High Scores on "Vic" Alleys.
During the luncheon hour on Friday, Percy Howard went into the Victoria bowling alley and, bowing against Harry Flood, made 149 for a single string. Howard's string is just seven pins below the alley record, held jointly by H. Garnett and H. McKean. Howard started with a ten, then made two eighteen spares, ten, nine, ten, two strikes, followed by a fifteen spare and ten box, as follows: 10, 28, 46, 58, 65, 76, 104, 124, 139, 149. Howard's record of the record of the Victoria alleys for a single string until defeated by Coughlin, who in turn lost to McKean.

This is the second score above 145 during the last week. Edward Money having made 147 on last Friday. The following high scores have been made on these alleys during the week: Morrissey, 147-124, 116 (successive); Howard, 149; McEwen, 121; O'Brien, 122; King, 121; Roberts, 124; Hopkins, 123; Clark, 130; Henderson, 128; Kerr, 124.

In a match game between picked teams from City Hall, Captain Price's team won by three pins, after a close and exciting match. The teams were as follows: Price (captain), Hatfield and Duffy; Earle (captain), Belding and Needham. The score ended 748 to 740.

players under reserve this is a pretty good showing. Paul Smith, Slattery and Damrau, are the top already signed.

RING
Last Evening's Bouts
In Lawrence last evening Lew Cardell won a decision over Young Chakas of Manchester, N.H., in a ten round bout. In Beverly Joe Connolly of Charlestown was awarded a decision over Young Lajoie. It ended in the second round when Lajoie fouled Connolly. It was to have been a ten round bout. In Augusta, Me., Bill McKinnon shaded Leo Anderson in two six-round bouts.
In Providence Tommy Robson of Malden stopped Al McCoy in the fifth round of what was scheduled to be a ten round bout.
In New York Willie Jackson of Harlem outpointed Tommy Tuohy. The bout was one of the best seen in New York for some time.
In Baltimore Kid Williams, former bantam champion, scored a technical knockout over Bennig Kauffman of Philadelphia. In the tenth round Kauffman's seconds stepped into the ring to save him unnecessary punishment.

HOCKEY.
Patrick Names Mar. 17.
Vancouver, Mar. 8.—Unless President Frank Patrick of the Pacific Coast Hockey Association hears a favorable reply from the east in connection with the dates for the world's championship series to be staged in Seattle by Friday, he will turn the matter over to William Foran of Ottawa, the official arbitrator between the Eastern and Coast organizations. Mr. Patrick made this announcement last night. He proposes the first game be played in Seattle on March 17, with the following matches staged on March 20, 23, 26, and 28.
Mr. Foran has already announced that he believes the challengers should have at least forty-eight hours to recuperate.

Stals Hockey Players' Money.
Seattle, Wash., Mar. 8.—A burglar opened a safe at the Arena, in which the hockey match between Vancouver and Seattle was played last night and removed the receipts, $1,200 in all, some time during the night and the hockey players who had struggled through an hour of fierce battling are minus their "get-away" money today.
Detectives declare it an "inside" job. They say the money was taken by someone who knew the combination. Entrance to the office was gained by boring a hole through the office door. The lock was then thrown aside and the door opened.

Willard Said To Weigh Nearly 300

Muscles Are Getting Soft and He Dislikes to Train - Will Take Some Time to Get Ready to Fight

New York, March 7.—Despite the stories that Willard has been training hard and could get ready to fight at short notice, it is known that he scales between 280 and 300 pounds. His muscles have softened and have completely disappeared under the thick layer of fat that covers his body. Always slothful and having a great dislike for the hard grind of training, he is less inclined than ever to begin hard work.

If Willard fights again it will take many weeks for him to round into as good shape as he was in when he met Frank Moran last year, and even then he was many pounds over weight. Unless he begins at once to prepare, it will not be possible for him to do the public justice in a battle during April.

From the fact that the members of the Jess Willard syndicate are so busy trying to form new connections it is apparent that the big champion intends to retire in the very near future. Willard was not as yet signed a contract to travel with a circus this year, and it is not certain whether he will.

