfaction from the Ontario Government. Yesterday a delegation representing the citizens' committee of the Social Council of Women appealed to Hon. W. J. Hanna for legislation allowing married women property-owners the right to cast the ballot in municipal elections. And this, in the words of Mr. Hanna, was the encouragement they received. "I don't know that I can say much now. I am glad to see you. I am always glad to see you. You have put your case admirably—brevity was not the least feature of its merits. Thank you; good morning." And the body of women, members of the board of control, including Mayor Hocken, and Aid. Ryding, who had pleaded for forty minutes in the interest of married women property holders, trailed out of the room not the least encouraged, but with gloom, disappointment and everything of the like showing in their faces.

Those who addressed the provincial secretary were: Mrs. E. Boehm, Mayor Hocken, Controller McCarthy and Mrs. A. M. Huestis; and those who listened, save Mr. Hanna, applauded their remarks.

Endorsed by Council.

Mayor Hocken, in introducing the women's case, said: "The board of control has expressed its opinion that the request should be granted. Women who were intelligent enough as protectors of the home were intelligent enough to vote. Guarding of homes was the most responsible position in existence; then why should women property-holders have votes?" he asked.

Mrs. Huestis argued, if a widow was allowed to vote, why should not a married woman with proper property qualifications? A daughter who owns property could vote, and so could a spinster. She explained that the deputation represented some 45 societies, with a membership of 7000.

"Why should marriage automatically disqualify a woman from the privilege of the municipal ballot?" asked Mrs. Leatha. "Why should not every mother have the same privileges as the owners of property as younger women who share estates? Why is it that the keeper of a disorderly house has the privilege of the franchise, while a decent, honest married woman is automatically cut off? It is in the best interests of purity and home!" She hoped the government's inconsistency would be wiped out when the Municipal Act was enforced.

A Power For Good.

Controller McCarthy said that women were the most powerful influence for good. Women did a great deal in all charitable institutions and for all causes for good. He said: "My study of the assessment rolls shows me that eight or ten million dollars' worth of property is owned by women in Toronto. It is not good city government to ignore ten million dollars of its property. At least five million is owned by married women with no representation. I and my daughter may own property jointly and have two votes, but my responsible position in existence; then why should women property-holders have votes?" he asked.

COMMISSION OF FIVE FAVORED

Board of Control Also Decides Police Meetings Should Be Open to the Public. THEY WON'T BE CENSORS

City May Have to Expropriate Hundred Acres For 'the Old Folks' Home.

The board of control yesterday decided in favor of increasing the membership of the police board from three to five, but it still stands by its former decision not to meddle with the play company.

The meeting was to have been private, but Controller Church demanded that the press be admitted to the hearing.

"This is a matter for the public to hear about," he declared. "Well, the newspaper are here and you can tell them your arguments if you wish," added the mayor.

Mayor Hocken's vote on the proposed enlargement was the only one in the negative, the four controllers voting for it. It was subsequently decided to ask for a three year term, the judge of the juvenile court and a council member nominated by the council.

A vote advising that publicity be given to the case of the police board was passed unanimously.

Members of the board of control also decided to ask the Controller of the vigilance committee. He wants to wipe out the pictures and statutory for the Normal School. I am as strong for morality as any man who is as strong for it. I think the enlarged police board will be representative of the public and should make good appointments."

"Poppycock" is the cognomen given to the vigilance committee by Controller McCarthy relative to the statutory, etc., in the Normal School.

Property Commissioner Chisholm has decided to take legal proceedings against all offenders of the bylaw governing the smoke nuisance. The manager of the Arena Gardens has been called into court on this account. He will appear on Friday.

James Pearson of the Constructing and Paving Company has commenced a campaign against the proposed expenditure of $147,420 for a new plant for Commissioner Harris. He says that contractors have large sums invested on plants in the city, and the new proposal will seriously affect their business.

McCarthy Will Run

Controller J. O. McCarthy made the announcement that he had decided definitely to be a candidate for election to the board of control on Jan. 1. Mr. McCarthy said that he had a meeting of the residents of the Beaches district will be held before the coming election, to discuss municipal affairs. The exact date of this meeting will be announced later.

AMEND CLAUSES OF HOME RULE BILL

Judicial Committee of Privy Council Will Act on the Advice of Imperial Parliament.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—(C.A.P.)—Consideration of clause 28 of the home rule bill was resumed tonight in the house of commons when Sir H. Curle moved an amendment enabling the lord lieutenant of Ireland to refer to the judicial committee of the privy council any question of unlawful exercise of the executive, but this was defeated by a majority of 132.

