

The Evening Times - Star

VOL. VII. No. 33

ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1911

TEN PAGES—ONE CENT

SEEKING WAY OUT OF THEIR TROUBLE

Unionists' Plans, Now That Balfour Has Resigned

WOULD LIKE HIM TO STAY One Suggestion is to Have Him Retain Leadership, With Working Lieutenant—His Action Regarded as Event of Great National Importance

(Canadian Press) London, Nov. 9.—The resignation of the slight Hon. A. J. Balfour, of the leadership of the Unionist party, which he announced yesterday, is an event of prime importance not only from a party point of view, but as a fact in the national annals.

With the single exception of Pitt, Mr. Balfour has been leader of the House of Commons longer than any other man in parliamentary history, and the qualities he has displayed have won for him the universal tribute of being one of the first parliamentarians of the world. His resignation is to his party, as Viscount Midleton says, an almost irreparable loss, and spokesmen of all parties agree that his withdrawal will leave a great gap. He is not retiring from parliament, at his attendance there will presumably be limited. In the present session, he has only twice been present at debates. There are some passages in the speech of Mr. Balfour yesterday, which are of world-wide interest, because of their human note. "You may say," he said, "I am not yet sixty-four, and that I ought to have, if health be spared me, many years of active life before me. About that no man can say anything. I desire to leave the position of heavy responsibility, which I hold, before I can be suspected of suffering from the most insidious of all diseases—a disease which comes upon those who, without losing their health or their intellect, nevertheless get somewhat retired in the old sense which they have nursed, whose authority grows because they have been in the public service or have been great men of science or business, or whatever it may be, but who cannot deal with the great problems which, in this changing world, are gradually arising, with all the freshness and elasticity realizable in those who have the contact of great concerns.

"No man ever knows in himself, when that moment has come. A man knows as in the case of a man who has a memory begins to fail, or some other obvious sign of decay is present on his mind. But the sort of malady which, in an speaking, may attack people in the prime of life, in the prime of intellectual vigor, as well as that intellectual vigor exercised on the old lines. But nevertheless, although they may retain apparent vigor, all the power both of mind and body which they had in the prime of life, they are less capable of adapting themselves to changing circumstances of life, than those who are of less capacity, because younger.

"I am vain enough to hope that I have reached that yet, but I should be miserable if I ran the risk of being more miserable than to realize that while people are looking to you more than ever, and your lengthening experience of leadership, you have not got the keenness of alertness which must go with increase of years.

"I am vain enough to hope that I have reached that yet, but I should be miserable if I ran the risk of being more miserable than to realize that while people are looking to you more than ever, and your lengthening experience of leadership, you have not got the keenness of alertness which must go with increase of years.

"I am vain enough to hope that I have reached that yet, but I should be miserable if I ran the risk of being more miserable than to realize that while people are looking to you more than ever, and your lengthening experience of leadership, you have not got the keenness of alertness which must go with increase of years.

"I am vain enough to hope that I have reached that yet, but I should be miserable if I ran the risk of being more miserable than to realize that while people are looking to you more than ever, and your lengthening experience of leadership, you have not got the keenness of alertness which must go with increase of years.

"I am vain enough to hope that I have reached that yet, but I should be miserable if I ran the risk of being more miserable than to realize that while people are looking to you more than ever, and your lengthening experience of leadership, you have not got the keenness of alertness which must go with increase of years.

"I am vain enough to hope that I have reached that yet, but I should be miserable if I ran the risk of being more miserable than to realize that while people are looking to you more than ever, and your lengthening experience of leadership, you have not got the keenness of alertness which must go with increase of years.

"I am vain enough to hope that I have reached that yet, but I should be miserable if I ran the risk of being more miserable than to realize that while people are looking to you more than ever, and your lengthening experience of leadership, you have not got the keenness of alertness which must go with increase of years.

"I am vain enough to hope that I have reached that yet, but I should be miserable if I ran the risk of being more miserable than to realize that while people are looking to you more than ever, and your lengthening experience of leadership, you have not got the keenness of alertness which must go with increase of years.

