During the greater part of the month of July the weather has been so oppressive that sewing, many other duties, has seemed impossible.

One of the most convenient to have is a simple, attractive, backless, machine-made dress, which can be worn out on to it, and one can enjoy the fresh air and breeze that is blowing. All patching and darning also can be done just as well outside as in the house.

A dress accessory which has lately been quite popular is the new shirred skirt. This can be hemmed out on a verandah with-even the aid of sewing machines.

This simple, practical garment, No. 9910, while it is really a dress, may do duty equally well as a dress during the hot weather. The body and sleeve are cut in one and the fullness over the back is held in place with a belt. It may be cut in round or square neck. Five sizes: 8, 4, 6, 8 and 10 years.

Another charming frock for mother's girl is shown in design 9918. This model is especially suitable for a dress for special occasions and would be pretty made from cream white crepe voile. The blouse waist has long drop shoulders to which the sleeve portions are joined. The right front is shaded and laps over the left in closing. The skirt, slightly full, has plaits at the seams. Four sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years.

Separate skirts are always in fashion, and as fall approaches they will be worn even more during the summer months. With the skirt, of course, we must have odd blouses to wear with it. A neat combination is shown herewith in design 9922-9920.

The skirt is easy to develop and the waist will look well in colored style, with long sleeve and revers finish, or in the more dressy mode depicted on the figure view. This design calls for two patterns, 10c for each. The waist is cut in five sizes: 34 to 42 inches bust measure, and the skirt in sizes from 22 to 32 inches waist measure.

A simple but stylish dress for misses and small women is shown in design 9908. The skirt has simple lines, with a slight fullness at the belt that may be plaited or gathered. The right side of the waist and skirt is lapped over the left. Notice that the waist back and sleeve are cut in one and join the front at the deep armcye and underarm. A shaped collar trims the low V neck edge. The pattern is cut in four sizes: 14, 16, 17 and 18 years.
