AMERICANS GIVEN THE FAIR

ing American bands it would greatly stimulate excursions from American cities.

Numbers of the 13th New York regiment and the 65th Buffalos, attired in the blue and grey uniform and the brown sombrero hat of Uncle Sam's army, mingled in the animated crowds. Quite a number of them were Canadians, and they met with the heartiest of receptions from the boys in red in the Fort. Here the Santiago and Philippine campaigns were all fought over again, with many additions of personal prowess. Some of Uncle Sam's boys had samples of their Krag-Jorgenson cartridge along, and compared it with the Lee-Enfield projectile. The latter was unhesitatingly declared the winner. The 65th Regiment only got as far as Virginia, and they particularly enjoyed the gunnery of Col. Drury's men. The Maxim gun was styled by the Yanks as "a stunner." When the "stunner" began to pour out her lead one boy in blue, who had his girl along, exclaimed enthusiastically, "If the Spaniards were out there what a hell they would get."

Despite their patriotism and the fine playing of the 65th Buffalo Band, Americans swarmed about the Grenadier band stand and enthusiastically applauded its rendering of "Dixie," "Star-Spangled Banner," etc.

The Banquet.

It was an "Anglo-Saxon" luncheon that the directors of the Exhibition gave yesterday. The menu, the speakers and the remarks all breathed the same air, and the flags were crossed and twined a'l over the room.

A bright menu was provided. It ran thus:

The Toasts.

"The Queen" was loyally given, followed by "The President of the United States," responded to by Col. Sewell.

Every battleship, he said, had its noble Canadian boys upon it in the recent war, fighting for the Stars and Stripes—the union is no myth, what is an insult to one nation is to another. And we are one on one question, we are friends."

Mr. Small of Collingwood also responded in a loyal speech.

Gen. Jackson of Nashville, Tenn., spoke next. "America is the worthy daughter of a most noble mother," said he, eliciting applause. He referred in complimentary terms to the Government of Great Britain. No words could express his gratifications at the Fair. He expected to find some quilts and preserves and stock.

Mr. J W. Bengough recited some verses in keeping with the occasion.

"The Dominion Parliament and Ontario Legislature" elicited, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." Sir Mackenzie Bowell replied to the first part of the toast, The gentleman to his right (Gen. Jackson) would go home with a vastly different idea of Canada, its resources and its people than that with which he came to the country [Hear, hear.] He was certain that it would be a long time before any occasion should arise by which men of the same blood and of the same race would ever meet in armed conflict. [Hear, hear.] We pray God it will be far distant.

Provincial Premier.

Hon. A. S. Hardy tendered congratulations on the great Fair. He thought previously it could not be improved, but had seen otherwise. Distinctively Canadian and almost strictly Ontarioan—the products of the vast regions of the province. The Exhibition and Canada were coming to the front together. The recent commission showed, in the number of British members of it, that Canada was now making her own treaties. We are proud of Anglo-Saxon valor and spirit, whether in battle or peace, the same spirit that animated British forefathers.

He hoped that Americans would enjoy themselves on this the Americans' Day, and that the feeling would grow and expand and bear fruit between the two nations.

Sir Frank Smith preferred to make a few brief remarks. The maintenance of friendly relations between Canada and the United States.

"British Methodism," responded to by the Rev. Mr. Bond. "English people and the English church share the sentiments here expressed as to Anglo-Saxon unity," he said. "To maintain right and truth the federation tended. There was never in the history of England any animosity towards the people of the United States. War between the two peoples was an absolute impossibility—the feeling of the community would not allow it. [Hear, hear.]

Dr. Coke-Smith, "from the Sunny South," had nothing but good to say of the friendly feeling of the two nations. The battle between the North and the South had bred nothing but respect, and the last vestige of feeling had been swept away in the recent war. If England had not been, the United States could not be."

Felt Like a Mummy.

Dr. Raymond felt like the Egyptian mummy he had seen at the college—pressed for time—at such a late stage. All the forces were working in the same direction—the federation of the Anglo-Saxon nations. The Exhibition meant that trained brains were being put into agriculture. Formerly the sickle, the cradle and the rake were employed, now the farmer rode his plow, and, in fact, rode his grain all the way to the baker's oven.

Rev. Hugh Johnston advised the directors of the French Fair in 1900 to consult the Fair directors here assembled. The two flags were the same color, and the national hymns were sung to the same tune.

Mr. Torrance of Montreal expressed thanks at the honor conferred on him, but declined to make a speech.

