office, act under the superintendence and control of the Board of Directors, and shall give such security as may be thought sufficient by them. He shall receive from the funds of the Society a salary, which is to be in full for his services, not exceeding $——.

10. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to receive all moneys of the Society from the Secretary and Storekeepers, and give receipts therefor in books to be kept for that purpose,—pay out said money only on orders signed by at least two of the Directors, and countersigned by the Secretary, for all sums not exceeding three hundred dollars; and, in no case, to pay an order to any Director, unless the order presented by the Director, shall have been signed by a majority of Directors,—keep an accurate account of all the funds so received and paid out, which account shall be open to the inspection of the Directors, or any of them, when desired,—close his accounts, and pass them, at the end of every quarter, to the Finance Committee, for their inspection, —report to the Society every quarter what money has been received, and what paid out, and the balance in treasury: and, for the faithful discharge of his duties, the Treasurer shall give bonds as the Directors shall approve. He shall receive from the funds of the Society, a salary, which is to be in full for his services, not exceeding $——.

11. It shall be the duty of the Board of Directors to transact all affairs of the Society,—examine and pass upon all bills,—have a supervision over all expenses,—hire, discharge and superintend the storekeepers and attendants,—assign to any such officers and persons such duties and salaries as they think fit,—regulate and fix the per centage or prices on all goods, for the guidance of the storekeepers,—draw all orders on the Treasurer,—take an account of stock, and