

Q100. - Where was SHIELDS?

A100. - He was out.

Q101. - What happens from there?

A101. - I give Sgt JOHNSON my two blankets and start to undress. SHIELDS comes in and goes to his own bed. Sgt JOHNSON gets into the bed on the floor, I lie down beside him and Sgt JOHNSON pulls the blankets over us.

Q102. - There is a light on all the time?

A102. - Yes, on the table.

Q103. - Could SHIELDS see everything that was going on?

A103. - I think so.

Q104. - The accused pulled the blankets up and put his hand on your penis. You throw the blankets back and made some remark?

A104. - Yes sir, I made the remark that it was too hot.

Q105. - Then you started the call?

A105. - Yes, sir.

Q106. - How many feet was SHIELDS away?

A106. - About ten feet, sir.

Q107. - Then SHIELDS came over?

A107. - Yes, he came over.

Q108. - You then make a remark, "Sgt JOHNSON, that will be enough"?

A108. - Yes, sir.

Q109. - Then what happened?

A109. - I got up and walked out.

Q110. - What did the accused say?

A110. - Nothing.

Q111. - Where was SHIELDS?

A111. - In his own bed.

Q112. - Then what happened?

A112. - I left the Battalion Orderly Room and slept in the Mess Hall on a table.

CROSS-EXAMINED BY THE DEFENCE

Q113. - Have you been examined by a Psychiatrist?

A113. - Yes, sir.

Q114. - Have you been classed as slightly Neurotic?

A114. - Yes sir, I have been classed that way.