"I am vain enough to hope that I have reached that yet, but I should be miserable if I ran the risk of being more miserable than to realize that while people are looking to you more than ever, and your lengthening experience of leadership, you have not got the keenness of alertness which must go with increase of years.

"I am vain enough to hope that I have reached that yet, but I should be miserable if I ran the risk of being more miserable than to realize that while people are looking to you more than ever, and your lengthening experience of leadership, you have not got the keenness of alertness which must go with increase of years.

"I am vain enough to hope that I have reached that yet, but I should be miserable if I ran the risk of being more miserable than to realize that while people are looking to you more than ever, and your lengthening experience of leadership, you have not got the keenness of alertness which must go with increase of years.

LONDON'S NEW LORD MAYOR INAUGURATED

Dr. Crosby Probably Oldest Citizen to Fill the Position

London, Nov. 9.—Sir Thomas Bore Cradock, M. D., was today inaugurated lord mayor of London, with the time honored street show. The chief feature was in a pageant and tableaux representative of the naval and military history of Great Britain in the period from Queen Elizabeth to Waterloo.

Sir Thomas is the 723rd mayor of the city and as he is eighty-one years of age, he is one of the oldest if not the oldest citizen to occupy the office.

TRAGEDY OF AN EMPRESS

Charlotte of Mexico Hopelessly Insane For Years Under the Burden of Her Troubles

Paris, Nov. 9.—The tragedy of an empress is recalled by some curious tidings coming from Bouchoat, the residence of the ex-empress Charlotte of Mexico, who became insane on the execution of the Emperor Maximilian by the Mexican rebels in 1867. According to the "Temps" the empress, who is regarded as hopelessly insane, has recently pronounced the name of her husband for the first time since she became demented.

The Emperor Maximilian, who was the younger brother of the Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, in the midst of the growing opposition of the Mexican revolutionaries, sent his empress, who was the sister of the late King of the Belgians, to Paris, to appeal for help to the Emperor Napoleon.

After a most painful interview with the French Emperor, in which the Empress Charlotte pleaded despairingly for her husband, she retired—having failed to accomplish anything—to Italy, where her mind gave way beneath the strain of her troubles.

The ex-empress lives in the most complete retirement, seeing only her nurse, her lady-in-waiting, and her physicians. She spends much of her time going long walks in the park of Bouchoat, and is in good bodily health, contrary to unfavorable reports recently in circulation.

SUCCESSOR TO JUDGE MACMAHON IN ONTARIO

Toronto, Nov. 9.—The Mail and Empire says that the seat left vacant in the high court of justice for Ontario by the death of Judge MacMahon, will be filled by the appointment of High T. Kelly, K. C., law partner of Hon. J. F. Poy, M. P., a prominent Conservative and Catholic. He was born in Simcoe county in 1838.

Washington, Nov. 9.—As a step toward putting a systematic check on the rapidly increasing white slave traffic in the United States, representatives of the department of justice are establishing in New York, Baltimore and other large cities bureaus which will devote their entire time to looking after these subjects.

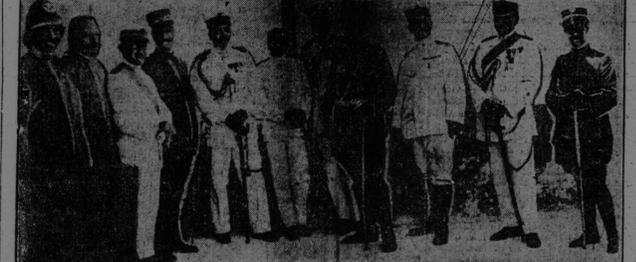

A census of the tenderloin districts of Baltimore has been taken by representatives of the department, who have established a working bureau there. Every person, male and female, connected either directly or indirectly with the house of questionable character has been required to fill out a blank card in which the complete history of the person is given. Copies of this card have been made and will be retained in Baltimore. The originals have been forwarded to Washington, where it is understood, a parent bureau will be established.

If the department of justice officials, after studying the results in Baltimore, find it feasible, similar steps will be taken in all the larger American cities where traffic in human beings is said to be the common thing.

