The Man In The Street

It's a toss-up whether we go swimming or sleighing this afternoon.

Oh, well, we're saving money on the ice bills these days.

It was a chillier day than this for the Germans when Winter struck them, according to the correspondent's report of the gallant lieutenant's exploit.

North end folk are still waiting for the new pavements.

And, in the meantime, the only way to cross Main street without getting the shoes muddy is by taking a running broad jump, or a ferry.

Who Needs Them Most?

It is a laudable enterprise for a contemporary to distribute Bibles, but do their subscribers need them more than the state? A study of the Word of Truth might be profitable, even to the editor. And a few complimentary copies to their friends in the provincial government might have a beneficial effect.

Kits for Economy

Sir Sam Hughes has countermanded the order that no more kits will be issued for Canadian soldiers, on account of expense, giving the reason for the reversal of the order the discovery that kits are more economical than trousers. A notable discovery! What effect will it have on men's fashions generally, in these days of the high cost of living? Will the government department of conservation and thrift advise the honest working man to cut down his pants account by substituting the sly kit? Will the members of the government set the people a good example in this new way to "save and serve"? Who will prove himself a pilot by setting the fashion? All it needs is a leader, and soon we will see the economical millionaire and the poverty stricken tramp, with the economists of all the intermediate grades, proudly wearing the kits and adding to their savings bank account.

That U. S. Mexican war flaked out just in time to allow the newspapers across the border to find front page space for the allies' big offensive.

Seventeen to Three.

It is said that the patronage committee met last night and, as usual, they had something to worry about. This time it was the lack of an influential party organ. One of the leaders made the bold announcement that, the last time he counted it up in a cab on the suburban train, he found seventeen persons reading the opposition journal, while only three of the faithful had sacrificed their desire for news to party loyalty and had purchased the government morning organ. Others chipped in with similar evidence; they could not blame the citizens for wanting to read a good newspaper and neglecting to read a poor one, they agreed that, from a party standpoint, it was a sad state of affairs. The government organ does not seem to be able to play a popular tune.

The Amateur Gardener

It's not safe to mention gardening topics to a certain young man these days. In the time he can spare from his work on one of the rivet steamers he has been devoting himself to gardening this spring. It was a new departure and his friends jollied him about it; he was confident of success, however, and assured them the laugh would be on his side when his vegetables came up and he could pick his produce fresh from mother earth. He was laying special emphasis on the cucumber bed he had planted and his mouth watered as he told of the juicy cucumbers he would be enjoying later in the season. One of his friends, a girl by the way, got tired of hearing of those cucumbers and planned a little surprise for him. Visiting the garden she substituted for the cucumber seeds some other seeds of a different variety. In due time they came up; the diligent gardener did not know the difference and tended them with care. No weeds were allowed to flourish in that patch and, in dry weather, the watering can was used faithfully. The sprouts thrived amazingly; their growth was so rapid and the stalks so vigorous that the gardener found fresh reasons for crowing. Everything went well until another friend, who knew something about plants and vegetables, visited the patch and identified the crop. They were sunflowers.

MEETS FRIENDS FROM "OLD HOME TOWN" ALL ALONG THE LINE

Interesting as Usual, Q.M.S. Frank Jennings Heard From

Music From No. 5 A. S. C. Band Concert Waived on Evening Breeze as He Writes—Talks With Capt. Geo. Gambin and Lieut. Arthur Finn

Q. M. S. Frank X. Jennings writing to his mother under date of June 13, says in part:

"It seems quite a while since I wrote you, but I have sent you some cards, and to say the least does not give much information, but nevertheless tells you that I am well. I wrote to Ned and found a card in the mail next day saying he was in England. I have written him and told him there was a possibility of his getting leave soon and for him to hold off a little bit as he is likely to be in England some time yet, so that, when I am free, he can get a pass and we could do a bit of touring together.

"Not far from where I am are the No. 4 & 5, who at one time were in St. John and they are having a band concert over the tonight. I can hear 'You're here and I am here', 'Love me while the loving is good', 'I hear you calling me' and others floating across on the evening's breeze. Tonight is the first time we have had since a week, and I tell you it feels fine.

"I often wonder who is left in St. John now. I do not think it possible for me to go out anywhere along the Canadian line without meeting a friend from your home town. I had a long talk with Capt. George Gambin, O.C. No. 1 Section D. A. C. last evening and he asked me to remember him to you all.

"I was very much pleased in reading in one of my recent editions of the 'Times' (which by the way come in bunches), that Jack had received his commission. Just forward him my congratulations.

