SOCIAL REFORM AND THE PULPIT

Dea of St. Paul's, London, Expresses Views on Socialism

London, Feb. 7.—Doctor Inge, Dean of St. Paul's, who is noted for his striking criticism of current happenings and ideas delivered a lecture in which, among other things, he dealt with socialism. He said he doubted whether this theory had taken much hold in England except where it was regarded as a machine for expropriating landlords and capitalists. He declared that it was really an individualistic movement.

Doctor Inge declared that the spiritual current on which the labor movement and every revolutionary agitation floated and which was miscalled socialism, was really an individualistic ideal. It was so with the women's movement, at the bottom of which was the desire that every woman as well as every man shall be able to make the most of her or his life.

The dean thought that the modern trend of pain was one of the most remarkable changes in the last century, and, while not condemning the development of more tender feelings, thought the present revolt against pain not altogether right or good. He thought the horror of physical suffering went beyond what was justified in Christianity.

The dean declared that there had also grown up a thoroughly un-Christian sentimentality in regard to death. Everybody, he said, of course, had sympathy for those who perished on the "Yankee," but the groan of horror that arose from the whole nation and the letters which had been written asking how this disaster could be remedied with belief in a good God, carried humanitarianism and the dread of death to a point, he said, which was an austere creed. It's symbol was an instrument of torture; it taught its followers to be prepared to suffer, and it was not always reluctant to inflict pain for a good purpose.

A passenger on a Newburyport trolley received a $1 bill in change with a snafu. After getting home she found she had given a second conductor a dollar bill and had placed the transfer in her pocketbook. The bill was finally recovered.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRE

Sylvia Pankhurst in London yesterday announced that she had left the ranks of the Women's Social and Political Union, as a result of differences of opinion with regard to policy. Miss Pankhurst is said to be too revolutionary in her ideas for the other members, and henceforth will apply herself and her schemes as a member of the east end branch of the federation, which will be independent of the first named.

Robert Wright of Ashgrove, Ontario, was killed and two girls, Mildred and Kent Bessey were badly injured yesterday when a train struck the buggy in which they were driving.

Six workmen were killed in an explosion in a Lexington, Ky., saw mill yesterday. Four of them were brothers named Hayer, all belonging to Urban, Ky.

An action is being brought in Ottawa to oust Mayor Taylor McVeety from office, on the grounds that he is in the debt of the city for taxes amounting to $170 for three years, that he is insolvent, and that he had been acting for Thomas Clary, as counsel in an effort to have some of the city by-laws quashed, when elected to office.

A committee of ministers and laymen of Winnipeg yesterday waited upon Premier Roblin, and asked that an investigation be started into social clubs in that city, that no more liquor licenses be granted and that the bars close earlier. The premier said he could do nothing until specific charges were made.

It was said yesterday at the meeting of the Provincial Temperance Alliance of P. E. Island at Charlottetown, that $2,000 had been offered for carrying on this year's work in the cause but another thousand was needed. It was decided to adopt the same tactics as last year and to employ the aid of detectives in trying to abolish the illegal sale of liquor.

CHICAGO MAY HAVE TRADE SCHOOLS FOR UNEMPLOYED

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Establishment of trade schools for the teaching of unemployed men will be recommended in a report soon to be made by the commission on unemployed which was appointed two years ago by Mayor H. Harrison.

Prof. Charles H. Henderson of the University of Chicago, chairman of the commission, announces the substance of the report. It will propose that the suggested trade schools be placed under the supervision of a board of public welfare similar to that of Kansas City, Missouri. The commission may also offer the suggestion that compulsory schools be maintained for those who do not want further schooling and who refuse to work.

Luxuries vs A Necessity

You wouldn't want a poor opera glass, or an inferior field glass. You would insist on first-class ones. And you use either of these only occasionally.

You use your eyeglasses daily, and perhaps all day. Then how much more important it is that they should be perfectly satisfactory, since they are a necessity and in continual use.

To secure satisfactory glasses a thorough examination is essential. We make this kind of an examination, and guarantee the glasses we supply to be correct.

RECENT DEATHS

Stephen S. Hall.

Stephen S. Hall, head of the firm of Hall & Fairweather, Limited, St. John, and one of the best known business men in eastern Canada, passed away last night in his eighty-eighth year, after an illness of two weeks' duration. On Tuesday, Jan. 30, Mr. Hall spent the whole day working in his office. On Friday, Jan. 33, however, he was taken ill at his home, and since that day gradually sank till his death exactly two weeks later at 10 o'clock last night.

He was always bright and active, devoting much energy to his business as well as to social duties, for he was for years warden of St. Paul's church, Rothery, and at the time of his death was president of the Relief and Aid Society. He had been president of the board of trade and was also a past president of the Brunswick Board of Fire Underwriters.

Born in 1826. Stephen S. Hall was born in Annapolis (N. S.) on July 27, 1826. He was the son of James and Jane (Thorne) Hall. His ancestors on both sides were Loyalists who removed to the maritime provinces immediately after the close of the American revolution, the Halls coming from Massachusetts and the Thornes from New York.