A government amendment was inserted to allow reference to the judicial committee to decide whether any service was an Irish service within the meaning of the act, or on any question of interpretation of law on which a decision was desired by executive board. The attorney general moved another amendment providing that the judicial committee should only be made on the advice of the imperial government. This was agreed to and the cause as amended was carried by a majority of 120. Clause 30, which provides for cases of appeal where validity of the Irish law is questioned, was agreed to by 310 to 131.

On clause 31 an amendment was moved by Sanderson, member for Appleby. Premier Asquith consented to make a provision that the lord lieutenant should in the discharge of his office conform to the accustomed practice of the governors of the overseas dominions.

Two other opposition amendments dealt with the lord lieutenant's expenses. Viscount Helmsley moved to omit them from the bill, while A. M. Roberts wanted to insure that no part of his salary or expenses should continue to be chargeable upon British taxpayers. The proposals were defeated by 165 and 125 respectively.

By the operation of the clause further discussion on clause 31, and any discussion at all on clause 32, was prevented.

CHARGED WITH THEFT.

James Ashby is Said to Have Broken Into Barber Shop.

Constable McLarty (257) arrested James Ashby, 325 West King street, last night. Ashby is accused of breaking into the Grand Union Hotel barber shop kept by John Huston, and stealing various articles, including razors and brushes, three months ago.

NAVAL GIFT A MYTH.

RATEPAYERS' MEETING.

Aldermanic Candidates Heard Last Night in Essex School.

The Northern Ratepayers' Association held a very successful meeting in Essex street school last night, President Thos. Jones presiding.

Aldermen Dunn and May briefly outlined the civic improvements for which the citizens were asked to vote $12,000,000.

John Wesley Meredith, who was an aldermanic candidate in Ward 5 last year, drew the attention of the meeting to the fact that the many items advocated by him last year, all but one had been acted upon by the present council. He made special mention of the civic abattoir.

R. W. Dockray would not declare himself a candidate for alderman, but he remarked that one of the evening papers had him slated for it.

HELD ANNUAL MEETING.

Optimistical Association Want to be Recognized as Profession.

The Optimistical Association of Ontario held a largely attended monthly meeting in Broadway Hall, Spadina avenue, last night.

Addresses were given by Dr. W. E. Hamill, a veteran teacher of optics, and Dr. E. Culverhouse, one of the oldest opticians in Canada.

The members of the association are working diligently and harmoniously to secure recognition as a profession from the Ontario Government.

ARTHUR W. MILES WAS EXONERATED

Arthur W. Miles, undertaker, was exonerated yesterday by Judge Morgan on the charge of having offered indignities to the remains of George Brown, by neglecting to conduct the funeral properly. Said Judge Morgan: "So far as the evidence has developed, I find that nothing can be laid against Arthur W. Miles, in the way of an indecent or wilful, or careless, neglectful, conducting of that lady's funeral. The trouble that happened to the shell was a mischance that might happen to any one. As to the people coming and gaining into the coffin, I lay that down to the impertinent curiosity of those who had no more business there than given in a lecture in this kind, and everyone interested is cordially invited."

bers of the proverb and a proverb book. Among these new contestants one cannot help but notice the interest which the contest is still creating.

Only yesterday a young woman who was securing all of the back proverbs thus far printed, was heard to say: "My friends have been talking so much about the fun they are having in your entertaining contest, and I am going to enter and have some of the amusement myself. Nearly everyone I meet says the man who is going to start now just to see how many of the proverb pictures I can answer correctly."

Others who are just entering the contest say it is the most interesting and fascinating game they have ever had the opportunity to take part in, and everyone praises the feature for the valuable mental exercise it provides. Some people may think that it is too late now to begin, but it is not. The only requirements now are all of the back proverbs and a proverb book. With these anyone may forge ahead in the ranks of those who started earlier in the game, and place themselves at the head of the list of prize winners.

Why not start now and get your share of the fun of solving those famous and well-known English proverbs that have been coined by the wisest and most learned men and women of the age? It is an excellent chance to test your skill, and develop your memory, and if you are persistent you may win an automobile, or player piano, or one of the many other valuable and attractive prizes aggregating more than $3000 in value.

All of the back proverbs, from the beginning of the contest to date, may be had at the office of The World, or they will be sent by return mail to any address in Canada upon receipt of 10c stamps, express or postoffice money order.

DRIVER EXONERATED.

Constable Young Not at Fault in Refusing to Move a 'Drunk.'

