

QUART OF BLOOD SAVES MOTHER'S LIFE

Ben Volunteers as Woman Was Dying and She Quickly Recovers.

WYOMING, N. Y., July 29.—Mrs. Joseph Derrick, of Rome, N. Y., is alive today because her son William Derrick, 28 years old, gave nearly a quart of his blood for transfusion to her veins last night when she was in a state of collapse following a severe hemorrhage. A physician told the members of Mrs. Derrick's family that the only hope of saving her life lay in blood transfusion.

William Derrick promptly offered to give the quantity required and bring beside his mother, the operation was performed that sent his blood flowing through the dying woman's veins. She quickly recovered consciousness, and today had so far improved as to warrant the belief that she will speedily recover. Her son suffered no bad effects from his sacrifice beyond being greatly weakened.

PERSIAN NATIONALIST LEADER MURDERED

Was the Foremost Orator of the Recent Parliament—Crime Supposed to Have Been Committed by Order of the Shah.

TEHRAN, July 29.—Sayyid Muhammad, the nationalist leader and the foremost orator of the recent parliament, called the "Persian Mirza," has been assassinated at Hamadan, which is about 160 miles from Tehran. Sayyid Muhammad went to Hamadan after leaving the British legation where he had taken refuge. Prior to this he was among those captured by the Cossacks after the fight which raged around the parliament buildings in Tehran during the latter part of June. It is supposed that the deed was committed by agents of the Shah.

FIENDISH ATTACK WAS MADE ON A WOMAN

Boston Into Insensibility, Mouth Filled With Poison, and Mouths Placed as to Set Fire to Her Clothing.

HOT SPRINGS ARK., July 30.—Mrs. M. Pettit, was attacked yesterday by a man, who after binding her with ropes, thrust a rag saturated with arsenic into her mouth, bound her to a bed with ropes, and then set a number of matches in her mouth so that they would become ignited if she moved her head. The man, who was later arrested, was charged with the murder of Pettit. She had been bound and gagged her husband returned from work and released her. On being released she fell into a faint and is now in a precarious condition.

SEASON OF GRAND OPERA.

Mr. Walter M. Magee, of Boston, is going the Maritime Provinces in the interests of the Boston Opera Company. This splendid organization of musical talent, which has a continental reputation, will give performances in St. John, Halifax, and Sydney within the next few weeks. In this company there are three leading sopranos, three leading tenors, three leading contraltos, four leading baritones and three basses, a number of capable singers for the lesser roles, a chorus of forty trained voices, and an orchestra of twenty musicians, twelve of whom carried by the company are noted soloists from the Boston Symphony and other prominent musical organizations.

Among the leading artists appear the names of Miss Louise LeBaron, Mr. Francis J. Boyle, Mr. Daniel Cantori, Mr. Harry Davies, Miss Helen Darling, Mr. Tom Green, Mr. James Gilbert, Miss Lois Hall, Miss Josephine Iselin, Miss LeBaron, the principal contralto, has been highly praised by the musical critics.

The people of St. John, Halifax and Sydney are to be congratulated upon receiving a visit from such a talented musical organization.

A GUILTY CONSCIENCE.

"Sawyer!" bawled the conductor as his train approached the town of that name.

"Don't care if you did," said the young swain who had just kissed his girl. "We are going to be married next month!"—Harper's Weekly.

MAKING A NOISE.

There is a new saying, "If you want to catch a mouse make a noise like a cheese."

The counterfeiter tries to make a noise like money and a Christian, and the business colleges here and in the far west are trying to make a noise like the Currier Business University, Ltd.—all are paying the highest compliment to a good thing.

ORIGIN OF YANKEE PRONUNCIATION.

It was these historic Suffolk families who in the seventeenth century took over with them to America the peculiar Suffolk pronunciation out of which has developed the modern seminary Yankee twang.—London Spectator.