"Our old friend, the Rev. Dr. Potts," had been impressed in Ireland and the United States by the love for Canada more than he had ever been before, and the friendship of the United States and Great Britain.

"Canada for Canada, and Canada with Great Britain forever" was much applauded. Hon. Clarke Wallace, in view of the many distinguished utterances preceding, merely voiced the sentiments of unity, amity and federation. The present feeling had received its first stimulus when Britain said the war against the United States should be confined within certain bounds. Might the spirit prosper.

Mr. Gibson, M. P., recalled a meeting at Cleveland, when the 600 present sang "God Save the Queen" lustily.

His Worship the Mayor invited gallant General Jackson and all American gentlemen present to appear two months hence at the opening of the new city buildings. He made some clever humorous hits. The feeling of Torontonians towards Americans was cordial. They were formerly cousins—they were now nearer. [Applause.]

Fireworks To-Night.

Owing to the tremendous success of the bombardment of Santiago and the subsequent fireworks, and to the fact that thousands of people had to be refused admission last night, it has been decided to repeat the entire entertainment to-night, with the additional spectacle of a ship on fire in the lake. This will positively be the last opportunity afforded to see undoubtedly the most brilliant spectacle ever produced in America. All the specialty artists will perform.

Horses Get All Their Prizes.

The judges finished their work in the horse ring, the last to be brought out being the four-in-hands and hunters and jumpers. These classes were all good ones and the prizes fairly well divided. The results:

—Class 17, Best Tandems.—

T A Crow, Toronto, 1; Grand's Repository, 2; R Beith, Bowmanville, 3.

Two Running Races.

There were two running races in front of the stand yesterday, one in two three-quarter mile heats and the other a mile and a quarter. In both these events the time was fairly fast. Besides the races McAvery of Barrie paced his 7-year-old Jack against the track record, but the wind was too high to permit of his breaking it.

Breeders' Stakes, purse $150—

Also ran: In Command, The Fop, Royal Oak.

The Siege of Santiago.

The Siege of Santiago drew another large crowd to the Grand Stand last night. The miniature battleship, the terrific bombardment and the beautiful fireworks have caught the popular fancy. No better outdoor show could be devised than that which Manager Hill placed before his patrons this year. The specialty performance which precedes the siege is of a very high order, even for Canada's Great Fair. Every number was well received last night, but, of course, the mass of enthusiasm was saved up for the American naval victory. A great deal of speculation is indulged in by the audience as to how the men-of-war are manipulated. Their funnels smoke, their guns belch fire and thunder, and they manoeuvre like the real article. All the effects of this novel maritime production have been invented for the occasion by Hand & Teale. The destruction of the Merrimac, the sinking and burning of the Spanish fleet, and the annihilation of the forts at the entrance to the harbor have all been worked out in a very striking manner and with great fidelity to truth. The last performance, which will be given to-night, will, no doubt, be witnessed by undiminished crowds on the stand.

Poultry of Ontario.

The Ontario Poultry Association held a meeting in the Directors Building yesterday afternoon, with President A. W. Bell in the chair.

Deputy Minister James, who was present, was appealed to for an extra Government grant of $300, to enable the association to properly entertain the members of the American Poultry Association when they meet here in January. A part of the projected program is a trip to the Government College at Guelph.

Mr. James said in reply that nothing at the Fair had so surprised him as the progress of the poultry exhibit, and he promised to lay the matter before the Minister of Agriculture. He put in a word, advising that the exhibits be made as practical as possible. Practical instruction in the handling of eggs he urged as all-important, and scarcely less so the exhibition of incubators.

In the way of officers President A. W. Bell is re-elected, and the following will compose the Board: Messrs. True of Lindsay, Bonnick of Tornto, McNeil of Londen, Senior, Hamilton; Bell, Angus; Webber, Guelph; Scott, St. Thomas; Bogue, London.

The Greatest Implement Exhibit on the Grounds.

It is most annoying after you have reached home from your visit to the Fair to be told of one of the most interesting things on the grounds that you have missed. The visitor who fails to see the splendid exhibit of the Massey-Harris Co., Limited, the great manufacturing concern, in the Implement Pavilion, will have something to regret. It is an excellent exhibit, occupying more than half the space on the south side of the main aisle, and displaying every implement of the company's manufacture, all artistically arranged with unique and tasteful decorations. Not only is it pleasing to the agriculturist as a perfect display of the many and varied styles of tools which his occupation calls into use, but it is of great interest to Canadians generally as an exhibit of the products of Canada's largest manufacturing industry.