Ambulance Driver W. Young was asked to explain to the inspectors of No. 1 station yesterday why he refused to move James Thompson from the corner of Wilton avenue and Church street on Tuesday night. The driver stated that the man was seriously injured, but was very drunk. He might have kicked the sides out of the ambulance if taken in it. Young also advised the inspectors that the alleged scene around his ambulance never took place. He was exonerated from blame.

STOLE EXPLOSIVES.

Peter Pouliott was arrested in Toronto last night by Detective Murray at the instance of Chief Nealon, of Waukesha. The charge against Pouliott is that he stole dynamite, explosives, tools and other things from a mining camp of which he was in charge.

NO FOUNDATION FOR CHARGE THAT UNDERTAKER OFFERED INDIGNITIES TO REMAINS OF GEORGE BROWN.

Arthur W. Miles, undertaker, was exonerated yesterday by Judge Morgan on the charge of having offered indignities to the remains of George Brown, by neglecting to conduct the funeral properly. BRICKLAYERS WANT INTERESTS PROTECTED

Will Combat Figures of Cement Trust Regarding Work on the Welland Canal.

BERLIN, Dec. 4.—(Special.)—An interesting session of the Provincial Conference of the Bricklayers' Union was held this morning, when the delegates discussed the question respecting the use of stone or cement in the construction of the proposed Welland Canal. Delegate Thomas Izzard, Toronto, fourth vice-president of the International Bricklayers' Union, was asked to outline the stand that has been taken by the larger organization and the delegates were assured of the co-operation of the I. B. U. in the fight, financially or otherwise. Competent engineers are being employed to inspect the work to secure figures to combat the figures of the cement interest, and also to secure photographs of the work on the canal.

A resolution was passed instructing the secretary to communicate with W. F. Maclean, M.P. for South York, to look after their interest in the house. The building trades had a great deal at stake, and they desired to be fully catered for.

BEST CLASS OF IMMIGRANTS NOW BEING SENT TO CANADA

Officials of Salvation Army, Dominion and Ontario Governments Take Exception to Statements Made by Henri Bourassa to Students.

Great indignation has been aroused among the officers of the Salvation Army over the attack made on the chief of British immigration being sent to Canada by Henri Bourassa, the French-Canadian Nationalist. The strongest kind of feeling has also been created among the government and other immigration officials by his attack in a speech before the Toronto students. His charge against the Church Army has brought out some strong remarks from Captain Blake, the Canadian head of that institution.

That which has caused the greatest indignation is the statement made by him that "The Nationalists have pointed out for many years now the danger of the propaganda that the Church Army, the Salvation Army and other institutions follow among the 'drunken'—those snatched from justice, degenerates and hoodlums, and other 'desirable' citizens of the United Kingdom—for the purpose of expediting the passage to Canada. He has denounced the blind apathy or the stupid fanaticism of our Canadian politicians, who do not hesitate to allow, or even to encourage, the immigration of our country for the purpose of 'strengthening British institutions' and the predominance of the Anglo-Saxon race."

Stand Any Test.

Commissioner Lamb of London, Eng., who has charge of the Salvation Army immigration to Canada from the Irish Isles and who is in Canada on a visit, said to the World last night that the immigration sent to Canada by the Salvation Army would stand any test to which Henri Bourassa would put it. It was hand-picked by experienced officers. During the past six years the Salvation Army had sent over sixty per cent. of the immigrants that came to Canada and they had not had one per cent. of failures. Sixty per cent. of the men sent to Canada had settled on the land and 80 per cent. of the women had been placed as domestics.

Some from Ireland.

As far as the character of those sent over was concerned, nothing could be said on this score. Those whose character was not what it should be were sent to the home organization and their various institutions and were not permitted to migrate. Of those who did come to Canada 40 per cent. were members of the Church of England and 20 per cent. Methodists. A small number of those sent from Scotland 80 per cent. were Presbyterians. Up to the present time the Salvation Army had not done much in the way of migration from Canada and before the close of the present year, Commissioner Lamb was to officiate at the opening of an office in Belfast, Ireland, which was being established for this purpose.

Thirty Sent Back.

Capt. Blake of Toronto, who since 1906 has handled all of those sent to Canada by the Church Army, hardly believe that Bourassa would make such statements against those sent here by that society. For the past three years only about 30 of those sent back, and then it was because they met with some injury from accident or were overtaken by sickness while here. Nothing could be said against the character of these immigrants. All those sent to Canada must show at least five years' good character before migrating, and are, without exception, placed on the land.

When they arrive at Quebec they are met by Capt. Blake, who personally sees they are placed in the hands of officials who have not had previous experience and are given letters of introduction both to farmers with whom they are placed, and the rector of the parish in which the will reside.

