

FIRST NIGHT AT THEATRES

"Jack o' Lantern" Welcomed to Princess—"The Ruined Lady" Scores at the Royal—"Earthbound" Still Attracts at Massey Hall—Good Vaudeville and Pictures at Other Houses.

"Jack o' Lantern"—Princess. "Jack o' Lantern," a musical extravaganza, with lots of pretty girls gorgeously gowned, clever dancers, beautiful scenic effects, catchy music and clever burlesques, opened at week's engagement at the Princess Theatre last night. The piece is headed by James Doyle and Harold Dixon, both well known to Toronto dancers and entertainers seen here in many a day.

There is no pretence of a plot in "Jack o' Lantern." It is just one carnival of song, dance, music and fun in rapid succession. One can easily account for the music, successful run in New York. The music is of the usual light, pleasing style that one instinctively keeps time to. Several decided hits are scored in the piece, particularly "Take a Hint With Me," "Girls I Have Met," and "Wait Till the Cows Come Home."

More than usual, however, is shown in the costumes worn, both by principals and chorus. Tom Brown's clown band was an amusing interlude, with the burlesque boxing bout, accompanied by the band and the full chorus, was one of the many features contributed to "Jack o' Lantern's" success.

"Bringing Up Father" at Grand. For some weeks past the Grand Opera House has favored Toronto with one type of musical and operetta studies delightfully pleasing, both to eye and ear. Last night another type of musical comedy was presented, a different type in every respect. It is perhaps a fitting commentary upon the versatility of Toronto audiences to point to the fact that both types have found favor with these audiences. Last night Jiggs as the errand father under the rough and ready rule of a hefty and by no means sympathetic spouse, elicited the audience into hysterics not with any sense of real humor, but thru a rant "sillyness" of all sorts. The comedies Toronto has been presented with these weeks past have been delicate and delightfully quaint in tone, that of last night was diametrically the opposite, differing from its predecessors only in type. All the world now knows that the only way to get a laugh is to give a self-seeking spouse and of his own indulgent wife, an ample reason for cooking this part with fine ability. Perhaps the two outstanding character studies were those of the "father" and "mother," Joe Curley, and Patrick Mulligan, respectively, portrayed by Sam Lewis. This musical farce has always been a favorite with audiences here, and last night proved no exception to the rule.

Merit at Shea's. That a poet is not the best reciter of his own verse, or the writer of a song the man to sing it, was fully exemplified at Shea's Theatre yesterday, when ten of America's foremost song writers and composers produced a novelty which they named "A Trip to Hilland."

The production is novel enough and the songs and music clever, without doubt, but the rendering would be decidedly better in the hands of one of the regular vaudeville artists. Harry Green, who styles himself the singing comedian, is the one good singer of the week's bill and is some merit indeed. His turn lasts over twenty minutes and he amply fulfills his mission in life to make the audience merry. The farce, "Go Into the Kitchen," with Walter Plinker in the lead, has one or two bright spots, but is hardly up to Shea's standard. Marion Weeks and Henri Barron are a pair of useful singers. Miss Weeks sings the Doll Song from "Tales of Hoffman," most artistically and reaches "G" above high "C" with perfect ease. Julien and Correll, as snappy satirists, produce the best opening turn seen for a long time in the city. The "Kaldia Ruby" is a novel production, an elaborately staged turn with much Scotch music. Walter Manthey & Co. produce a versatile series of musical creations, which are well staged and received a great deal of applause.

Double Bill at Strand. A double bill is presented at the Strand this week in "Secret Marriage" and "The Kaldia Ruby." Mary McLane is known for her exceptional beauty and for the success which attends her presentations, answers the question as to whether secret marriages are proper, and becomes involved in complications that are rather intricate. The week's bill and is well sustained, but the final scenes are a little weak. Herbert Rawlinson is no stranger to Toronto audiences, having appeared personally in the city. He plays the part of "Lightning," the international stealer in an interesting chase after a famous character, incidentally clearing the name of a girl who is entangled in the plot.

MEN YOU HEAR OF

Seen as Their Friends Know Them

Men you hear of, seen as their friends know them. This is the theme of the new production at the Pantages Theatre, "Men You Hear Of." The play is a comedy in three acts, written by George M. Cohan and directed by him. It is a story of a young man who is a well-known actor and who is being pursued by a woman who is a well-known actress. The play is a comedy and is a very good one. It is a story of a young man who is a well-known actor and who is being pursued by a woman who is a well-known actress. The play is a comedy and is a very good one. MR. H. P. MASON, of the Mason & Rich Piano Company, Yonge street. Mr. Mason, who has been with the firm thirty years, was born in Toronto and was educated in the Model School and Jarvis Collegiate. In his younger days he was a well-known lacrosse player, and in 1893 was a member of the Toronto team. He retains his interest in the game and is also fond of tennis, canoeing and golf.