NEW YORK COPS KILLING ALL COLLARLESS DOGS

In Spite of the S. P. C. A.'s Protests—This Is Being Done for the Public Safety.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Acting under orders from the Board of Health, sixty policemen have been busy for a few days killing every dog found at large without a muzzle, according to a statement today by Walter Bensei, City Sanitary Superintendent.

Mr. Bensei said the orders to the police were to make no exceptions, but they were instructed to take every precaution to avoid wounding pedestrians by stray shots. The fact that the dog was licensed affords no protection under this order, which results from several cases of rabies in June. At that time an order was issued to kill all unmuzzled and unleashed dogs, but its operation was suspended owing to the protest of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. A legal opinion sustained the action of the health officials and the order was put into effect without the knowledge of the S. P. C. A. The officers of the society claim that the owners of dogs have a right to redeem them when they are found running at large and taking measures to prevent the slaughter.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE DREYFUS CASE A GREAT PICTURE

The crowds that saw the great French military picture, The Dreyfus Case, at the Nickel yesterday afternoon and evening were amazed at the truly wonderful triumph of the Pathé Freres, the Paris photographers. The historic truthfulness of the characters, scenes and plots gave the picture a usual realism and few could realize it was a rehearsed play, though an exact re-enactment of the original episode. The picture of the piece created indignation among onlookers and the final but belated justice made all happy. A second good picture was the Review of the Russian Army with its attendant pictures of church and state. King Alexander's review of a "Sunny Fair-tale," proved a delightful change from the heavier subjects.

Today Miss Foley will sing "Take a Trip to Luna With Me," and by special request Mr. Gurney will render "See-See."

AT THE CEDAR.

Have you seen Professor Cayden? This was the question on the lips of all who attended that ever popular house The "Cedar" last night. This wonderful man certainly held the vast audience spellbound last night by his wonderful performance. Lovers of the mysterious must be sure to pay a visit during the rest of his engagement, which concludes on Saturday. The picture are of the usual high class, "A Little Music" being one continual success from start to finish yesterday. The "Cedar" is a splendid drama. Percy Sayce the new vocalist has sung himself into popularity, making a great hit with "Clay Ann." This singer is one of the best baritones in the country and all lovers of good singing must hasten to hear him. There is no increase in the price for being the admission. Big special matinee for the young on Saturday next. A 50c show for a nickel.

HAPPY HALF HOUR.

The same old B. R. O. was the rule at the Happy Half Hour yesterday, and the new show was as promised—a good one. Holmes and Buchanan sang that great favorite, By Your Side, as a duet number, and as usual encores were demanded. The Grand Canal at Venice is one of the most interesting pictures yet shown. Beautifully full the picture is carried the full length of the canal—obtaining at the same time a splendid view of the many magnificent buildings for which Venice is noted, and views of its famous monuments and bridges. I Won $100.00 is a comedy drama picture, and Sammy's Idea, and The Leaky Glue Pot are both laugh producers. Today Prof. Titus will sing Dear Heart, and Harry LeRoy will sing If I Should Fall in Love For You.

EXCELLENT PICTURES AT THE UNIQUE.

Some of the best pictures ever shown in this city are now on at the Unique. The feature film is entitled, "Held by Bandits," and is one of the best and most interesting male-drama ever produced. It tells of the thrilling rescue of an American girl, who is captured by bandits while camping in the Alps with a party of tourists. She was the favor of a daughter of one of the brigands, who informed her father. Her lover finally rescues her after a sharp fight, in which all the bandits are killed.

Another good picture is called, "Honey is the Best Policy." A poor girl whose mother is ill and without money finds a purse; she is tempted to purchase medicine for her mother, but after entering the drug store her conscience smites her and she takes the purse home; she notices an ad. in the paper, offering a reward for the return of the purse, and sends her little brother to the address given, with a note. He returns with the owner of the purse, and the lady supplies the sick woman with all the necessities of life.

The other picture is a roaring comedy, "Dancing Legs." Do not miss hearing Miss Outous in her new song, Will Harrison is also singing especially good.

Wm. McCuskey.