At the close of last year's tour Willard was thoroughly disgusted with conditions and he told friends that he was through. Perhaps, after having a long rest he has changed his mind, but from the actions of the "syndicate" it would appear that he is about ready to cast the gloves aside for all time and retire to private life.

The assertion that only a giant could possibly have a chance with either Jess Willard or Fred Fulton is a marked reflection on the ability of the reverend John L. Sullivan, Jim Corbett and Bob Fitzsimmons, all of whom are supposed to be far superior to the present-day set of heavies. It is a physical impossibility for any man of normal proportions to annoy the two giants now on top, then the old-timers must now be regarded as second raters, for none of the three was a particularly big man.

If the proposition that Willard and Fulton are too big is upheld, the proposition in regard to the standing of Sullivan, Corbett and Fitz is well relinquished. As a matter of fact, the truth probably lies between the two ideas. Few of those who have seen Fitzsimmons in action would care to wager that Fulton could have stayed in the same ring with him for ten rounds.

That Fitzsimmons, even though he weighed under the middleweight limit when at his best, would not have had a good chance to defeat Willard is disproved by the freckled warrior's two battles with Jim Jeffries. The latter was not as tall a man as Willard by several inches, but he was even more rugged and probably much stronger. By the time that Jeffries and Fitzsimmons fought their second battle the one-time lionheart had become as clever as Willard is today, and yet the only thing that saved him from being knocked out by the ancient middleweight was that the latter's brittle hands could not stand the strain.

Willard and Fulton stand out today, partly because of their great size, but more because there are no other first-class men to furnish any opposition. Billy Miske, while a good all-round man, is not a great fighter by any means. But give Miske something of Fitz's hitting ability and there would be no talk of Fulton being too big for him.

She—What do they make in a chafing dish?
He—Indigestion.

Smith Signs With Dodgers.
Hot Springs, Ark., Mar. 9.—Pitcher Sherrod Smith has reached an agreement with President Ebbetts of the Brooklyn Nationals on the salary question. The amount agreed on was not given out.

Veau Gregg Signs
One more Red Sox holdout has been heard from. Secretary John Lane has received a telegram from Veau Gregg, which stated that he had signed his contract and that it was in the mail on its way to Boston. Gregg is in Millet, Alberta.

Secretary Lane has sent to Gregg by wire his transportation to Hot Springs with the request that he report as soon as possible for spring training.

Int'l Leaguers Signing.
Montreal, Mar. 9.—That there is a tendency on the part of ball players to accept anything reasonable in the way of a contract this season is evident from the manner in which international League players are signing up.

Contracts for 1917 were not mailed until March 4 and ordinarily they do not start to come in until well on in the month, but this year three were received, signed, inside a week. In view of the fact that the Royals have only eight

Establishes New Skating Records

Arthur Staff Skates Mile in 2.26
1-5 and a Half Mile in 1.13—
Canadian Does Well

Pittsburg, Mar. 8.—Arthur Staff of the Norwegian Turners Society of Chicago, winner of the 1917 international outdoor skating championship at Saranac Lake, broke two world's records last night at the opening meeting for the international indoor championship ice skating races here.

In the half-mile Staff set a new record of 1.13. The former record of 1.16 was made by John Nilsson in Montreal in 1897. Staff skated the mile in 2.26-5, breaking the record of 2.28 set by himself in Chicago last year. In both races Staff was hard pushed by Harry Cody of Toronto.

Cody and Staff alternated at setting slips. The crew as set down was the pace until the final lap, when Larson put on speed, and the three men went in to the stretch on even terms. Staff was equal to the occasion and brought the crowd to its feet with his burst of speed. Cody stuck close to him and finished a scant foot in the rear.

Officially Classified.
In the Bureau of the Census at Washington acts against the law are recorded under a few general heads, such as murder, burglary, etc.

An officer of the bureau tells of a woman clerk who was puzzled by an entry she encountered in one of her slips. The entry as set down was "Killing a blind tiger." After due reflection the woman placed it under the head "Cruelty to Animals."