Stephen S. Hall came to St. John in 1848 and, commencing his business life as a dry goods clerk with Charles Kelchum, was later with R. P. McGivern in the same line of trade in Dock street, subsequently worked on South wharf for his uncle, R. W. Thorne, whom he left to enter the employ of J. V. Troop; and when Mr. Troop went into the shipping business Mr. Hall engaged in the wholesale grocery trade. He conducted business alone from 1843 to 1854, when he formed a co-partnership with Charles H. Fairweather. For many years they were extensive importers. They continued in business until the death of Mr. Fairweather in June, 1894, since which time the firm has been known under its present title of Hall & Fairweather, Limited. The concern is still transacting a large wholesale business, and is under the management of William C. Cross.

In 1851 Mr. Hall married Havilah Shaw, a daughter of the late Israel Fellows, and a sister of James J. Fellows, formerly of St. John. Mrs. Hall was born in Annapolis county (N. S.), and her ancestors were Loyalists. She became the mother of seven children, namely: Florence, now deceased, who married F. R. Fairweather, Mabel, who married Dr. C. D. McMurdo, of the United States army at Fort Huachuca, Arizona; Maudie, accidentally burned to death in childhood; Henry F., who is now in Vancouver; Herbert B., of Lloydminster (Sask.); and Edward, who is residing at home, and Stephen T., the eldest son, who was in business with his father and his younger living sons.

His widow, Mrs. T. Hall, has since been living with her father-in-law.

Publicly, Mr. Hall was a Conservative. He was a member of the Church of England and deeply interested in religious affairs, having been for many years prominently identified with St. John's (Stone) church. Mr. Hall was agent for the Phoenix Fire Assurance Company of London.

The funeral is to take place from St. John's (Stone) church, on Monday at 9:30 o'clock.

Death came very suddenly to Mrs. Edna McBroos yesterday afternoon, the sad news being a great shock to her many friends. Mrs. McBroos was the only daughter of the late L. T. Richardson, for many years a teacher in the Queen's public school. After her father's death Mrs. McBroos succeeded him, proving a most efficient and sympathetic teacher and she gave up the work, ten months ago, when she was married to J. G. McBroos. A large number of friends who knew her many virtues will learn with sincere regret of her death at a comparatively early age. The funeral is to take place tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. from 228 Queen street.

REVENUE TWO MILLIONS LESS BUT THE DEBT GROWS ELEVEN MILLIONS MORE

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—The financial statement for the month of January, as issued by the finance department, is a record-breaking one with the record on the wrong side of the account.

The difference between falling revenues and increased expenditures was never more marked in the history of Canada. During the month the net debt of the dominion increased by $10,811,758, and now stands at $314,388,870.

For the first ten months of the fiscal year the total revenue has been $138,101,513, an increase of $1,081,880 over the first ten months of the preceding fiscal year.

Indications now are that the total revenue for the complete fiscal year will fall a little below that of last year, namely, $1,088,899,903, while total expenditures will probably run up to about $184,000,000, or an increase of approximately $40,000,000.

It is stated that owing to the continued illness of Hon. W. T. White, minister of finance, Hon. Geo. E. Foster will be called upon this year to deliver the budget speech. It will be a familiar role for him to announce a substantial increase in the public debt, but at the same time it is rather hard luck to ask him to shoulder the explanation of the minister of finance, who is properly responsible for the extravagant expenditures, which Mr. Foster deplores.

AUCTION MEAGRE EFFECTS OF EIGHTEEN UNKNOWN DEAD

(Montreal Star). Eighteen unidentified bodies lying in unmarked graves—the graves of ill-fortunate, who, friendless and penniless, died within the limits of the city and were buried at its expense. This is the record since last June.

When the earth closed over the bodies of these unknown dead, they were apparently forgotten by all, mourned by none, but yesterday their memory was revived, when a letter from Dr. S. Boucher, medical officer of health, was sent to the board of control for instructions as to the disposition of their meagre effects.

The present procedure is to make a neat parcel of the generally insignificant goods of the dead, and after keeping it for a specified time, to put it up at public auction, the amount received being placed on the other side of the funeral expense account.

BABY COVERED WITH RASH

From Head to Foot, Itched and Burned, Disfiguring, Face and Arms Worst. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured.

Legere Corcor, Moncton, N. B.—"When my baby was five months old he had a rash which used to trouble him very much. The rash was very bad and he was covered from head to foot. I got him Cuticura Soap and Ointment and had only used them two or three times when I saw a great change. The sores dried up and came off and he was cured." (Signed) Mrs. George French, May 29, 1913.

For pimples and blackheads the following is a most effective and economical treatment: Gently smear the affected parts with Cuticura Ointment, on the end of the finger, but do not rub. Wash off the Cuticura Soap and hot water and continue bathing for some minutes. This treatment is best on rising and retiring. At other times use Cuticura Soap freely for the toilet and bath, to assist in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. For a liberal free sample of each, with 32-p. book, send postcard to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. D, Boston, U. S. A.