Wm. McCuskey, a young man residing at 117 St. Patrick street, is lying dangerously ill and is not expected to recover. He is a popular young man with a host of friends.

The American yacht Emrose.

The American yacht Emrose with a party of tourists is lying off the east side ferry floats and is attracting considerable attention. She is a beautiful craft.

Give Your Washerwoman Fels-Naptha, Says Anty Drudge.

Mrs. Gosper—"Goodness, but Mrs. Verrich must have a lot of work in that big house. I've heard she had four women doing the washing."

Mrs. Cottager—"I have had more than a dozen doing my washing, though only one at a time."

Anty Drudge—"If you bought Fels-Naptha soap, you could keep your washerwoman longer or do the washing yourself. Washing is a small job for any woman if she uses Fels-Naptha in cold or lukewarm water, and lets it take the place of boiling and hard rubbing."

Dirt is the home of germs. You gather them in the dust that settles on your clothes, in the mud of the streets, from soiled car seats and in many other places. You want to kill these germs in the weekly wash, or they may cause trouble. Fels-Naptha soap is a germicide. With it, boiling is not necessary either to destroy germs or wash the clothes. In cold or lukewarm water, Fels-Naptha makes short work of dirt, and disease germs cannot live in the same tub. Be sure and use Fels-Naptha soap the Fels-Naptha way—no hot water.

THE RESTAURANT SLANG HAS REACHED ITS LIMIT

Walters in the cheaper American restaurants possess a vocabulary of slang and a stock of stories replete with humor. There is an old story of a waiter who shouted out his orders in such quaint terms that a traveler determined to battle the man's ingenuity. The waiter, however, was equal to the occasion, so when the traveler ordered two eggs which were to be scrambled and served on toast, the waiter translated the order to "Adam and Eve on a raft. Shipwreck them!"

"Two customers, a man and a woman who visited a cheap restaurant in New York were startled when they saw their orders and heard the waiter in turn shout them through a small window to the cook.

STRANGE PARLOR.

"Give me two eggs fried on one side and three slices of crisp, broiled breakfast bacon," ordered the man.

"Two cakes slugged in the face and three equals crisp," howled the waiter, while the woman looked astounded. "And you, madame," said the waiter, innocent of creating any sensation.

"I'd like a steak well done covered with onions," she replied.

"One steak crumpled and suffocated," again yelled the waiter.

"What would you like to drink?" asked the waiter.

The woman ordered a cup of coffee, and the waiter translated the order to "Two customers, a man and a woman who visited a cheap restaurant in New York were startled when they saw their orders and heard the waiter in turn shout them through a small window to the cook.

INVALID DISHEES.

"Did you ever see a Jew come in," said a veteran waiter in another restaurant, "go to a side table, and whisper that he wants pork chops? This is what we call the cook: 'Forbidden fruit, put out the lights and chase the Jews.'"

At one of the health resorts in the United States, persons in declining health would ask for invalid dishes. This is what we call the cook: "Forbidden fruit, put out the lights and chase the Jews.""

In the very cheapest class of restaurant "buddies" is the waiter's term for a small steak.

Among other terms that may be heard any day in these restaurants are the following:

"Four on two, right and left." Two orders of eggs fried on both sides, placed on toast.

"Two cakes and a pig." Pork and eggs.

"Shorty Brown in swimming." Short ribs with brown gravy.

"Stack of blankets." Wheat cakes.

"Two chickens on a hill." Chicken croquettes.

"Floating in the ocean." Poached eggs.

SARCASTIC COMMENT.

One of the regular customers of a city restaurant observed for several mornings that, when serving the dishes, a new waiter would invariably get his fingers in the meat and vegetable dishes. When the aforesaid waiter came around to the table one morning the customer gave the following order, supplemented with some sarcastic comment:

SACKVILLE FIRE

gether with other foundry buildings, save the sand shop, were in flames. It was not long before the hotel barn and in turn, the hotel itself, and old station were also masses of flames. Before the hotel caught, the house was practically full. The guests had been awakened and gotten out in safety, though one or two, becoming excited, were in danger for a time. Mrs. Dixon, the aged mother of A. W. Dixon, had to be carried from the burning building by her son. When the old station caught it was seen that nothing could be done to save it, and all energies were turned toward saving the new structure. Fortunately the men were successful in this, though the west end of the building was quite badly gutted. Employees of the road were able to save valuable papers which were in the old station.