The high-class implements made by the Massey-Harris Company have familiarized the name of Canada in many foreign lands, and to-day they are recognized as the standard of excellence in all quarters of the universe.

The fact that over one thousand car loads of machines have been sent out of the country by this one concern during the past season will convey some idea of the immense export trade they have established.

The exhibit of this company at the Fair comprises mowers, seeders, reapers, drills, cultivators, ensilage and straw cutters, and last, but not least, the world-renowned Massey-Harris wide-open binder, which has won the highest awards in various parts of the globe.

Doherty Organ Co.

This company will have to manufacture about 500 organs a month to keep up with the rapidly increasing demand for their goods, but it will not be difficult to turn out the additional organs, as the Doherty factory is the best on the continent.

Doherty Manufacturing Co.

The famous Decarbon steel stoves, ranges, base-burners, etc., manufactured only by the Doherty Manufacturing Company of Sarnia, are well represented by a fine exhibit in the Stove Building. A feature of the exhibit is a line of the firm's famous World's Fair Ranges, made in three styles. The design is modern and handsome, and the construction is unexcelled. The wearing qualities of these ranges are well known and need no extended comment. C. P. Godden, 154 King-street east, and 290 College-street, is the Toronto agent.

Hagenbeck's Great Show.

The World man visited the "Noah's Ark" at the Exhibition, and was struck with the contrast between this and other shows. There is nothing vulgar here, the ladies do not even appear in tights, as usual, and everything is put on just as it is advertised.

Mme. Louise Hagenbeck is, without a doubt, the most daring, fearless and graceful lion tamer that has ever appeared in Toronto. She enters a cage of forest-bred lions, taking her life in her hands, and performs an act that has never before been performed without fatal results.

Kekenzo is a man who is completely without fear, and his act needs to be seen before the danger of it can be properly understood.

The monkeys and baby lions, born on the grounds, catch the eye of the children, while Big Frank, the funny bear, is the clown of the show, and his kouchie-kouchie is superb.

Oak Hall.

"It is the little things that count," and unswerving attention to the little as well as the big things in their business has in no small measure contributed to Oak Hall's success. Too many manufacturers are apt to lose sight of minor details in the desire to produce a general satisfactory exterior aspect. This is not the case, however, with Oak Hall products, and the result is that every article turned out from their workshops is complete in every particular, including fit and wearing qualities. At the present Industrial Fair the company have a fine display of their work, on the ground floor of the Main Building. A feature of the display is a Klondike outfit, identical with those which the company have sold by the thousands. Their big trade in these outfits has given them the experience which leads to the making of an outfit guaranteed to stand the wear and tear of life in the gold regions. Every article in the outfit is a necessity, and, being such, is made only with that fact in view.

North American Fence Co.

Messrs. Cook & Hood are much elated over the favorable reception by the public of their patent indestructible iron fences. Although this is the first time they have been exhibited at the Industrial Exhibition, they stand at the head of all the fences offered in the estimation of the public to-day. Thousands of farmers, mechanics and business men from all over the Dominion have examined these excellent inventions. One and all without exception acknowledge them to be superior to all fences ever before offered to the public. Especially are the iron posts and the coiled springs, which keep the wire taut at all times, counteracting all the effects of heat and cold. Many enquiries for territory are coming from all over the country, and many were the predictions made by those most enthusiastic in its favor that the farmers would have no other when once they become acquainted with it.

Canadian Pacific Railway.

Thousands of Americans were yesterday convinced that the country that stretches itself along their northern frontier is not the land of snow and ice that they have so long imagined. Their visit to the C. P. R. exhibit had a dual effect. It showed that Canada was one of the most fertile lands in the world, and also that Canadian enterprise is equal, if not greater, than that of American, for was it not solely Canadian enterprise that constructed the C. P. R. through that wilderness which is now the most fertile garden of the world? The Canadian Pacific Railway has done more to advance Canadian interests than any other corporation in Canada, and the policy of this company is strictly Canadian.

Clegg's Meals Unequalled.

The general opinion of visitors to the Fair this year is that Clegg's meals are better than ever, and the thousands of people that are served at this restaurant every day are evidence of its popularity.

The Blue Ribbon Tea Company.