With the opening of the bureau the officials will use the cases in this city to experiment. The occupants of the various houses in Baltimore and other cities are to be compelled to report to the white slave bureau here whenever any of them contemplate either leaving or arriving. On arrival, the bureau will be required immediately to fill out a record card.

The department not only is paying attention to the occupants of the questionable houses, but is getting a line on the owners of the buildings, the persons supplying food, drink, furniture, fixtures. This information also is being compiled, and the officials say it will greatly assist in their work of stamping out the evil.

ITALIAN LEADER AND HIS STAFF IN THE WAR WITH THE TURKS

General Canova and his staff, chief officers of the Italian army in Tripoli, and accused of gross cruelties to Arab and Turk women and children in Tripoli.

FINANCING SOUTHAMPTON BRANCH LINE

Frederick Hears That Rodolphe Forget Has Undertaken to Several Want Vacant Post in Government Service

Frederick, N. B., Nov. 9.—(Special)—It is understood that Rodolphe Forget, M.P., president of the Basque International, has undertaken to finance the construction of the Southampton branch railway. J. R. Pinder, promoter of the route has a provincial bond guarantee of $10,000 a mile, and it is said he has promised dominion subsidy.

The names of Lewis H. Bliss, Harry Blair, and F. P. Robinson, are mentioned in connection with the vacant secretaryship in the board of works office. All now hold government jobs of some sort. Mrs. Samuel Cassidy, whose husband died only a short time ago, passed away here last night.

The government dredge which has been operating near Croquet, has arrived here.

CARD INDEX SYSTEM AS CHECK ON WHITE SLAVE WORK IN STATES

Department of Justice Compiling Records of the Underworld—Applies to all Large Cities

Washington, Nov. 9.—As a step toward putting a systematic check on the rapidly increasing white slave traffic in the United States, representatives of the department of justice are establishing in New York, Baltimore and other large cities bureaus which will devote their entire time to looking after these subjects.

A census of the tenderloin districts of Baltimore has been taken by representatives of the department, who have established a working bureau there. Every person, male and female, connected either directly or indirectly with the house of questionable character has been required to fill out a blank card in which the complete history of the person is given. Copies of this card have been made and will be retained in Baltimore. The originals have been forwarded to Washington, where it is understood, a parent bureau will be established.

If the department of justice officials, after studying the results in Baltimore, find it feasible, similar steps will be taken in all the larger American cities where traffic in human beings is said to be the common thing.

With the opening of the bureau the officials will use the cases in this city to experiment. The occupants of the various houses in Baltimore and other cities are to be compelled to report to the white slave bureau here whenever any of them contemplate either leaving or arriving. On arrival, the bureau will be required immediately to fill out a record card.

The department not only is paying attention to the occupants of the questionable houses, but is getting a line on the owners of the buildings, the persons supplying food, drink, furniture, fixtures. This information also is being compiled, and the officials say it will greatly assist in their work of stamping out the evil.

The department of justice officials, after studying the results in Baltimore, find it feasible, similar steps will be taken in all the larger American cities where traffic in human beings is said to be the common thing.

ANOTHER CHAIN OF MURDERS; CHICAGO POLICE BELIEVE

Like the Vermilya Case Only Pistol is Used, Instead of Poison—Mrs. John M. Quinn Under Arrest as a Suspect

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Detectives made by detectives investigating the death of John M. Quinn in his home at 1109 South Michigan avenue last Saturday lead them to believe that they have encountered a murder mystery similar in its essential aspects to the Vermilya case, except that a pistol instead of poison is alleged to have been used.

When the police arrived, Quinn told them that he had been asleep in bed. They learned also that his mother, who lived with him, had died under circumstances that have never been explained.

In the Thorpe death, the police declare they have learned that Mrs. Thorpe, now Mrs. Quinn, insisted her husband had been shot to death by burglars.

A son of Thorpe found in Jackson by the detectives is said to have told them that he believed his mother knew more of the death of his father than she had ever told. He agreed to accompany the detectives to Chicago today, when the identity is begun over Quinn's body. Thorpe will confront the suspected woman. A revolver of an old pattern was found in the Quinn house, according to the police, behind a bath tub.

