The Newmarket Dairy Association, which has had the reputation of making a first-class article of cheese for export during the past seven years, known as the Maple Leaf, put in a butter plant last fall. Although the quantity of milk was not as large as we would wish, yet it was far better than we expected. For three months we received 173,834 lbs. of milk, making 7408 lbs. of butter, an average of 1 lb. of butter to 23.4 lbs milk; average test of nilk 3.64. Mr. C. E. Lundy, our salesman, made arrangements with T. H. Smith & Co. of Toronto to handle our butter, it commanding the top market price. Mr. H. Armitage of Unionville, a graduate of O. A. C. Dairy School, is in charge of the butter plant. We consider he is an up-to-date butter-maker, as the work he has done has been very satisfactory. Anyone securing his services can rely on his ability as a first-class butter-maker. We have secured W. H. Cook of Belleville for cheese maker

TWENTY-EIGHT MEN IN THE PIT

by the Scorching Fire Damp-Only Nine Alive.

Connellsville, Pa., March 25.-A special train, composed of a box car and a fast engine, brought into Connellsville to-day the most frightful host of groaning, blackened and unrecognizable men ever hauled into this town. They were the victims of a terrific mine explosion at the Gates Mine of the Eureka Fuel Company, in the new Klondike coal field in this (Fayette) county. The mine has been worked only a few months. It is too early to hazard a guess at the cause which led to the accumulation of enough gas to make such a fatal explosion. This morning 28 men reported for duty and went into the pit. Of this number 16 were caught in the awful grip of the scorching breath of the fire damp, and singed and blackened. As soon after the explosion as possible a force of men was put to the rescue. A great crowd of grief-stricken wives and relatives surrounded the shaft. One by one the burned bedies were brought up. Nine still lived, and these were brought to Connellsville and put in the Cottage State Hospital. new Klondike coal field in this (Fayette) and put in the Cottage State Hospital.

The wounded were terrible looking objects. Some had lost their eyes and others their ears and fingers. It is almost certain that three or four of the wounded will die. All the injured are foreigners,

SIR MICHAEL PARRIED.

In the Criminal Sessions yesterday afternoon Judge McDougall withdrew from the jury the case of James Sherlock, plumbing contractor, who was indicted on a charge of demanding $3000 from Plumber Wright with threats. Mr. Wright testified that the accused came to him and said that he was being pushed by other parties to tell what he knew about the plumbing work in the City Hail, but if he would pay him the money he would destroy his specifications and all would be well. He also told him it was a scheme between Architect Lennox and Wright to defraud the city. Mr. Wright said after making the first demand on him he cut British Chancellor Would Not Commit the Government on the Tariff Question.

It Aids Digestion Increases Weight

OOD is of no real value until it has been digested and absorbed. It does not matter how nutritious the food may be in itself, it is valueless unless it is assimilated. Nearly all forms of wasting diseases are associated with an impaired and unhealthy condition of the organs of digestion and assimilation. This may not be apparent in any distressing symptoms of indigestion, but nevertheless the process of digestion and assimilation is not perfect or complete. Therefore in treating wasting diseases the first efforts should be to perfect the functions of digestion and assimilation—thus improving nutrition by enabling the body to derive the full benefit from ordinary daily food.

Angier's Emulsion

(Petroleum with Hypophosphites)

is unequalled for accomplishing this result, and the rapid improvement effected in cases that fail to respond to other treatments is often wonderful. Puny, delicate children that do not thrive, and poorly nourished persons of all ages, rapidly improve under its use. It is equally beneficial in the treatment of all throat and lung diseases, chronic bowel disorders, after fevers, la grippe, and in almost all cases where the digestive organs are impaired and the food is not properly assimilated.