The Blue Ribbon Tea Company are the only Toronto tea merchants represented at the Fair, and as they are in undisputed possession here, so they hold the premier position in Ontario and Canada generally. The reputation their teas have gained is a decidedly enviable one, and the claim "The best in the world" is founded on popular judgment and on the excellence of the blends for which the company have become so justly famous. The Blue Ribbon Tea, noted alike for richness, strength and delicacy of flavor, should be given a trial by all those people who have not yet tasted it, and the result will be, "Once taken, always taken."

Weary visitors appreciate in no small degree the enterprise of this company. From their very attractive stand in the Main Building they dispense hundreds of cups of their delicious tea.

Comfort Soap.

Comfort Soap is the best on earth.

The pictures which Pugsley, Dingman & Co., the makers of this splendid soap, present to users of their soap for old wrappers are works of art, and have made many a home happy.

"Cleanliness is next to Godliness." If the world were to use Comfort Soap it would be indeed godly, as Comfort Soap is the greatest cleanser on earth, and is the popular household soap.

A feature of their exhibit is the guessing contest, which has already been explained, and which is taxing the mathematical powers of thousands. Mayor Shaw has consented to weigh the big bar on the closing day of the Exhibition.

Another feature of interest is their stationary, which is carved from a great block of Comfort Soap by one of their workmen. Uncle Sam and John Bull are represented in close conversation, and are both of the same opinion, and that is that Comfort Soap is all right.

Don Valley Pressed Brick.

This world is constantly on the advance, every year is ahead of the year previous. This year the Taylor Bros. exhibit bricks made by the same process that made them in the Coliseum at Rome. Then the thought arises is there anything new under the sun? Yes, indeed, there is; you should see the beautiful display made in the Main Building by Taylor Bros. Bricks of every description, of every color, pressed, buff, and enamelled; artistic designs in flower, urns, jardiniers, A mantel that would grace a palatial hall-way is the main feature and is to be seen at the rear of the exhibit. It is beautifully designed. Beautiful terra cotta cornices and ornamental places are also attractions. Builders, contractors and property-owners should see this exhibit while attending the Fair.

Hattie Belle Mining Company.

The Hattie Bell Mining Company are arranging with the Grand Trunk Railway to have an excursion run to their mines, near Parry Sound, so that prospective investors may see the property before investing. This excursion will be run next week and will be advertised in good time. No one should miss this chance of seeing before investing. This is a chance of one's life time.

On examination of the display of the Hattie Bell Gold, Copper and Nickel Company of Parry Sound, Limited, to be seen in the Natural History Building, one is convinced that the resources of the Parry Sound District have never been correctly estimated, and that the prospects of the acquisition of untold wealth in this district are beyond the limits of the most fertile imagination.

This company have a number of most promising claims, but, like many other companies, have been forced to put treasury stock on the market, in order to obtain money for development, which should find a ready market, on account of the near proximity of the claims to Toronto and the excellent shipping facilities.

As the ore has so far assayed $4 to $51 per ton, and the veins appear to be inexhaustible, there is no apparent reason why this company should not be paying large dividends within a year. For information re shares, Mr. James B. Mitchell is upon the grounds, or may be addressed to Exhibition Grounds, and to Parry Sound, Ont., after close of the Exhibition

Waterous Company.

Every step the Waterous Company of Brantford make is one in advance, and each machine, be it traction or portable engine, road roller, saw mill equipment, fire appliance or grain grinder, possesses features of especial merit. This is emphatically true of the Waterous new traction, which was being propelled by its own motor around the grounds yesterday with perfect ease and great rapidity in a sea of mud. The traction and steering wheels, engine, gearing and boiler all go to make up a machine that is guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case. The firm began the manufacture of this new traction in 1897, and already the demand has more than doubled their most sanguine hopes. It is made in sizes of 10, 14 and 16 horse-power, and the one on view is worthy the attention of all who are likely to need anything in this line. The grain chopper at work in Implement Hall, reducing to powder wheat, corn, oats, etc., at the rate of 40 to 50 bushels per hour, is a Waterous grain chopper or grinder. It is fitted with French Buhr stones and every part is solidly and simply constructed. It can be driven by any threshing engine of 12 or 14 h.p., but if a Waterous "Champion" is used the results will be increasingly satisfactory. The intelligent farmer now needs no argument to prove the folly and waste of feeding whole grain to stock, and certainly there is no machine on the market more effective than the Waterous.

Christie, Brown & Co.