"You should see the peasant women here cleaning house on Saturday. As the floors are all stone they just simply put some water on them and then sweep. Sounds simple, doesn't it?"

"I understand that Frank Corr is near here (evidently not knowing that the gallant young officer has since met his death), but I have not seen him. I saw Lieut. Arthur Finn in nearby town yesterday. He used to be in St. John. No more news now, but will write again when opportunity offers."

OSBORNE REAPPOINTED WARDEN OF SING SING

New York, July 8.—George W. Kliehewy tendered his resignation as warden of Sing Sing prison to James M. Carter, state superintendent of prisoners in New York on Thursday night and Thomas Osborne was reappointed. Mr. Osborne, who retired as warden after he had been indicted on several counts by a Westchester county grand jury, will resume his duties on July 16.

LIEUT. MELLOR WAS KILLED IN ACTION

Rev. T. C. Mellor, rector of St. James' church, Kentville, received word by telegram on Thursday afternoon from Newfoundland of the death of his eldest son, Lieut. Frederick Courtney Mellor, killed in action on July 1st.

Lieut. F. C. Mellor was educated at the Collegiate School, Windsor, and afterwards joined the staff of the Commercial Cable Co., at Hazel Hill. About six years ago he was transferred to St. John's, Nfld. At the outbreak of the war he enlisted with the Newfoundland regiment and went overseas with the First Contingent. His regiment did duty at Inverness and Edinburgh Castle. While there he was given his commission as lieutenant. He returned to Newfoundland in 1915 for more men, and on his arrival in Scotland trained his men at Newton-on-Ayr. About five months ago he, with his regiment, went over to France.

His only brother is a lance-corporal in the Canadian Engineers, and went over with the First Contingent.

MGR. LOCATELLI NEW NUNCIO TO BELGIUM

Rome, July 8.—It is officially announced that Pope Benedict has appointed Monsignor Locatelli as papal nuncio to Belgium.

Unofficial reports last month forecast the transfer of Monsignor Locatelli from the post of papal internuncio at Buenos Ayres to that of nuncio at Brussels.

Man Killed by Shark

Pring Lake, N.Y., July 8.—Attacked by a shark while swimming 100 feet beyond the life lines along the bathing beach here, Charles Pruder, 28, years of age, a bellboy, died of his injuries just after he had been brought ashore by a rescue party.

BOYS' REQUESTS PROMPTLY GRANTED

Working Lads Ask For Allison Playgrounds in Evenings

THEY CALL ON EXECUTIVE

Reports on Centennial and Peters Playgrounds—A Big Place For Boys—Gratifying Word as to Girls' Club and Travelers' Aid

Something new in connection with playgrounds in St. John occurred last evening when Mrs. W. C. Matthews, supervisor of the Allison playgrounds, introduced to the executive of the Playgrounds Association six working boys from the south end, who asked that the Allison ground be open for them and other boys from 8:30 to 9:30 each evening, beginning on Monday next, and pledging their honor to take as good care of the apparatus as if it were their own. The executive promptly granted the request.

Regarding the Centennial and Peters playgrounds at the foot of Hanover street is being leveled and rolled and will make a large and excellent ground for boys. It was decided to endeavor to place a supervisor there for the holiday season and conduct a great boys' playground.

Necessary supplies for the different supervised playgrounds were ordered. Gratifying reports were received from the Girls' Club and Travelers' Aid. The summer camp of the former at Drury Cove Mrs. G. Lane, who is in charge, girls are urged to take advantage of the week-end opportunity to enjoy a delightful outing.

Any citizen having a gramophone and records, and willing to loan them for use on the playgrounds would confer a great favor. Tennis rackets and balls are also needed.

Rev. W. G. Lane has been added to the visiting committee for Centennial and Aberdeen grounds. He visited them on forty-three different days last summer, this setting an example to the citizens generally. Miss Grace Leavitt was added to the committee for the Allison grounds.

With regard to the finances of the association, which has not enough money to carry on its work throughout the year, the treasurer, Mrs. Geo. Dishart, was able to report last night that the receipts for June were several dollars in excess of the expenditures. All the playgrounds will be in full swing next week.

R. E. Armstrong presided at last night's meeting and the others present were Mrs. E. E. Holman, Mrs. R. A. Corbett, Miss Goodwin, Miss Parks, Miss Leavitt, W. G. Lane, Geo. W. Day, W. F. Noble and A. M. Belding.
