RIFLE PRACTICE IN THE MILITIA.

There was good shooting at Sussex this week, but the number of militiamen who took part is remarkably small in proportion to the whole force in this province. It would, however, be a matter of less consequence about the men going to this particular competition or to any meeting far from home if they were having good practice at the range in their own neighborhood.

Ranges suitable for the rifle now in use are found in the neighborhood of most corps. St. John, for example, has a range within a few yards of one of the principal streets. The street cars convey almost to the spot the men who desire practice with the rifle. How many members of the St. John battalions are in the habit of going to the range for the purpose of learning to shoot? A surprisingly small number.

On the other hand a surprisingly large proportion are to all interest absolutely inexperienced in the use of the rifle. As a burden to be borne, and an instrument to be handled in an orderly manner at certain drills they know the machine. But they have not learned and are not learning to use the weapon for the purpose intended.

It would appear that there is still an idea that the militia is an ornament for parade purposes. The men are still taught to perform evolutions, and efforts are made to have them present a good appearance when they are in sight of the public. But what efforts are made to teach them to shoot? It is not to be expected that all the militiamen can be made crack shots. But it ought to be expected that men taken into the militia, and supplied with rifles should be taught to use them to some purpose. The other drills might be neglected without great detriment to the force. But the ability to shoot seems to be fundamental.

THE BAPTISTS.

The Baptists of the maritime provinces will meet in convention at Charlottetown tomorrow. In many respects this will be an important meeting. When the convention met last it took steps toward union with the Free Baptists. As both bodies insist upon the independence and responsibility of the congregation, the matter was referred to the churches. From them has come a practically unanimous declaration in favor of union. This applies to both Baptists and Free Baptist congregations in this province. It is now open to the convention to proceed to the next stage. Not long after the Charlottetown convention there will be a meeting of the Free Baptist conference which is to happen in St. John. If the Charlottetown convention decides upon immediate union and the Free Baptists later do the same the two bodies will probably be merged at once, leaving the financial, missionary and educational adjustments to be made afterward.

HOW HISTORIANS DIFFER.

The statement is made by Mr. De Martens, who has a great reputation in international law, that "no country whose territory was not occupied in whole or in part by the enemy ever paid war tribute upon the conclusion of peace." After giving a number of other precedents the learned Russian jurist cites the case of Austria after the war with Prussia in 1866. He is thus reported: "Neither Austria in 1859, after having been defeated by the Franco-Prussians, nor in 1866, after having been beaten by Prussia paid an indemnity."

In Zimmermann's History of Germany we read: "On the 23rd of August (1866) peace was signed between Austria and Prussia at Prague. Bismarck treated Austria with great consideration and demanded only twenty millions of thalers as war indemnity; Wurttemberg had to pay eight millions of gulden; Baden six millions; Hesse-Darmstadt three millions; Bavaria thirty millions of gulden; Saxony paid ten millions of thalers as war indemnity. Prussia received on the whole eighty-two millions."

Earlier in the account of this war the same historian says: "On the 16th of July Frederick sent a telegram to the king of Prussia and the king of Prussia took possession of the city. Frankfurt, on account of the Austrian sympathies had to pay a contribution of six million gulden to Prussia; and on the 19th of July a further sum of nineteen millions to Mantuffel, the successor of Falkenstein. The latter sum was remitted when the hitherto free city became a Prussian city."

WORN SILVER COINS.

It was to be expected that the representatives of the business men throughout the country should demand of the government the redemption of worn silver coins. The refusal to replace these coins with new ones or to accept them at the custom house and other government offices amounts in principle to repudiation. The coin is not in form a promise to pay, like a Dominion note, but it is that essentially. A token coin ought in the nature of the case to be imperishable by ordinary usage, and so far as it falls to meet that law the government which enjoys the seigniorage, and makes large profit out of it, is bound

In equity and ordinary fair play to make it good.