Prebendary Wilson Carille, the founder of the Church Army, is to make a long tour of the Dominion of Canada next June, when he will make a personal investigation of the advantages of British immigration to Canada.

Practical Training.

The Church Army has a number of colonization farms throughout England, and on these those who are sending to Canada who have not had previous agricultural experience, are giving a practical training in farming before sailing for Canada.

"If a thousand such men as are being sent out to Canada by the Church Army were to be brought to this country every day, we would have no difficulty in placing them in positions."

This was the statement made by Immigration Officer Robert Birmingham of the Ontario Immigration Office, at the Toronto Union Station.

Highest Praise.

The immigration officer had nothing but the highest praise for the immigrants being sent by the Church Army. He said that Bourassa's statement that the present type of British immigrant was undesirable was concerned, he considered it to be absolutely devoid of truth. Never in the history of the Dominion had the quality of the British immigrant coming to Canada ranked so high.

It was stated by Bourassa that a restraint should be placed on British immigration and steps taken to further encourage immigration from France. Statistics showed that the birth rate of France had fallen off to an alarming extent and the France had no population to spare for immigration. If she had, her own colonies and not those of Britain would receive first consideration.

Great Improvement.

A even stronger stand on the quality of the British immigrant was taken by Sup't. Stewart, who has charge of the immigration in Ontario. During the past five years the improvement in the quality of the British immigrant has been marvellous. The number of those coming to Canada, and the old-time assisted immigration had practically been stopped.

Commissioner Howell, who has charge of immigration for the Canadian Northern Railway Co., and who was formerly immigration commissioner for the Salvation Army, stated to the World that the class of British immigration Canada is receiving now is superior to ever before. "The reason of this is because we are now receiving our immigration from the middle class of Great Britain," he said. "Up to five years ago, before the restrictions were put on—and they are being made stronger every year—the immigration for the most part was from the lower classes. Now, however, under the new regulations, the middle class only are able to qualify. If the lower class and assisted immigration was of the same proportion as it was five or more years ago it would not be so difficult to get the immigrants. Instead of this being the case the Canadian Northern send out lecturers and send out the middle class to migrate to Canada."

VARSIITY DEBATERS WON FROM OTTAWA

Toronto Men Had Wide Margin of Points in Woman's Suffrage Debate Last Night.

The debate last night in Convocation Hall between Toronto and Ottawa Universities, on the subject of Woman's Suffrage, was decided in favor of the Varsity team by a wide margin of points. Justice Sutherland, who with W. D. McPherson, M.L.A., and G. E. Atkinson, was chosen as Judges, in rendering the decision said Toronto had won in both matter and style. He declared that the average debating ability displayed had been much above the ordinary, and complimented the Ottawa men on the creditable showing made by those which held the negative end of the argument, was represented by Hugh N. McCormick and Clayton B. Hamill, while Ottawa University, which failed in its endeavor to establish the contention in favor of women voters, sent two of its picked debaters in the persons of John Q. Coulter and George McHugh. In the absence of Sir Edmund Walker, who was invited to preside, President Falconer occupied the chair.

The ground of argument hinged largely upon the necessity of providing working women with a franchise in order that they might have a voice in industrial legislation. The statement was made by Mr. Coulter, leader of the affirmative, that there are now 1,000,000 women in Canada and that in the municipal elections, Hamill of Toronto in an attempt to prove that women do not use the franchise in order that they might have a voice in industrial legislation. SPLENDID PROGRAM AT MASSEY HALL

A large and appreciative audience attended the Chanukah Festival in Massey Hall last night, in aid of the Hebrew Free School. The program was a highly enjoyable one, under the baton of B. Wadovsky. The first part, a setting of the 24th Psalm, was a beautiful composition by Mr. Wladowsky himself, in which a passage for boys' voices and a tenor solo, were especially notable. The traditions of the ancient cadences and harmonies were charmingly treated. In the second part, Zusman Kaplan of the Hanburg Conservatory gave two violin solos, in both of which he was encouraged. Freddie Cohen played Liszt's sixth Rhapsodie. Mr. Wladowsky and his four children also took part. The third section of the program introduced Mr. Wladowsky in an operatic solo, and his son Nathan in Schubert's "Der Leiermann." Three other choral numbers from the choir and orchestra of 16 pieces, concluded the performance. Dr. Shayne, who was chairman, towards the close, stated the object of the free school as being to train their little ones in proper Judaism, into the ancient religion, language and customs and to make them good citizens. It had grown so that a larger school was necessary, and he hoped the time was not far off when the Jewish community would erect a large hygienic building.
