

Illustrated Lessons are Remembered Longest

THE EYE is the quickest way to the mind. There is no other way in which lessons can be made so plain, and a lasting impression made upon your pupils' minds than through blackboard illustrations given simultaneously with your instruction.

Once you know the little secrets to successful illustrating, you will find your teaching as well as the response of the class improved to a great extent.

"Blackboard Sketching" by Whitney shows you how this talent can be easily developed to assist you in teaching reading, arithmetic, history, geography and nature. 29 full page plates cover all these subjects. You should have this book. It will be sent by return mail, post paid, on receipt of the small price, 65c.

Other "worth while" Educational Books are:

"What and How": A book that solves the Busy Work Problem for the Primary teacher.

Price, post paid $2.00,

"Raphia and Reed Weaving": A practical book for Primary and elementary classes.

Price, post paid 55c.

"Silhouettes to Cut in School": Fascinating work; shows simple paper cutting of characters in well known stories.

Price, post paid 85c.