"The Ruined Lady" Pleases. A well-pleased audience at the Royal Alexandra last night welcomed to Toronto Grace George in her clever comedy, "The Ruined Lady." The plot of the play hinges upon the rather hackneyed theme of the legged-in love after a long engagement. In the hope of bringing the amiable but belated swimmer to the point Ann Mortimer plans with a friend to have herself talked about in connection with "Bugs" Bruce, thru a combination of accidents the plan needs only too well. However, Bill, awakening from his dream, finds himself ready in love and ready to marry Ann, and curtain drops to the chime of wedding bells.

Miss George had a difficult role, but she is an actress to her finger tips and does it wonderfully well. It was a part that could have easily been overacted, but she played it thru with much much laughter and applause. So much cannot be said for John Milten, who plays the part of the not quite so amiable and amiable Bill. He is a comedian and a comedian of the first order. His performance is a masterpiece of comedy and is a masterpiece of comedy. He is a comedian and a comedian of the first order. His performance is a masterpiece of comedy and is a masterpiece of comedy.

Variety at Hipp. There is no end of variety on Shea's Hippodrome bill this week—there is, in fact, a turn for the mother and the children. The picture, "Half a Chance," starring Marion Hamilton and Lillian Rice, is a first worth the price paid for the whole show. J. D. Hampton, who is in the vaudeville bill, West and Van, is a comedian and a comedian of the first order. His performance is a masterpiece of comedy and is a masterpiece of comedy. He is a comedian and a comedian of the first order. His performance is a masterpiece of comedy and is a masterpiece of comedy.

"Madame Peacock" at Regent. By far the shortest and at the same time the most notable of the many photographs staged at the Regent in many weeks, "Madame Peacock," a comedy in two acts, proved unusually interesting to the audience. The play is a comedy and is a very good one. It is a story of a young man who is a well-known actor and who is being pursued by a woman who is a well-known actress. The play is a comedy and is a very good one.

NEED OF LEADERSHIP IN CHURCH BRANCHES. Rev. Peter Bryce, Rev. Denzil G. Ridout and Prof. Fred Langford, of the Methodist survey committee, have returned to the city after a week's work in London. They interviewed groups of ministers, laymen, women, young people and students. It was generally agreed that there was great need for leadership in the church branches of the city.

CANADA AHEAD IN FIGHTING DISEASE

Woman Appeals to Mothers to See That Children Get a Better Chance.

On behalf of the city council, Mrs. Neville Rolfe, O.B.E., was welcomed to Toronto last night at Foresters' Hall by Alderman L. A. Hamilton, who spoke for the mayor and members of the council. The speaker, Mrs. Rolfe, who is a well-known public health officer, spoke on the problems of social hygiene. In regard to legislation on the subject, the speaker said that Canada and the Australian Commonwealth were far in advance of the most advanced nations in the world. She said that what was being done here was helping millions on the other side of the water.

Referring to the attitude of the public as a whole, she said that she treated Mrs. Rolfe said that in the past decade the public had been cowardly. Now investigation has shown that it is the upper and middle class more than the workers that are afraid of suffering, but the women and children. She appealed to the mothers to see that their children of the future get a better chance. Since the war, the best brains of the country had experimented and worked, with the result that a treatment for the disease that is taking a year to cure, has been reduced to two months. The value of a healthy population was illustrated by the speaker, who placed a healthy individual in the line of the most advanced nations. If one of the most advanced nations were in a slum, she stated, it means $80,000 annually. To bring about needed reforms, things are needed, the speaker said. There are a number of things that are needed, she said, to bring about needed reforms. There are a number of things that are needed, she said, to bring about needed reforms.

ROSEDALE WANTS MORE POLICE PROTECTION

Mayor Church has received a request from residents of Rosedale that more police protection be afforded. Several buildings have been broken into in that district in a week.

The mayor said yesterday: "There are now only 674 men on the force and only about 30 of these are night patrol. The police commissioners at the beginning of the year had asked for an increase of the force up to 1,000 men, but were turned down."

DECLINE TO ACCEPT BLANKET COMPACT

Builders Exchange Anticipates Drop in Scale of the Men's Wages.

Refusal to consider the blanket agreement as drafted by the affiliated unions of the Toronto Building Trades Council was declared in a letter addressed to the council yesterday by the Builders' Exchange. The Employers' association states as the ground of its action its anticipation of a drop in the wage scales to be agreed upon for the coming year. The letter reads in part as follows:

"The general public is looking to the Toronto Builders' Exchange and construction industries to bring about, if possible, a reduction in the high building costs which prevail today, and in this connection we wish to point out the serious effect on the building industry brought about by the several interviews which have been given to the press intimating to the public at large the possibility of increases in labor rates, whereas, it is obvious to both parties to this question that such proposals are of a ridiculous nature bearing in mind the fact that all over the American continent the tendency has been towards dropping prices in the building trade since the war. We would point out the serious effect on the building trade which affects both employers and employees, and which is being brought about by the getting into the public press. There is an inconceivable amount of deferred building which has been held in abeyance for several years and is still being held up by just such proposals. The industry must be stabilized and it is certainly up to the unions and ourselves to co-operate to that end.
