Saint John Hebrew Places of Business are Closed Today

Observance of New Year, 5685, Will Continue Till Sunset on Sunday.

Jewish places of business in Saint John, as throughout the world, today are closed and the Hebrew people are observing the beginning of their new year, the holy day of Rosh Hashanah. The observance was begun at sunset last evening and will continue until sundown on Sunday. Services are being held morning and evening in the synagogue in Wellington Row and are being conducted by Rev. O. Mandelblatt, Rev. A. Babb and Rev. O. Blitt. The synagogue was crowded at the opening service last evening and a large congregation again assembled this morning.

ITS SIGNIFICANCE

Speaking of the holy day, this morning's prominent members of the Hebrew congregation said that it was a highly spiritual occasion both in its significance and its strict observance by every Hebrew member, whether young or old, pious or not, except those who oppose any religious worship. The holy day, he said, has a powerful influence upon the Hebrews. It brought them in large numbers to the synagogue, business men having closed their places of business and toilers dropping their work, strictly observing the biblical command from Numbers 29-1 "Ye shall do no manner of servile work."

The psychology of the observance of this holy day, while others were abandoned, he said, was as follows:—"The human soul needs spiritual food and the body requires material food and circumstances do not permit the proper observance of every holy day set for the purpose. This holy day, therefore, turns every Hebrew from his material world and raises him above worldly cares and thus relieves the weary of the soul." The prayers, he said, were of an inspiring character and full of consolation and humility. The music of the organ was of special and melodious significance in ancient times. The holy day began the Hebrew year 5685.

INVESTIGATOR IS NOT YET APPOINTED

Premier Baxter Speaks of Inspection of Work Done in Lancaster.

Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, K.C., Premier of New Brunswick, arrived here yesterday afternoon from London, where he had been taking part in the unveiling of the monument to the fallen soldiers of the Boer War. Hon. Mr. Baxter said this morning that no engineer had yet been appointed to investigate the road work done in Lancaster, but before any payments were made by the government an engineer would be appointed to investigate and see that the work was up to the government standard. When the work was undertaken, Premier Baxter, who is minister of public works, gave an undertaking to pay for a strip of road 54 feet in width from the highway bridge to Manchester corner and to pay the cost of the road in front of the Provincial Hospital grounds, as that institution did not pay any taxes to the municipality.

It is understood that the amount expected by the municipality under this agreement will be more than $100,000.

AUTOISTS WARNED ABOUT SPEED TRAP

Motorcycle Policeman Objects to He and Garage Owner's Court.

PORT JERVIS, Sept. 18.—Village trustees of Port Jervis, New Brunswick, took up today a grievance of August Dunster, owner of a public garage, who alleges a policeman attacked him because he posted in front of his place a sign warning automobilists that the police of Matthews had a speed trap laid further down the road. The controversy raised a storm in the village.

Motorcycle Policeman Richard Devere was gathering in numerous automobilists for exceeding the low speed limit of fifteen miles an hour. Suddenly the policeman noticed a slump in business and that all drivers seemed to be unusually cautious. He investigated and found the warning sign in front of the garage cautioning out-of-town drivers to go slow as there was a trap ahead. Dunster alleges the policeman indignantly protested, attacked him and undertook to remove the sign. The policeman denies using any force.

Judge Holds Taxi Men Must Receive Any Tip Politely

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—A taxicab driver who may not like the size of a tip offered him will accept it politely, nevertheless, and be grateful to receive any gratuity at all if he wants to keep clear of the law. Magistrate George W. Simpson in the West Side Court issued this warning, and he emphasized it by holding a recalcitrant chauffeur without bail for examination.

Benjamin Knaster, 20 years old, was the chauffeur who will spend the next few days in a cell instead of in his home. Dr. Joseph M. Klein of Jamaica, L. I., hired Knaster at the Pennsylvania station and rode to Forty-third street and Seventh avenue. Dr. Klein had Miss Theresa Craig of Walnut street, Long Beach, L. I., with him and the couple were in search of theatre tickets.

When he dismissed Knaster the dentist handed him 30 cents. The meter fare was 20 cents. According to the dentist and Miss Craig, Knaster was surly. He pretended to examine the dentist's dime to see if it were good and then exclaimed:

"How in blazes do you expect a taxicab driver to live on tips like this?"

According to the couple, there was considerable more impolite conversation from the taxi driver and he finally took five pennies from his pocket and hurled them in Dr. Klein's face.