Centrally located in the Main Building is the exhibit of Christie, Brown & Co., the well-known biscuit manufacturers. Their display consists of a very lacy hexagonal tower, decorated in pale blue and gold, and shelving nearly one thousand glass boxes, containing biscuits of all sorts and sizes, shapes and flavors, showing a variety seldom equalled at any exhibition. Every form of biscuit is to be seen here, from the hardtack used by the hardy seamen to the dainty wafers made for 5 o'clock teas. The tastes of the children are also catered to, and nursery biscuits, which illustrate all the old nursery stories, are made for the little ones. Altogether Christie, Brown & Co. have a splendid exhibit of their goods, and it is well worth noticing in passing by the many attractions in the Main Building.

Dominion Organ and Piano Co.

The sounds that are wafted from the cool and bright pavilion of the Dominion Organ and Piano Company are clear, sweet and harmonious.

Apart from the uproar heard all day long in the Music Pavilion, a visitor is able to form a correct impression of the quality of these splendid instruments.

Every country in the world knows of these far-famed instruments, for the exports of this company are by far the greatest in Canada, and no wonder, for the quality of these instruments and the reputation they have gained have created a demand for them in every market.

Men Who Like Flowers.

The Canadian Horticultural Association, composed of the leading florists of the country, met at Chambers' Building, in the Fair grounds, yesterday afternoon to elect officers. The several ballots resulted as follows: President, William Gammage, London; first vice-president, C. Scrim, Ottawa; second vice, J. McKenna, Montreal; secretary, R. Ewing, London; treasurer, J. H. Dunlop, Toronto. The next place of meeting will be Ottawa.

The Toronto delegates present laughingly took the ground that the Queen City should do something to rid itself of the name of Hogtown, and only one of the officers is a Toronto man.

The business over, Dr. Fletcher delivered an interesting address on "Plant Disease," and President Gammage read a good paper on "How May Chrysanthemums be Made to Pay."

True to Its Name.

The Bon Marche, the famous dry goods store on King-street, is always true to its name, meaning "A Cheap Market." Visitors will have a chance for the next two days to find out how cheap high-class goods are sold at this store, Friday and Saturday being special Bargain Days. See their advertisement in another column, calling strangers' attention to their great sale for the next two days of Silks, Velvets, Ladies' Jackets and Capes, Black and Colored Dress Goods, and in fact any other class of goods in the Dry Goods line. "The Bon Marche" deals in Dry Goods only, and does business on the system of "small profits" and "quick returns."

Valuable Car Coupler.

Mr. Peter Hoff and Mr. Elijah Francis of the village of Thornhill have recently obtained Canadian letters patent for a very simple and effective Car Coupler. This coupler is automatic in its action, and cars can be readily coupled or uncoupled on a curve of any degree of curvature.

This coupler when adapted for street car work only requires part of the device which is adapted for railway trains.

Any persons desirous of making further inquiries as to this valuable car coupler can have information by calling at the office of Messrs. Ridout & Maybee, Patent Solicitors, Toronto, or from the patentees at Thornhill, who have in that place a working model ready for inspection.

Little Tot Drank Stain.

London, Sept. 8.—The 18-months-old daughter of James Westell, 507 York-street, drank the contents of a bottle of stain yesterday and is now lingering between life and death. The physicians are unable to say what the consequences will be.

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

Last night Mr F. C. Harding, 66 Bloor-street west, found a spring overcoat and a lady's cloak on Dufferin-street. They were handed over to the police.

The police are looking for a young girl named Edith King, who is accused of stealing some clothes from Mrs. Kinsella of Church-street.

Hotelkeepers, if you want to buy cigars and save $5 per thousand, see Alive Bollard's prices.

To recommend anything nowadays in the form of an "institution" for the cure of stammering would be a hazardous venture, to such an extent has this particular profession been prostituted. In contradistinction to this rule, that well-known institution, Church's Auto-Voce Institute, is a notable and creditable exception—a statement confirmed by the good results it has scored during the past eight years and the high esteem in which it is held by the best of our citizens. It is the only recognized institute for speech defects in Canada.

Jeas "fragrant", "delicious", "perfect" and "best" are now plentiful as gold mines — but people only smile and say "Give us Blue Ribbon".

A refreshing beverage.

Water doesn't seem to quench the thirst these hot summer days. What is more, it is hard to get good drinking water. A most refreshing and invigorating beverage for the warm days is a teaspoonful of in a tumbler of water. It braces you up, and fits you to stand the oppressive heat—makes you feel like work even on the hottest days. It is health-giving, too—regulates the system and tones the appetite.

Sold by druggists everywhere at 60 cents a large bottle. Trial size, 25 cts.