It was identified by J. W. Miller, a boarder in the Quinn house, as one he had seen in Warren Thorpe in Jackson, Mich. This fact led the detectives to Jackson where they learned that Thorpe had been shot and killed while asleep in bed. They learned also that his mother, who lived with him, had died under circumstances that have never been explained.

In the Thorpe death, the police declare they have learned that Mrs. Thorpe, now Mrs. Quinn, insisted her husband had been shot to death by burglars.

A son of Thorpe found in Jackson by the detectives is said to have told them that he believed his mother knew more of the death of his father than she had ever told. He agreed to accompany the detectives to Chicago today, when the identity is begun over Quinn's body. Thorpe will confront the suspected woman. A revolver of an old pattern was found in the Quinn house, according to the police, behind a bath tub.

It was identified by J. W. Miller, a boarder in the Quinn house, as one he had seen in Warren Thorpe in Jackson, Mich. This fact led the detectives to Jackson where they learned that Thorpe had been shot and killed while asleep in bed. They learned also that his mother, who lived with him, had died under circumstances that have never been explained.

In the Thorpe death, the police declare they have learned that Mrs. Thorpe, now Mrs. Quinn, insisted her husband had been shot to death by burglars.

A son of Thorpe found in Jackson by the detectives is said to have told them that he believed his mother knew more of the death of his father than she had ever told. He agreed to accompany the detectives to Chicago today, when the identity is begun over Quinn's body. Thorpe will confront the suspected woman. A revolver of an old pattern was found in the Quinn house, according to the police, behind a bath tub.

It was identified by J. W. Miller, a boarder in the Quinn house, as one he had seen in Warren Thorpe in Jackson, Mich. This fact led the detectives to Jackson where they learned that Thorpe had been shot and killed while asleep in bed. They learned also that his mother, who lived with him, had died under circumstances that have never been explained.

In the Thorpe death, the police declare they have learned that Mrs. Thorpe, now Mrs. Quinn, insisted her husband had been shot to death by burglars.

A son of Thorpe found in Jackson by the detectives is said to have told them that he believed his mother knew more of the death of his father than she had ever told. He agreed to accompany the detectives to Chicago today, when the identity is begun over Quinn's body. Thorpe will confront the suspected woman. A revolver of an old pattern was found in the Quinn house, according to the police, behind a bath tub.

CANTON LOWERS THE DRAGON FLAG

Important City Bows To New Order In China

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 9.—(Special)—Alfred Jarry, who said he was a Porcupine miner, and who arranged to buy two houses, costly motor cars and diamonds, here, married a girl of a week's acquaintance, has drawn the following from the officiating pastor, to whom he gave a bad check. The clergyman, Rev. J. D. Morrow, said: "A great number of young people come to me to be married and in many cases I give them solemn warning as to the evil of marrying in haste. I have repeatedly advised delay when young people come before me after only two or three days or weeks' acquaintance, telling them that they were running a serious risk."

There are many instances to my knowledge where boys and girls, meeting at a roller rink, have been married two days or so later. The consequences are often deplorable. In Jarry's case I had no warning that anything was wrong."

There are many instances to my knowledge where boys and girls, meeting at a roller rink, have been married two days or so later. The consequences are often deplorable. In Jarry's case I had no warning that anything was wrong."

There are many instances to my knowledge where boys and girls, meeting at a roller rink, have been married two days or so later. The consequences are often deplorable. In Jarry's case I had no warning that anything was wrong."

There are many instances to my knowledge where boys and girls, meeting at a roller rink, have been married two days or so later. The consequences are often deplorable. In Jarry's case I had no warning that anything was wrong."

There are many instances to my knowledge where boys and girls, meeting at a roller rink, have been married two days or so later. The consequences are often deplorable. In Jarry's case I had no warning that anything was wrong."

There are many instances to my knowledge where boys and girls, meeting at a roller rink, have been married two days or so later. The consequences are often deplorable. In Jarry's case I had no warning that anything was wrong."