This morning there is nothing but a mass of smoking ruins where yesterday were a dozen buildings. One very severe loss among many was the total destruction of all foundry patterns. As yet it is impossible to present a definite statement of the monetary loss. Mr. Fisher informed the Tribune that foundry plant, etc., was insured for between fifty and sixty thousand dollars, the risks being in several companies. This, he said, would not nearly meet the loss. In addition to the buildings there was destroyed a very large quantity of finished stock and also a quantity of raw material as well. Included in the latter was two carloads of steel. The insurance on the Intercolonial Hotel property is understood to have been but about two thousand dollars. This, of course, would not nearly cover Dixon's loss. All hotel furniture, save the piano, was destroyed.

The chief owners of the Enterprise Foundry are Emerson & Fisher, St. John.

ROOMS AND BOARD—Under new management, 40 Leinster street. 80-7-2 new.

THE SIMPLE NEGRO.

In a country hotel in the southern States, a very simple negro waiter was employed.

"Give me one of your eggs?" asked the negro of one of a party of travellers at the breakfast table.

"Try one egg on one side and one on the other side," he answered.

The negro went to the kitchen, returning in a few moments.

"Excuse me, boss," he inquired, "but how was it wanted them eggs?"

"You fool, I said I wanted one egg fried on one side, and another fried on the other side," shouted the traveller, apparently losing his temper.

Back to the kitchen went the negro. Sounds of the noise and confusion then took place in the kitchen for five minutes reached the ears of the travellers. Finally the negro returned.

"Boss, won't you please tell me what you wanted them eggs?"

"I told you I wanted one egg fried on one side and another one fried on the other side. Now, do you understand that?"

"Yes," explained the negro in a tone of dire distress. "I understand you perfectly, but boss, I can't make that ignorant mulatto cook understand it."

MORE HORSES ARRIVE FOR FREDERICTON MEET

Alntree Is Going Some—Port Elgin Bunch Expected Tomorrow.

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 30.—A large string of horses arrived yesterday under the care of Thomas Raymond. The list includes Miss Leith, Terrace Queen, Laura Merrill, Cecil Mack and Idle Moments. The Port Elgin contingent are expected today or tomorrow. The track is in excellent condition and if the weather prevails the races should be among the best ever held here. Mr. Fox yesterday tried out a number of his racers, Alntree going the mile in 1:14-4.

"Yes," said the fair young girl.

"Everybody says I'm just the picture of mamma."

"Well," replied the gallant youth, "you're certainly a very flattering picture."

SARDINE DISPUTE REACHES ANOTHER STAGE

(Beacon.)

Matters reached an acute stage in the sardine-fishing business on Monday last, when representatives of the Western Union entered complaints at the custom house against syndicate boatmen who have taken fish across the line without entering or clearing as the law directs. As a result several boats have been placed under the customs ban and are liable to seizure. It is a matter of regret that this action should have been found necessary to those who know anything about the sardine business know that it cannot be carried on successfully if boats have to enter and clear every trip. A representative of the Western Union told the Beacon that they regretted having to take this action but the packing combination of Beasport and Lunenburg were evidently determined upon smashing the union and they were compelled to move as a matter of self protection.

It may be that the members of the union will ask the Fishery Department to rescind the regulation recently made with respect to the closing of weirs on this occasion as well as some others of value were brought about through the medium of the Union and the benefits accruing therefrom have been enjoyed by the non-union men to the disadvantage of those who were instrumental in securing them.

ARGONAUTS DEFEATED.

HEMELBY, July 30.—The International Olympic regatta was continued here today and the Leander crew beat the Canadian Argonauts, after a fine and hard race, by a length in the third heat of the championship eight.