The Maritime Board of Trade favors Maritime union. The Board is a union of the three provinces which emphasizes their common interest. All the reasons in favor of the political union of the three provinces are large and generous. All the influences against it are the selfish interests of individuals or the sectional interests of localities, or the narrow objections of race and creed. But these latter when massed form a powerful aggregation.

It is said that E. M. Macdonald, M. P. for Pictou, will be appointed legal adviser to the transcontinental railway commission. As two of the commissioners are lawyers, and no one of them knows anything about railway building, one would expect them to give legal advice to themselves. It is a pity to throw discredit on their only qualification.—Sun.

A STAR-LIT NIGHT.

A star-lit night. A whispering fragrance starts from yonder clover field. The first dews gleam. The singers of the night with bursting hearts Pour forth their melodies. 'Tis like a dream. Of something longed for in the dreary hours When all the world was chilled by winter's blast. A dream of peace amid the flowers Where sorrow sleeps; a dream come true at last.

Such kind repose must surely be unknown To those whom Envy bids us hold Not to the tyrant trembling on his throne, Nor to the man whose gains defy the law. Can such slight things appeal—and yet far less Their fierce and found endeavors must require Than the sweet spell which banishes distress. The benediction of a star-lit night. —Washington Star.

FIVE MET DEATH IN AUSTRALIAN ALPS.

Two Tourists, a Bavarian Lawyer, a Dresden Student and a Boy Killed in the Falls.

Five Met Death in Austrian Alps. INNISBUCK, Austrian Tyrol, Aug. 17.—No less than five Alpine fatalities were recorded today.

Two tourists from Meran, while hunting for Edelweiss, were killed on the Fugels, in the Zillerthal Alps. While climbing the Hofstaats group a Bavarian lawyer fell and was killed. Four students from Dresden, who were ascending the Hohregg, fell down a precipice. One was killed and the others probably were fatally injured.

Another youth of sixteen was killed on Mount Mythenstock. He fell nine hundred feet, and his body was reduced to a pulp.

WIFE HYPNOTIZED IN BOX WITH REPTILES.

Society Woman Protested Against Exhibition and "Professor" Siedenberger is Arrested.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Aug. 18.—A protest signed by Mrs. E. S. Kelly, wife of a wealthy manufacturer, and other leading society women of the city was presented to the Mayor and Chief of Police to-night urging that action be taken against "Professor" Siedenberger, of New York City, who has his alleged wife under hypnotic influence at Spring Grove Park lying in a coffin shaped box with a lot of reptiles.

The woman was put to sleep Monday and it was announced that she would remain in the coffin all week. The attention of the Humane Society was called to her condition by Mrs. Florence Baldwin, but it was found there were no State laws covering the case. As a result the woman signed a protest urging the arrest of Professor Siedenberger on the grounds that the woman was hypnotized against her will, and that the reptiles crawling over her threaten her life.

The police arrested Siedenberger to-night and the woman was placed in charge of physicians. She will be kept free from the man until she can tell her story.

BLEW IN HALF A MILLION.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—J. T. Rapley, an aged broker, said to have been once worth $500,000, and who recently obtained refuge in the West Chester poor house after having lived up to his fortune, was rescued yesterday by a stylishly dressed woman who said she was his niece. The woman told the officials that she had made arrangements to keep him for the remainder of his life, and that she had no excuse for being in the poor house, said she. "If he had taken care of his money he could be living in a mansion on Fifth avenue."

Bruce Cann, a fireman in the employ of the Sydney and Glace Bay railway, was instantly killed at Glace Bay yesterday morning by a shock from a live wire which he cut, either not knowing it was charged, or if he did, not making connection for the current. There was a heavy voltage in the wire and the shock threw Cann violent from the post to the ground. The electricity hurried about him with a sizzling noise for several seconds before the current was cut off by a fellow employee. The hand which was in contact with the wire was very badly burned. Cann was about twenty-five years of age and belonged to Louisburg.

