

"THE NATIONAL" CELEBRATES FIRST BIRTHDAY THIS SUMMER

"The National," Canada's great transcontinental train, passing through Cochrane, Northern Ontario

In July of this year "The National," Canada's great transcontinental train, will be one year old. Its birthday is on the 13th of the month, but the remarkable success which this train has enjoyed since its first run proves that there is very little in the popular superstition that the 13th is an unlucky natal day.

The inauguration of through, fast service over this new route between Eastern and Western Canada marked an important stage in the Dominion's development. A vast area of productive land, of great scenic beauty, hitherto without modern transportation facilities, was made easy of access, whilst a new trail was created for travellers. Three railways combined to make the passenger service over this highway the equal of that offered anywhere on this continent. The finest equipment was placed in the service from its inception, while the smooth, straight and level roadbed embodied all that had been learnt in three-quarters of a century by those who build our railways. The greatest travel comfort was therefore assured both by day and night.

On both its east and westbound journeys the train bears the appropriate title of "The National." It operates between Toronto and Winnipeg over the lines of the Canadian Government, the Grand Trunk and the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railways, known as "The Transcontinental Line," providing accommodation that meets the demands of the most exacting. "The National" has increased in popularity with each month it has been in service, for the new route between the East and the West appeals strongly to the imagination of the traveller.

"The National" leaves Winnipeg at 5.15 p.m. on Sundays, Tuesdays and Thursdays, and Toronto on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10.45 p.m. The distance between Winnipeg and Toronto is 1,256 miles, and this is covered in 42 hours. The features of the route include the famous Timagami district, the rich Cobalt territory, and the virgin country, started with lakes, opened up by the Transcontinental Line in Northern Ontario.

A WONDERFUL LAKELAND.

There are over one thousand lakes in Algonquin Park, situated 2000 feet above the sea. Pure bracing air, good fishing, unreserved canoe trips, beautiful camp sites, and excellent hotel life 285 miles west of Montreal, 169 miles west of Ottawa and 205 miles north of Toronto, and is reached by the Grand Trunk Railway. Interesting illustrated literature telling you all about it sent free on request to H. E. Thompson, C. P. A., or C. E. Horning, D. P. A., Toronto, Ont.

TRENTON STREETS A DISGRACE.

The main streets of Trenton are a disgrace to a town one-quarter her size. Take for instance the Belleville Road. It is in such a state that it is hardly safe to travel. And it is no wonder that travellers make the statement that Trenton has the worst streets of any town they visit. Streets such as these hurt our town and it is to be hoped that our city fathers will do everything possible to effect a speedy improvement. Front street looks very much as though it had been struck by a cyclone, having suffered severely from the recent fire. There is no reason why it should remain so, casting a reflection on the whole business section of our town. Clean it up, build it up and make it as before a credit to Trenton.—Courier.

Beatrice Redpath

ALTHOUGH Canada is still too young a nation to have a literature distinctly Canadian, she is producing to-day writers of such merit as to attract the attention of the outside world. In poetry, particularly, she has begun to blaze her own trail, such writers as Bliss Carman and C.S. D. Roberts having won recognition from all who know true inspiration. Different from these and yet even more thoroughly Canadian, she has remained true to Montreal, in Beatrice Redpath, whose recently published volume of verse "Drawn Shutters," was described in T. P. O'Connor's well-known literary review as "coming like sunshine amid clouds, themselves noble and impressive." The poems of Mrs. Redpath are typical of the quiet dignity of Mount Royal with its stately trees, below which the world lies spread in a mysterious beauty. No name is better known in Montreal than that of Redpath, but the author of "Drawn Shutters" was born to the name of Peterson, daughter of Alexander Peterson, C.E.I. engineer of the C.P.R. bridge built across the St. Lawrence at Lachine in 1838, and Chief Engineer of the C.P.R. when the Ste. Anne and Vaudeville bridges were built and the great railway bridge at Saint Ste. Marie. "One of the best railway engineers in the world," said the "New York Times" of her father. "One of the truest poets of the time" might well be said of Beatrice Redpath.

HOW HERO MET DEATH

Chum Writes Telling of Clifford Burrows' Death by Shell.

Mr. Stephen Burrows has received from a friend, who was at one time a member of the Bank of Commerce staff here, the following account of the death of his son, Clifford R. Burrows:—

Belgium, June 7th, 1916.

Dear Mr. Burrows,

No doubt before you have received this note, you will have been notified of Clifford's death.

As he was not in my company I was not near him when it happened but another friend, B. B. Brown, was and he tells me a shell hit between Cliff and an officer and they were both instantly killed.