Strength Giver and Appetizer

Strength Giver and Appetizer

It affords me great pleasure to write this letter to thank you for the benefit I have received from Angier's Petroleum Emulsion and Tablets. I have always refused to experiment with any of the much advertised medicines, but after reading your advertisement I was convinced that your Emulsion was different from the others, and a treatment of your Emulsion and Tablets for flatulency and nervousness has proven it to be a marvelous remedy. Before taking your Emulsion I was unable to enjoy or relish anything I ate, and often, though weak and exhausted, I was unable to eat a morsel of food. The sight of food itself often disgusted me. After taking your Emulsion for the past two weeks I am able to eat and enjoy three hearty meals a day, and the nervousness has entirely left me. Now using your Tablets as a supplement to the Emulsion. I consider them without an equal for throat tritations and coughs. M. E. Nessurr. Toronto, Ont.

Cured a Supposed Hopeless Case I was taken ill in November, 1896, with an ulcerated stomach and was under four eminent doctors up to May, 1897. During March and April I had four relapses in five weeks and was given up, and told that I could not live more than six weeks. I almost bled to death each time I had a relapse, and what blood I had left seemed turried to water. I had always fancied Angier's Emulsion would do megood, and when the doctors could do no more for me I got a bottle and felt the benefit of it the first few days, and all the food I was taking agreed with me. I continued to take it to September, 1897, and have not felt any pain since or been troubled with my stomach in any way James Bamber, 48 Bute St., Liverpool, Eng.

Has Confidence ia Angier's I cheerfully endorse Angier's Petroleum Emulsion with the Salts of Lime and Soda. This is a grand and good product. In the treatment of marasmus, and all diseases of mal-nutrition, I have found it efficacious to an unusual degree and have confidence in it whenever I prescribe it that it will meet all conditions of the case within bounds of reason. I am using it now in my professional practice and daily notice the best results. W. A. HUBBARD, M.D., Boston, Mass.

A Marked Improvement Have taken Angier's Emulsion for nearly six months and have noted marked improvement in weight, appetite and general health. Chas. Arms, West Hartford, Ct. A Wonderful Cure

I was in a run-down state, did not have any appetite, had indigestion so badly that the simplest food distressed me greatly. I also had heart trouble which affected me in such a way that I was unable to walk but a very short distance without stopping every few minutes in order to breathe, could not go up and down stairs without great difficulty in that respect. I coughed every morning very severely, after which my lungs were very sore, also had very severe pains on the right and left side which would continue at intervals during the day. When I did not cough, had a wheezing in my throat. I took one bottle of Angler's Emulsion, did not seem to improve much, if any, but thought I would try another. After taking one-half of the second bottle I seemed to feel worse than ever. Had almost given up in despair and was advised to try a specialist, but thought I would first finish the bottle. After doing so I commenced to feel better. My cough was improved, I could walk without resting, my appetite was better, etc. Now, after taking seven bottles, I am cured. Can eat anything that I like, as indigestion does not trouble me in the least. Eva A. Taylon, Dorchester, Mass. I was in a run-down state, did not have any appetite, had

A Leading Massachusetts Physician Writes:-I was called in to see a boy about five years old, suffering from severe catarrhal bronchitis, attended by mal-nutrition. Food and medicine was vomited up as soon as swallowed. I tried a teaspoonful of Angier's Petroleum Emulsion which was retained, and seemed at once to ease the stomach. The dose was repeated thereafter four times a day. The cough abated in twenty-four hours and within a few days ceased altogether. At the same time the patient became strong enough to receive nourishment, the first he had kept down without distress in a fortnight. There was no more vomiting, and although he has now been twelve weeks under my care the nausea, which used to follow even the most sparing diet, has never recurred. He has eaten heartily since the first ton days, and gained steadily in flesh and strength, until at the present moment there is not a more vigorous and healthy youngster in the neighborhood.

A Valuable Aid to.Digestion I have found Angier's Petroleum Emulsion a valuable aid to digestion, a check to fermentation, and to increase flesh and strength. M. O. Hunt, M.D., Manchester, N.H.
