a different race from the Danes. We find, again, that France sends forth her fraternization for all insurgents, but nobody accepts it, but the Italians, and hardly they. In a word, the Teutonic and Sclavonic Races will give no encouragement to France, nor permit her to interfere in their affairs.

Of the three great Races, the Slavonic, hardly known in history, till within two centuries, is the most powerful in positive strength of natural resources, but inferior in Art and Culture. In the first particular, the Teutonic is far superior to either the Latin or the Sclavonic. Take, for example. England and Germany : there can be no doubt that they are intellectually and morally superior to the rest of Europe. But, there is no doubt either, that all Europe might be overrun by the hardy Northern nations which lie beyond the Elbe.

Re The following sketch of Mr. Smith of our agents. O'Brien, will be read with interest at the present moment :---

"Mr. William Smith O'Brien, born in 1803, and a graduate of Trinity College, Cambridge is the second son of Sir Edward O'Brien, Bart and younger brother of Sir Lucius O'Brien, M. P., and Lord-Lieutenant of the county of Clare. When first returned for the family borough of Ennis, in 1830, Mr. O'Brien was a Tory, and as such opposed the late Mr. O'Connell in the memorable Clare Election. He subsequently became a Whig, then a Radical, and in 1843 he first joined the ranks of Repeal. Since 1838 he has represented the County of Limerick. On the last occasion he succeeded in defeating Mr. Caleb struct all moral and social improvement. If it Powell, the Old Ireland candidate, by 24 votes. Mr. O'Brien fought a duel with the late Mr. Thomas Steele. Mr. O'Brien never was wealthy, but was always considered as heir in prospect to the Dowager Lady O'Brien, who possesses an income of £5000 per annum."

STIMMARY.

All fears of an actual outbreak in Ireland are at an end; though, alas, there are no indications that the misery which overhangs that unhappy land is averted. The true source of its misery must be looked for in the social, rather than the political condition of the people, and it is manifest that the reckless political agitation of which they are the victims, must, both in its immediate distraction and its resulting animosities, only obwere conceivable that the most enlightened and best governed country in the world could be subjected to such a course of agitation for a few years, the necessary result would be degradation and woe. How much more must a people already steeped in superstition and ignorance be kept in misery by such appliances. The fear of insurrection is at an end, but the irritation of the people has only settled down to bitterness and gloom, while the desperate men who fanned the flame must waste in hopeless exile, the lives and the world. It remains for the apostles of a pure gospel and evangelized education to step into the breach. Painful and perilous the task will be, but there is no other remedy, save the gradual elevation of the Irish character, by the influence of the voluntary and self sacrificing labours of the missionary and schoolmaster. The Christian world must not wait for the removal of ers of the Society, and have their articles entered that prime obstacle, the Irish Establishment : will be to late. SYDENHAM, OWEN'S SOUND, C. W. August 25, 1848.

My DEAR BROTHER INGLIS. As you are aware, I proceeded from the formation of the Aylmer church, on a short Missionary tour through a few of the Northern Townships of this province. My first object was to reach Goderich, the boasted metropolis of the Huron District, but as my most favourable impressions concerning MR. HENDERSON, in a letter dated May 23rd, it both as a place and as a field of labour for the Baptists, says, "Since my last, I know not of anything in were by no means sanguine, I will at once dispense with my visit there. After preaching there twice and a little refreshing intercourse with three sound Baptists at whose hands I received the warmest reception, I resumed my journey and made the best of my way to this place, a distance from Gode rich of not less than 165 miles, though if there were a direct road, it would not exceed 75 miles.