LOCAL NEWS.

Patrick Tracey of Red Head died suddenly at his home at Red Head on Wednesday. Mr. Tracey was in his sixty-ninth year. He leaves a widow, one son and three daughters. The funeral will be at two o'clock today, coaches leaving Hogan's stable at 12:30 p. m.

Rev. G. M. Campbell will leave next week, probably on Tuesday, for Prince Edward Island, where he will address a number of meetings in the interests of the Canadian Bible Society. He will speak at Alberton, Kensington, Malpeque, Bedouque, Summerside, Tryon, Cornwall, Cardigan, Montague and elsewhere, and will be away from St. John for the greater part of two weeks.

A despatch from Ottawa says: "It is probable that when the present contract with the Allan for the carriage of the mails expires next spring a current principle of paying for mail carriage will be adopted. It is not unlikely that the mails will be given to the boats making the fastest time, as is done in the United States. If this is done, the mails will be carried by both the Allan turnbines and the new twenty-knotters of the Canadian Pacific."

Mrs. G. L. P. Swetka, while looking at her hand a few days ago with an X-ray machine belonging to Dr. Corbett, discovered in it a piece of a needle which had been lodged there for over eighteen years. Physicians at that time had found difficulty in locating the needle and advised Mrs. Swetka to allow it to remain in the hand. It is probable she will now have it removed.

ALL IT NEEDED.

There is more real oxygen in a liquid form in the "solution" than in any other preparation of a similar nature. As a prompt cure in the killing of all inside germs of throat, lungs, stomach and bowels it has no equal when coupled with "Celery King," the famous laxative. That the stringent Ozone needed a tonic of this nature to secure the best results was so apparent that the Public Drug Co., of Bridgeburg, Ont., after thorough drugist a free package of "Celery King" with every fifty-cent or one dollar bottle of "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)."

WOMAN TRAMPING FROM THE SOUTH.

Sixty Years Old, Cheery and Stout, She Is on Her Way to Canada.

(N. Y. Herald.) On her way from Creston, W. Va., to Ottawa, Canada, and having walked from West Virginia to this city, Mrs. Martha Rafe, sixty years old, a stout, cheery, motherly looking woman, applied at the Department of Outdoor Four yesterday for transportation the rest of the way to Canada. She was evidently ready to walk the remainder of the distance if need be, for when Superintendent Meeks told her to wait a while till he could attend to her case she misunderstood him and started out of the office, saying:—

"Well, if you ails can't do anything for me, I guess I can walk to Ottawa, same as I walked here from West Virginia."

Superintendent Meeks stopped her, and when he heard her story, he said he would interest the United Charities in her case and see if transportation to Ottawa could not be given her.

According to Mrs. Rafe she formerly lived with relatives in Ottawa, but went to Creston, W. Va., four years ago, to obtain papers and other evidence that would enable her to claim a pension as a soldier's widow, her husband having served in the civil war. She failed in her efforts, and says her relatives in Creston told her they could shelter her no longer.

Wendall F. Farris, son of Hon. L. P. Farris, has decided to discontinue his course in engineering at the U. N. B., and will take up the study of law. Mr. Farris will enter one of the law offices in the city and study in the St. John Law School.

DIED ON LOVER'S GRAVE.

HAMBURG, Aug. 18.—Hildegard Gebeauer, a pretty milliner, committed suicide on her birthday by poisoning herself at her lover's grave. The latter, an engineer named Alfred Snyder, was to have married her on August 12. A few days previous he contracted blood-poisoning and died in terrible agony. The girl Hildegard was overwhelmed with grief at his untimely death and refused to take food, looking herself in her bedroom. She was found lying dead at her lover's newly made grave, with a bottle containing a small quantity of poison at her side. In her reticule was found a sheet of paper containing well written verses to the effect that as this world now became a desert to her she had determined as Orpheus sought out his Eurydice to wander until she could meet the soul of her lover.
