DEMAND FOR A THREE CENT STAMP
 Would Save a Lot of Trouble—Still Uncertainty Over War Tax in the Drug Store
 Some of the druggists are still a bit at sea regarding the scope of the new war tax act. Some, it is said, are going so far as to stick a stamp on almost every article which leaves the store and others are trying to avoid their use as much as possible to save their customers the extra tax. Visitors to the $50 and $100 penalties are enough to make them all want to keep within the law but its interpretation has not been so indefinite that the merchants have some difficulty in learning what is required of them. One druggist said that the only way he had of learning what was required was through the newspapers and he was doing the best he could with no certainty that he was complying with the act. The rule covers any registered or proprietary medicine, liquid or solid and also any other preparation recommended to the public as "a specific preparation for any disease or affection affecting the human or animal body." This is the list of articles not regarded as medicines, such as medicinal soaps, etc. Some of the exceptions allowed so far in response to queries from druggists include poppin gum, which will not be classed as medicine; shaving soaps, which may be antiseptic but not remedial and even tooth pastes.
 The latest modification of the law permitting the use of either war or ordinary stamps on letters to the full amount of the postage plus the war tax has simplified matters somewhat in the post office but there is still an inclination on the part of some persons to try to use inland revenue stamps as well and these are not recognized on letters.
 There is now a general demand for a three cent stamp to cover the war tax and postage and save the time and trouble of placing two stamps on each letter sent out.

GIVES BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA STOCK TO RELATIVES
 Will of Mrs. Eliza McLean—Matthew O'Neil Estate—John W. Thompson's Will
 The will of Mrs. Eliza McLean, widow of James McLean, was proved. She gave to her cousin Eliza, whose maiden name was Bryce, widow of Henry Thomas late of St. John, a pilot, and now residing in Boston, seven shares of the capital stock of the Bank of New Brunswick, now Bank of Nova Scotia; to William S. Martin of St. John, one share; to Eliza, his wife, one share; to Grace Hatheway, daughter of W. Frank Hatheway of St. John, merchant, one share; to Miriam Hatheway, another daughter of W. Frank Hatheway, one share; to Ella Thomas, daughter of Eliza Thomas, one share; to Eliza Thomas another daughter, one share; to Bessie, another daughter, one share; to Lizzie Crutshank, now of Roxbury, Mass., widow of Joseph Crutshank; $100; to Ada, her daughter; $100; to Lizzie Wetmore, now of Boston, widow of C. Wetmore, $100; to Sadie C. Waltham, Mass., daughter of George C. Burton, $100; to Walter Bryce, son of her late brother, Thomas Bryce, now of Boston, $50; to Frederick, son of Thomas Bryce, $50; to Jessie Blak, of 110 Cambridge street, St. John, now deceased, $50; to Harriet A. Fisher, late of Roxbury, $50; to Hulda, wife of Jack Marquis of Colorado, daughter of Eliza Thomas, $50; to James B. McLean of Goodrich street, St. John, $25; to Jennie, his wife, $25; to Allan Brown of Brown's Falls, farmer, $20; to Marve, his wife, $20; to the Superintendency of Ministers' Widows Fund of the Eastern Section of the Methodist Church, $100. Of any moneys which are to credit in the Bank of British North America at the time of her death, she gives one-half to Robert McLean, brother of her late husband, and the other half to Annie Burnham and Fred McLean, children of William McLean, a brother of her late husband; to Emma Moore, daughter of the late William Moore, $25. She directs that if her estate should be insufficient, apart from the stock to pay the cash legacies then such stock be held until the income shall be sufficient to make up any deficiency. The balance of her estate, if any, she gives to the Protestant Orphan Asylum, and she nominates her two friends—William S. Martin and Edward T. C. Knowles of St. John, barrister-at-law, executors. They were sworn in as such. There is no real estate; personalty $4,000. E. T. C. Knowles, K. C., is proctor.
 Matthew O'Neil
 The court today took up the matter of the estate of Matthew O'Neil, retail meat merchant. He died intestate leaving his widow, Bridget Genevieve O'Neil but no children; one brother John, a sister Catherine, wife of Peter Clark of Dorchester, Mass., also the children of Daniel O'Neil, a brother who died just before him. On the petition of the widow and other next of kin the widow was appointed administratrix. There is no real estate, personalty $1,700. Urban J. Sweeney is proctor.
 John W. Thompson
 The will of John W. Thompson, late of Dipper Harbor, farmer, was proved. He gives to Charles Edward Thompson his farm in Musquash fronting on Mace's Bay road; to Violet, daughter of George Thompson $100; to his brother, Anthony Thompson $100; to William McGowan, Jr., his two wagons, plow and watch; to George D. Thompson his mowing machine. He directs that Burton McGowan shall be paid for his care and attention to him during his last illness; the rest of his estate he gives to his two sisters Sarah McGowan and Amelia Thompson, and he nominates James K. Corscadden and Thomas Corscadden, both of Mace's Bay, executors. They were sworn in as such. Real estate is $80; personalty $1,120. Baxter & Logan are proctors.

GEORGE HAZLEWOOD WRITES FROM FRANCE
 Former Street Car Conductor and Comrades Eager to Get to Firing Line
 An interesting letter was received yesterday by George Hazlewood of the St. John Railway Company's staff from Wm. Wood, formerly a street car conductor in this city, now serving in France with the Army Medical Corps. He said that the weather in France was improving, and that the boys were enjoying the campaign. There had as yet been no casualties in his unit, though German airmen had seemed to make the place where they were billeted a target for their bombs. They soon departed, however, when British or French airships came up to offer fight.
 The writer says the Canadians billeted in the town where they were then quartered were impatient to get to the very front of the firing line, and before this letter reached its destination, he added, it was likely that they would be taking their part in "all that's doing."
 From Fred Lodge
 Miss Reata Lodge has received a letter from her brother, Private Fred Lodge, who is now on the firing line in France. Mr. Lodge has had better luck with his correspondence than many of the men for he says he has received all the letters sent to him. He says he is perfectly well but is looking forward to getting home again.
 FLAGS OUT, PLEASE.
 On account of the war and the special occasion for the display of patriotism, St. George's Society is anxious that all citizens shall co-operate with them in the observance of St. George's day, Friday, April 23. For this purpose they have requested Mayor Frink, as mayor and past president, to make an appeal to the citizens to make a generous display of flags and bunting on that day.