The Canada Lancet says: "This preparation deserves every good word which is being said of it."

DANDRUFF SHAMPOO SOAP

HAS NO EQUAL

As a Shampoo Soap It Has No Rival.

As a Bath Soap It Talks the Loudest.

As a Skin Soap all others are a PRETENCE WHEN CLASSED WITH IT. Test it on the hands and face and it will induce you to carry it to the bath room. It is the most effective skin beautifier in the world, as it is the only neutral soap. Use any other soap that is made and then use Baker's Dandruff Shampoo Soap directly afterwards and you will test its qualities. It will leave the skin smooth, hard and cool when all others leave is soft and flabby, with a heated sensation. To test its neutrality, use it in either hard or soft water, and you will find it works the same in either.

A proof of its cooling qualities is its formula, which we give. It is made from Florida Oil, witch hazel, olive oil and cocoanut oil, these being the coolest and softest oils made, leaving it the only reliable soap for constant shampooing.

IT WILL POSITIVELY REMOVE DANDRUFF

It will remove that greasy, oily substance from the hair, leaving it soft and fluffy, and keep the hardest bristly hair nice and soft. For insect bites, inflammation, chafings, sores, chapped hands, scaly skin, eczema, pimples, black heads, etc., it must be used in preference to all others, as it is free from all those ardent properties, and does not irritate the already inflamed condition.

Save your hair, and remember that dandruff is not disease, but the BEGINNING OF BALDNESS IS DANDRUFF.

Every man who has become bald will tell you that he has perspired very freely on the top of the head, thus overloading the perspiratory organs and giving them no relief from this disturbed condition. Now, reverse the order by unloading them, and keep the scalp clean, and you will promote the growth and richness of your hair by the use of

BAKER'S DANDRUFF SHAMPOO SOAP

WHICH IS FREE FROM ACIDS, AMMONIA OR ALKALI

TEST IT—Wash the hair with any other brand of soap that is made, let your hair become dry, then comb with fine comb and you will comb out soap. Do the same with Baker's Dandruff Shampoo Soap and you will comb out nothing. This is a fair way to test the quality of a soap, and this being its principle, it must remove perspiratory matter from any part of the body in the same way.

WOMEN AS WELL AS MEN must learn to wash their hair two or three times a week, as the scalp and hair become quite as dirty as the face and hands in the same time. Let your head go three days and then wash it with Dandruff Shampoo Soap, and the water will be very black with dirt. Why then listen to some unscientific man say: "Do not wash the hair"? Why not say the same about the body that is not so much exposed to the dirt? Those who do not shampoo their hair cannot get into company without others knowing it, although they may think differently. Now, then, can any person feel good who does not shampoo his or her hair two or three times a week? This must appeal to your own logic.

REMEMBER THIS—Constant Shampooing would save headaches, and less headaches would save hair. Always bear in mind that with the use of Baker's Dandruff Shampoo Soap, let it be one or ten times a day, you can positively get no injurious effects, and the soap that proves itself the best shampoo for cleaning and promoting the growth of the hair is always the best toilet soap, and you need no other if you can afford to use BAKER'S DANDRUFF SHAMPOO SOAP, which, to manufacture, is the most expensive soap on the market.

THE KENNEDY WARDROBE SYSTEM.

This picture represents what many traveled people have called "the smartest clothing store in America."

It is equipped with a recently patented wardrobe system, which trebles the stock capacity and doubles the earning power of the salesmen, thus reducing the expenses of rent, light, heat and salaries to about half what the same amount of business would cost under ordinary methods. Each wardrobe is a moveable carriage on ball-bearing casters, and runs into a dust-proof and moisture-proof housing. At the top of each runs a rod five feet long, from which are suspended, on wire frames, sixteen to twenty coats, the trousers corresponding being laid over a drum, and the waistcoats on a shelf, being thus carried without a wrinkle, and away from the depreciating influences of dust, light, heat and moisture. As each wardrobe contains samples of but one size, and a single suit or overcoat in that size of each cloth, a representation of the whole stock in that size is shown to the customer at a glance, the reserve stock being carried in boxes (which do not allow the suit to be crushed) on the balcony above the wardrobes.

The inventor and owner of the patents is Mr. John E. Kennedy, promoter of the Fit-Reform Clothing Co., late promoter of "The Slater Shoe," and now Managing Director of The Kennedy Company, Limited, whose Montreal store is above represented, a similarly equipped store having recently been opened up at 22 King-street west, here.
