OBITUARY.

Mrs. Ann Lemmon. Many friends will learn with sincere regret of the death on Saturday of Mrs. Ann Lemmon, who, since the death of her late husband, Andrew Lemmon, had been residing with her son, William J. Lemmon, of 50 Millidge avenue. Mrs. Lemmon, who was in her eighty-ninth year, formerly resided in Johnston, Queens county, and leaves to mourn one son, William J., and one daughter, Mrs. Florence Gray, of Worcester, Mass. She was a member of Portland Methodist church, and had many friends in this city and elsewhere.

SMALLER AMOUNT OF N. B. SPRUCE USED

Alfred Dobell and Co., Liverpool, in their timber report, dated July 1st, say:
A quiet but fairly steady tone governed the market during the past month.
Canadian Woods—Waney Board and Square Pine—There was a small export into Manchester. A light demand existed. Oak was only in small request. Rock Elm—A parcel arrived in Manchester. Birch—Logs—The export was from Quebec on contract. Prices were steady. Planks—A moderate demand prevailed at unchanged quotations. Pine Deals and Boards—Stocks are more than ample for the limited enquiry.
New Brunswick and Nova Scotia Spruce Deals—There has been an import of 2,000 standards in excess of this time last year, while the consumption was less by 2,200 standards. Stock is too heavy.

CHILDREN ON A UNITED STREET TOO PROTESTANTISM MUCH AT NIGHT IS NEEDED

Rev. Ralph J. Haughton draws lesson from shooting of Policeman O'Leary—Religion only solution.

"There are eight boys in the jail here tonight and the reason could, no doubt, be traced to lack of proper home life and the neglect of religious teaching," said Rev. Ralph J. Haughton in the Congregational Church last evening during his sermon on "Lessons from the shooting of Officer O'Leary." Rev. Mr. Haughton deplored the tendency of the times and pointed out that religion and a knowledge of God were the only adequate remedies for the general craving for pleasure.

"There is a general tendency here for social reform but social reform without religion and without God will miss the mark. The establishment of playgrounds is a good thing but religion is also needed. Good playgrounds do a great amount of good in keeping children off the street but the Christian solution of the boy and girl problem is the only one."
The preacher spoke of the general tendency of people to look for pleasure. Men were becoming self-centered and lacking in their conception of the Almighty God. Where there was no vision of God people perished. The worship of Mammon was taking the place of the worship of God. Mammon was back of the present day troubles. Sunday amusements were being provided because there was money to be made. Licenses and books were being sold because there was money in them. Gambling and the liquor business were being carried on because there was money in them. In order to right things it was necessary for the churches to proclaim the existence of Almighty God.

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR WOOD VISITS BOY SCOUTS IN CAMP NEAR CHIPMAN

Spent Saturday in inspecting Camp, and complimented the Scouts on their good work.

Lieut.-Governor Wood made a special trip into Chipman on Friday to inspect the Boy Scouts there. The Boy Scouts went into camp near Chipman on July 4th and will remain in camp till July 18th. They are in charge of Scout Master Hamilton of Chipman with Scout Master Turner also of Chipman as second in command. When Governor Wood arrived at the camp the boys lined up for inspection, and marched past. His Honor was much pleased with the bearing of the boys and everything he saw about the camp. After the inspection he briefly addressed the boys, complimenting them on their showing, and telling them that he hoped the general council would be held on the grounds on which they were camped, and that next year the annual meeting of the provincial council would be held at the camp. He also expressed the hope that next year there would be 300 or 400 boys in camp. He spoke of the work of the provincial association and said it was planned to have all the districts in the province organized by next year.

LA TOUR MILL BURNED

St. John Milling Co., Ltd., suffered to extent of about $35,000—Origin of fire unknown.

The La Tour mill of the St. John Milling Co., Ltd., at the head of Rodney wharf, West St. John, was badly gutted by fire yesterday morning. The big plant was valued at $35,000 and it was thought yesterday that much of the valuable machinery in the mill had been seriously damaged. Although the injury to the machinery could not be estimated until after a critical examination it was considered that the total loss would be well up to $20,000. It was thought that $5,000 or $5,000 would cover the damage to the building and the injury to the machinery would make up the remainder of the damage. Besides the building and machinery the store rooms were filled with grain, about 12,000 bushels in all. The fire started in the early morning and was extinguished about eight o'clock by Policeman Watson and he sent in an alarm from box 216. The West Side apparatus made a quick response but the flames had made considerable headway and when the firemen opened the doors to get at the seat of the fire the flames burst through the roof. Policeman Watson immediately went to the stables at the rear of the burning mill and after considerable difficulty succeeded in getting the horses to places of safety. He then after the first contingent of firemen had arrived another alarm was sent in from box 214 and the whole West Side equipment was soon fighting the flames. In the early stages the fire made such headway that it seemed almost impossible to save other buildings near the mill and aid was requested from the city fire companies. An engine and hose with several companies of men were sent over and through the combined efforts of the West Side and East Side men the flames were kept in their ill structure.

At times the flames seemed on the point of spreading but the firemen kept a close watch and soon had the flames under control but it was late in the afternoon before the fire was all out. The fire evidently started on the northern side of the mill but Mr. Fowler said yesterday that there was nothing there to start a blaze. There had been no fire in the mill building and the electric motor which had been removed within the last few weeks. Mr. Fowler was at a loss to account for the origin of the fire. The mill had been shut down since Thursday on account of some machinery being damaged in installing a mechanical stoker, and no fire had been under the boilers since that time.

The mill was the largest in Eastern Canada and had a capacity of 2,000 bushels of corn a day. It was also capable of turning out about 700 bushels of oats and barley. Whole wheat flour was also produced. Mr. Fowler said the stock in the mill including the unground grain as well as the manufactured flour would be valued at about $20,000 and it would be practically all destroyed. He said that the fire was rather disastrous for the company on account of the large number of orders on hand. He thought that the plant would be rebuilt on the same site.

The annual outing of the staff of F. A. Dykeman & Co. took place on Saturday afternoon. At 2.15 the good ship Ogistob, with twenty-five of the employees on board, left for a trip up the Kennebecasis to Mr. Dykeman's summer residence. The afternoon being fine, every minute of the journey was enjoyed by all. Arriving at their destination the picnicers took charge of the grounds of their host and made him and Mrs. Dykeman share in the hearty good time. Automobile rides, target shooting, baseball (with emphasis on the base) and other amusements were indulged in. The performances of some of the amateurs would make some of the professional sportsmen stand aghast. The scores and handicaps of the games were not made up in time for present notice, but the success of the different events will be announced later.

At 5.30 the picnicers gathered around the table on the beautiful lawn in front of the residence and enjoyed the many good things provided by the hostess. The many speeches brought forth much laughter. Then all gathered around a big, cheery, open fireplace when singing and speeches were in order. The members of the staff expressed their appreciation of the outing given them by Mr. and Mrs. Dykeman, Mr. Dykeman making a happy response. The enjoyable time was brought to a close only too soon, when the happy picnicers returned to the city by train.
