In fact, Mr. Score personally buys these goods direct from the fac-tory, and this accounts chiefly for such excellence in pattern and quality. This is a splendid opportunity for visitors, and they should make it a point to wisit this well-known establishment, the greatest tailoring store in Canada.

MICHIE & CO.

The meeting of the Board of Contart to deal with the estimates for charities yesterday was protracted and at some points amusing, owing to the corners which members occasionally turned during the discussion.

Throughout the proceedings the Mayor maintained strong ground against the burden of supporting the various charitable institutions being thrown upon the city. He contended that with a few notable exceptions, the charitable institutions receiving grants had been originally started and maintained by private subscription, and had gradually obtained larger grants from the city until, in many cases, the city corporation contributed nearly the entire revenue by which they are maintained. This was unjust to the general taxpayer, and those who took an interest in the work should keep it up by voluntary subscription.

The net result of a four hours' session of the board was a reduction of about $300 in the estimates. Comparative inactivity succeeded the bustle of the holiday along 'the waterfront yesterday, and but little was doing. The regular boats made their trips as usual, and brought a good many passengers home.

Never before has the store of P. Boore & Son, high-class cash tailors, 77 King-street west, Toronto, been so arrowded with visitors to the races. Everyone seems delighed with the large and decidedly falling into the hands of a few medi-cal men, who might manipulate them to their own advantage.

Clever Buying Exemplified

Clever buying has much to do with the trade supremacy of this store. But we use the word clever in the broadest sense. It comes of the widest experience, and an outlet for such quantities of goods that we can trade with manufacturers as other houses cannot do. You see this exemplified daily in every section of this beautiful store, and this makes the store news something to be read with care daily.

Values in Household Linens.

Something prosaic about linens and cottons, and yet what adds more to the attractiveness of housekeeping than clean and pure linens. We are particular that the best manufacturers contribute to our linen stocks. You are interested in the present exhibit of Dwight Anchor Cottons and Fruit of the Loom—an unusual purchase.
These goods have usually been sold at 15c a yard. They are the favorite brand of American white cottons, 36 in. wide; but we are making a specialty of them this week at 10c. Other staple values:

No Fancy Prices for Drugs.

This rule regulates every department of the store. You see it very manifest in the drug section, where patent medicines are sold at about one-half what is usually paid and prescriptions are prepared by an experienced druggist at a saving easily of from 40 to 60 per cent. Here are some prices, to illustrate how we sell drugs in your interest:

Some Increased Grants.

The House of Providence will receive $3000 for all purposes, an increase of $750 over last year.

Ald Lamb ridiculed the proposal to give the Newsboys' Home a grant of $66, based upon a rate of 2 cents per determined by the steamer Modjeska to the city wharf on Monday. The cost will be charged to the company.

Ald. Hallam reports that vandals are still cutting the newly planted trees and shrubs in the parks and streets. Only three applications have been received for specifications for laying the six foot steel extension in the lake.

St. Nicholas' Home was increased to $500 as a set-off.

Loss for the incurables.

The estimates recommended that the Home for incurables should on the per capita basis receive $3952.80. This was, after a long discussion, fixed at $3000.

The Britannia Naval Brigade's application for a grant will not be entertained until the lifeboat is manned.

The Monteflore Society, which had been left off the list, was given $300.