There are many instances to my knowledge where boys and girls, meeting at a roller rink, have been married two days or so later. The consequences are often deplorable. In Jarry's case I had no warning that anything was wrong."

There are many instances to my knowledge where boys and girls, meeting at a roller rink, have been married two days or so later. The consequences are often deplorable. In Jarry's case I had no warning that anything was wrong."

There are many instances to my knowledge where boys and girls, meeting at a roller rink, have been married two days or so later. The consequences are often deplorable. In Jarry's case I had no warning that anything was wrong."

There are many instances to my knowledge where boys and girls, meeting at a roller rink, have been married two days or so later. The consequences are often deplorable. In Jarry's case I had no warning that anything was wrong."

There are many instances to my knowledge where boys and girls, meeting at a roller rink, have been married two days or so later. The consequences are often deplorable. In Jarry's case I had no warning that anything was wrong."

There are many instances to my knowledge where boys and girls, meeting at a roller rink, have been married two days or so later. The consequences are often deplorable. In Jarry's case I had no warning that anything was wrong."

REBELS CAPTURE FU CHOW

Manchu Section is Devasted—Massacre and Piracy in the News Today—Rebels Set Prisoners Free—Japan Anxious Over the General Situation

Hong Kong, Nov. 9.—Canton, the capital of Kwang Tung province and the largest in China, formally declared its independence at noon today when the dragon flag was lowered and a salute in honor of the new government was fired.

Amoy, Nov. 9.—The city of Fu Chow, capital of this province, is in the hands of the revolutionists today. After taking it, they wiped out the entire Manchou district. The foreign settlements have not been disturbed, but fires have broken out in several sections of the native city, threatening its destruction. Fu Chow is one of the most important cities in the south, having a population of 700,000.

The situation in Amoy is quiet today, but a serious state of affairs is threatened, owing to the scarcity of provisions. Most of the city's supply of junk were captured by pirates in a spectacular raid yesterday. The entire crew of one ship was massacred.

A revolt of troops in the village of Anhai, fifty miles north of this city, is causing trouble there. The soldiers burned the magazines, yamen, and the provincial customs house.

Changsha, Province of Hunan, China, Nov. 1.—Via Shanghai, Nov. 9.—A state bordering on anarchy exists here, owing to the desperate trains of the revolutionist leaders, who took possession of the city a few days ago. The two most prominent rebels are General Chen and General Tang. They had been very jealous of each other's position, but the soldiers had taken up strenuously by their followers.

Foreign women and children have been ordered to leave Shang Tao and a similar order has been sent to Chang Te. Other important cities in the province have joined in this revolt, but in all of them the revolutionists are conducting the government peacefully.

Why Wu Was Killed Tien Tain, Nov. 9.—Details of the murder of General Wu Lu Chong, on November 7, at the military encampment at Shikia Chuang, have been brought in by fugitive railway guards. They say that the Manchou troops suspected General Wu of co-operating with General Chang Shao Tsen in command of the Lanchoo in a plan to attack Peking from the north and south simultaneously. The Manchou who came under a white flag. They believed that he was arranging for a camp with these men.

The camp at Shikia Chuang was started by the revolutionists. The soldiers, Chinese, rushing to the general's camp, found his headless body in the roadway, and documents scattered all around. Railway officials say that they themselves found a printed proclamation ready to post up.

Hong Kong, Nov. 9.—The rebels captured Nam Tao in the Sun-On district without bloodshed and signalled their victory by releasing all the prisoners who had been confined there. (Continued on page 8, first column).

THE ONTARIO ELECTIONS Toronto, Nov. 9.—"I have made no plans for the campaign as yet," said N. W. Rowell yesterday, when asked if he proposed to tour Ontario.

As to an opinion on the reception tendered the liberal platform throughout the country, he declared the country would have to speak for itself in that matter.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—Sir James Whitney premier of Ontario, announced last night that the writs for the general election will be issued on November 17. This will be four days later than intended but the date was set back to allow of the final revision of the voters lists.

WEATHER BULLETIN Issued by authority of the department of Marine and Fisheries. R. F. Stupart, director of meteorological service.

