JAPAN HESITATES

TO INVADE SIBERIA

Still Studying Question After Frank Exchange of Views With Allies.

CHAOS MORE SINISTER

Hundred and Forty Thousand German Prisoners Fighting With Bolsheviks.

Tokio, March 24.—The interest in America and in Europe in the possibility of Japanese military intervention in the war is duplicated in Japan where the question of the despatch of an army to Siberia not only overshadows everything else, but has created a national problem, and has approached in importance since the Russo-Japanese war. The correspondent, in this connection, is reliably informed that Japan, after the frankest exchange of views with the allies, is still studying the question, and has not decided upon its policy.

Representative opinion among the Japanese regards the situation as serious and as fraught with possibilities of danger to the safety and national interests of Japan, as well as to the cause of the allies. The chaos in Siberia, with battles between opposing factions on the border of Manchuria, is regarded as rendered more sinister by the presence of 140,000 German and Austrian prisoners, who are virtually at liberty, and by recent accounts that German officers have been seen in the ranks fighting with the Bolsheviks.

The fact that several Japanese were among the killed and wounded in recent Siberian engagements has encouraged the press more vigorously to urge governmental action. Although the Siberian situation is serious, it is not deemed at present to be critical, but the indications are that Japan will remain in a state of alertness and preparedness to meet eventualities. Should intervention be decided upon, it is understood that the necessity of joint military action, and that the Japanese army alone would be entrusted with the campaign. The question of how the Russian people would view the entrance of Japanese forces into Siberia forms an important aspect of the present situation.

CONFIDENCE UNSHAKEN

IN BRITISH PROWESS

Washington, March 24.—While the most intense interest prevails here in the gigantic struggle on the western front, confidence remains unshaken that the German thrust will be eventually repulsed. On all sides admiration is expressed at the skill with which the British met the greatest shock of the war at an army. Even should the British be forced further to re-group their lines, the impetus of the German blow must diminish from now on, military experts believe, and counter strokes on a major scale are then expected.

The famous first lieutenant has cabled Gen. Pershing, the American commander, for the exact situation on the British battlefield.

HOBILTZELL IS CAPTAIN.

Boston, March 24.—Richard Hobiltzell, famous first baseman, has been appointed captain of the Boston American League baseball team, according to word received today from the Red Sox training camp at Hot Springs, Ark.

WAR VETERANS HOLD

BIG MASS MEETING

TO PROTEST ALIENS

Prominent Speakers Address

Crowded House at Massey

Hall on Saturday.

FOREIGNERS MUST PAY

Opinion Strong That Alien

Must Contribute Something to Help War.

Hearts were torn and emotions aroused when, in the midst of enthusiasm and a determination that their demands would be met, 3000 war-scarred veterans, stood and reverently sang "Abide with Me" after Mayor Church had made the announcement that the German troops had seriously penetrated the Belgian frontier. It was reported Paris was being bombed.

And just as fervently and prayerfully they sang "God Save Our King," putting a solemn meaning into the words that came so earnestly from the heart. It was a memorable moment, and a scene only befitting men who have fought and done their part for King and Country.

The meeting was one held in Massey Hall by the Great War Veterans. The great assembly had gathered to pass a resolution which was presented to Sir Robert Borden and members of his cabinet on Thursday night. The resolution was that the use of alien labor in Canada and the sentiment was freely given expression that something must be done to take away "the fat of the land" from alien enemy, neutral and otherwise, and give it to those to whom it rightly belongs, namely the men who have fought and done their part to keep the Hun away.

Mayor Church presided and welcomed the returned men. He hoped the meeting would be a profitable one, and that it would deal with the subject under discussion; namely, regulation of alien enemies in Canada.

The Union government had pledged itself that something would be done, but it had now issued a memorandum saying that nothing could be done because of international law, and that it would deal with the subject under discussion; namely, regulation of alien enemies in Canada.

THE TORONTO WORLD

UNABLE TO WORK

FOR FIVE MONTHS

Had About Given Up Hope

of Getting Well—Health

Restored.

"I was told that nothing could be done for me, and, of course, I had very little encouragement to think I would ever get well," said W. M. Hanson in a conversation with the Toronto man at Tamblin's drug store, Toronto, recently. Mr. Hanson resides at 6 Cavell street.

"I have gained eight pounds by taking Tamblin's," continued Mr. Hanson, "and my wonderful improvement has surprised lots of people who knew of my dreadful condition. I had suffered from stomach trouble for seven or eight years and all my efforts to find relief were vain. My appetite was very poor and nothing I would eat seemed to agree with me. In a short while after taking Tamblin's I found my stomach and bowels all up. Then my heart would palpitate and I could hardly get my breath. A little over a year ago I got such a bad fit that I couldn't strike a lick of work for five months, and was told my condition was very serious and that nothing could be done for me. I forsook it and went from one hundred and forty pounds to one hundred and twenty-five, and had taken so much medicine that did me no good that I began to think myself that nothing could help me."

"One day I read how Tamblin's had helped someone else who seemed to be affected like me, and right then I made up my mind to see what the medicine would do for me. Well, I didn't get better by leaps and bounds, but I have gradually improved. Now I feel like a new man. I never miss a day from my work now, and I'm still taking Tamblin's, eating heartily and improving every day. My appetite is fine again. I can eat the biggest kind of meals without suffering from palpitation of the heart and indigestion like I did. A few bottles of Tamblin's has done me more good than anything else I have ever taken combined, and I don't hesitate to recommend it for what it has done for me."

The man to keep by Tamblin's Drug Store and by one regular established agency in every town. Mr. Hanson is personally supervising the sale of Tamblin's at Tamblin's Drug Store, 232 Yonge street. He is meeting scores of enthusiastic purchasers daily, and if you will call at the store he will be glad to explain just how this new medicine that is doing so much good through your friends and neighbors gives such good results, and those that use it—(Advertisement).

They could easily poison the meat going across to the men at the front. In a munition factory in Toronto, Austrians were being employed making big wages, "and rotten munitions," called a voice.

Three cheers for the King, the singing of which will be glad to explain just how this new medicine that is doing so much good through your friends and neighbors gives such good results, and those that use it—(Advertisement).

BORROWS CLOTHES

AND MAKES ESCAPE

Woman Held by Police Taken to Hospital and She Steals Out.

Stealing the outer clothes of a nurse in St. Michael's Hospital, Henrietta Wahner, 36½ A. Ashdale avenue, made her escape from that institution early Saturday morning between four and five o'clock, between the rounds of the night nurse.

According to the police the woman was arrested on Thursday by Detective George Crowe of Pape avenue station on a charge of fraud. It is alleged that she passed worthless cheques to the value of $30 on the T. Eaton Company. After being taken into custody the woman appeared to be sick and was sent to the hospital where she remained until she made her escape in the early hours Saturday morning. She was arrested again Sunday night by the detective at the corner of Kingsley street and Cooper avenue.

Just how the woman located the nurse's hat, coat and boots, and made her escape from the hospital without being seen is a mystery. She was seen in the woman's court this morning to answer to the charge of fraud.

He Was Captain of Harbord Collegiate Football Team Two Years Ago.