Table with columns: Temperature Past 24 Hours, Max, Min, Dir, Vel. Rows for Ontario, Montreal, Quebec, etc.

Bulletin from Central Office. Forecasts—Moderate winds, fair; Friday, westerly winds, fair at first, showers at night.

Local Weather Report at Noon. Time Ball on Customs building is set half its elevation at 12:45, full at 12:50, and drops at 1 p.m.

Local Weather Report at Noon. Time Ball on Customs building is set half its elevation at 12:45, full at 12:50, and drops at 1 p.m.

Local Weather Report at Noon. Time Ball on Customs building is set half its elevation at 12:45, full at 12:50, and drops at 1 p.m.

Local Weather Report at Noon. Time Ball on Customs building is set half its elevation at 12:45, full at 12:50, and drops at 1 p.m.

Local Weather Report at Noon. Time Ball on Customs building is set half its elevation at 12:45, full at 12:50, and drops at 1 p.m.

MAINE TOWN VERY BADLY SCORCHED

New Fire Engine Prevented Total Destruction of Monson

Monson, Maine, Nov. 9.—A new gasoline fire engine, put in use for the first time, saved the town of Monson from being entirely wiped out by flames last night. As it was, the greater part of the business section of the village was reduced to ashes, half a dozen families made homeless, and it is feared that one man may have lost his life. The loss is estimated at $80,000.

TODAY AT THE SYNOD MEETING IN CAPITAL

Frederick, N. B., Nov. 9.—(Special)—At the Anglican synod this morning considerable time was taken up in consideration of a bill to amend the act relating to the Church of England in New Brunswick. Some minor amendments to the bill as drafted were adopted.

Col. Malby and T. Barclay Boyd were added to the executive committee. Archdeacon Newham presented the statistical returns for the year and W. M. Jarvis presented the report of the board of diocesan.

Women's page; Marquise de Fontenay; early ship news; hints to cook. Financial; latest local and despatch news; deaths.

Editorial; lighter verse; poetry. PAGE FIVE New counties in English society. PAGE SIX Classified advert; despatches. PAGE SEVEN Struggle of mothers for a crown. PAGE EIGHT General news. PAGE NINE Sporting events; amusements. PAGE TEN City news of interest.

THE ZIONIST MOVEMENT Madame Foy arrived in the city this morning from Montreal in the interest of the Zionist movement, which is being carried on among the Hebrew people. She was greeted at the depot by A. Hoyle, who yesterday received a telegram from the Federation of Zionists in Montreal, announcing her coming here. Her plans are indefinite as regards her stay in St. John.

BATTLE LINE. S. S. Trenis, Capt. Sturatt, for Santiago-de-Cuba and Philadelphia, sailed from Colon today.

PROFESSOR LEACOCK AGAIN IN THE CLOUDS

His Latest Has to do With McGill Students and Politics

Montreal, Nov. 9.—(Canadian Press)—To help to attain the millennium, Professor Leacock of McGill last night declared, in the course of a lecture, that all students should go into politics. Not as devout Liberals or staunch Conservatives, but as Canadians. To become too closely bound to party affiliations in the beginning, would stultify their political growth.

If the students must enter a political party, he said, he facetiously remarked, the side to choose at present, would be the Liberal cause, since it is now the broken organization and joining it would show that a young man had a fine spirit.

FOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF C.P.R. IN FIRST AID TO INJURED

Tests to determine the championship of the Atlantic Division among the C. P. R. branches of the St. John Ambulance Association were commenced yesterday and will be continued today. Teams of five men from each class are in the competition for a silver cup and silver medals presented by Wm. Downie, general superintendent of the Atlantic Division.

The examiners are Dr. H. A. Beatty of Toronto, chief surgeon of the company, and S. A. Gidlow of Montreal, general secretary of the C. P. R. St. John Ambulance Association.

The teams from Woodstock and McArthur Junction met at the latter point 3 day and were put through a stiff examination of the work. The St. John and Brownville Junction teams are meeting here this afternoon for the same purpose.

Similar competitions will be held on each of the divisions to determine the standing of the teams. The leaders in each division east of Winnipeg will then meet in competition and those west of Winnipeg will do the same. The final test for the championship of the C. P. R. lines in Canada will finally be held between the representatives of the east and the west.

The men are examined collectively in stretcher work and individually in insensibilities, dislocations, epilepsy and fractures.

MUCH LOOT FROM RICH WIDOW'S HOME

Thieves Get Away in Automobiles After Robbing Brooklyn House

New York, Nov. 9.—Burglars, who employed two automobiles to carry away their loot, robbed the home of Mrs. Frederick Joel Swift, a wealthy widow, of 171 Arlington avenue, Brooklyn, yesterday, worth $7,000. Mrs. Swift, who lives with two maids, was awakened at 2:30 a.m. when the door of her bedroom slammed against a chair. She saw a well-dressed man, carrying a derby hat in one hand and a lighted cigar in the other, standing in the doorway.

"I beg your pardon," he said, "I didn't know anybody was in the room. Then he slipped out of the room, closing the door softly behind him. Mrs. Swift slipped on a rug and ran into the hall. She heard voices on the floor below, followed a few moments later by hurried footsteps and the closing of the rear door in the basement.

Her cries brought the two maids from their rooms and they frightened when they mistook told them burglars had entered the house. Running to the rear door, Mrs. Swift opened the door and saw the rear door just in time to hear the chug chug of an automobile starting on Jerome street. The Swift residence being on a corner.

A hurried search of the house showed that the burglars had removed almost everything of value that could be readily handled. A great quantity of silverware, including two costly candlesticks, a rare bric-a-brac brought from Europe by Mrs. Swift when she returned last spring, and a diamond bracelet, were missing. The reserve from the Liberty avenue station were sent out in response to Mrs. Swift's telephone message. Neighbors of Mrs. Swift told the police that two party affiliations in the beginning, would stultify their political growth.

Detectors found two cigarette butts on a table in the library, and a trail of car-broken organization and joining it would show that a young man had a fine spirit.

Mrs. Swift described the man who entered her bedroom as being short and inclined to stoutness, light brown hair and of gentlemanly appearance.

Los Angeles, Nov. 9.—Forty-five words suffered for Martin Costello to dispose of an estate worth $3,000,000. This was disclosed when his will, written by himself, was ordered for probate. It reads as follows: "The last will and testament of Martin Costello, dated at Los Angeles, Cal., March 20, 1910.

"To my beloved wife, May M. Costello, I give and bequeath all my property, both real and personal, and I appoint her administratrix of same to serve without bond.

"MARTIN COSTELLO." Costello came from Ireland to New York when seven years old. He reached Arizona while still a young man and became a prospector. He later owned stock in or had loaned money to every bank in southern Arizona.

PRISON FOR LIFE Ontario Man in Defence Said Blackhand Threats Were Made Against Him Party Sound, Ont., Nov. 9.—Bruno Valbona, charged with the murder of Frank Manella, was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced by Sir John Boyd to life imprisonment. The defence was self-defence, the prisoner claiming that Manella had made blackhand threats and demands.

STILL TALKING MCBRIDE AS BORDEN CABINET MEMBER

Tells Interviewer in Montreal That He Has Enough at Present to Do at Home

Montreal, Nov. 9.—On the eve of his return to British Columbia, premier Richard McBride is reticent about the reports that he is to join the Borden cabinet. He said last night that he was quite occupied with his work as premier of the government here, and had plenty of work on hand furthering the interests of his own province.

Today he will meet President Hays of the Grand Trunk Pacific on matters concerned with that railroad's work in British Columbia, as well as other capitalists interested in developments in the Pacific province.

THE ONTARIO ELECTIONS Toronto, Nov. 9.—"I have made no plans for the campaign as yet," said N. W. Rowell yesterday, when asked if he proposed to tour Ontario.

As to an opinion on the reception tendered the liberal platform throughout the country, he declared the country would have to speak for itself in that matter.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—Sir James Whitney premier of Ontario, announced last night that the writs for the general election will be issued on November 17. This will be four days later