I have a few articles which were found in Cliff's pockets and will forward these at the first opportunity. I will give you information as to where he is buried, etc if you desire it at a later date.

We had a hard time this trip and you can rest assured, Clifford died doing his duty. Please accept my sincerest sympathy in your sorrow.

Yours sincerely,

PRIVATE ARTHUR YOUNG KILLED IN ACTION.

Mr. G. R. Young on Saturday received the following formal information of the death of his son, Private Arthur Young:

"Deeply regret to inform you, 432-719, Pte. Arthur Young, Infantry, officially reported killed in action between June 2 and 5. Officer in charge of record office."

On the 26th of May Mr. Young received a letter from his son, Arthur Young was in British Columbia when he heard that his brother Sherman was a prisoner in Germany. He immediately proceeded to Edmonton and enlisted in the 49th Battalion. The 49th went into the trenches on the 25th of October, 1915. Private Young was 17 on the 30th of November last.—Picton Times.

PTE. GEORGE RAYNOR KILLED.

Word reached Picton on Tuesday of the death at the front of another Prince Edward county boy, Private George Raynor, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Townsend Raynor, Ottawa. Frequently letters from Private Raynor to his parents have been published in The Times and only last week two letters were published which accounted for his time up to May 4. His description of trench life and comments on the country were exceedingly interesting. In one of his letters published last week is the following paragraph:

"Mother, I am beginning to feel as though I would in time make quite a soldier. I mean I would be a little different from a volunteer, I have in a way reconciled myself to this life, and I do not mind it now at all. Don't ever think though that I should ever become a regular as I haven't that much love for the life. By this time you will have noticed in the casualty list that the honor roll of our church has quite a few members wounded, mostly our club members. The rest of us are yet intact so far as I know."

PARENTS OPPOSE ENLISTMENT.

It is said that some of the parents of the young men not far from Madoc are so opposed to the war that they are using every means in their power to prevent their sons from enlisting. It has been stated that automobiles and farms have been bought to bribe the boys from doing their duty.—Madoc Review.

ARTHUR G. HALL.

Arthur Clarke Hall, second son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Hall, Front of Thurlow, died early Sunday morning. On Saturday the boy had his seventh birthday. He had been in ill health having been afflicted with heart weakness since birth.

KILLED IN ACTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Walker received word this week that their fourth son, Pte. Fred Walker, had been killed while fighting in France, on either June 2nd or 3rd. Pte. Walker was a collegiate pupil and left school to join the 8th C.M.R., last July. He left Canada in October and went to France in February. While in England he was transferred from the 8th C.M.R. to the 4th C.M.R. Deceased's age was 19 years and 8 months. Three other sons of Mr. and Mrs. Walker are with the Canadian troops.—Napane Express.

BIG CIRCUS WILL SHOW HERE.

That the circus season is rapidly approaching and that we are to be visited by one of the "real" leading big shows for the first time this year, are facts, arrangements for the coming of "Coop and Lent's United Monster Shows, 3 ring circus, Museum and Menagerie" to Belleville, Wednesday, July 19, and our knowledge of that circus' importance, dispels all doubt.

The first of the army of advance agents here on Monday, E. F. Lampman, came to investigate local conditions, show ground accommodations and other details pertaining to a prospective engagement important to the management of a show this large, especially when the territory is new to them.

This gentlemen found every encouragement while here to include us in this season's route of these big shows and accordingly arranged for the above date which should easily prove a banner one in the records of local circus days. Long before this date, will come the host of advertising agents with the abundance of all sorts of printed matter to announce the varied and ten-fold new wonders which have made this circus "wonderful," so that all may see, read and prepare for the "day of days." In the meantime, some small idea of the immense assemblage might be gleaned when it is known that more than twice the number of cars used by any circus formerly seen here are needed to carry these shows.

COLLISION IN BALL GAME ENDS FATALLY.

Peterboro, June 26.—Phillip Taylor, the seventeen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Taylor, 45 Ware street, passed away this morning under most tragic circumstances, as the result of a simple accident in a game of baseball. The mishap occurred during a Church League game at Central Park on Tuesday evening, between Knox church and the East City teams. Young Taylor was playing shortstop for the Knox church team. An East City batter hit a high fly into the diamond and Taylor and Frank Montgomery, who was playing second base, both went after it, colliding while running at full speed. Taylor was knocked over, but it was not thought at first that he was seriously injured. The medical aid was summoned and the unfortunate boy was removed to his home. His condition was bad yesterday as a result of internal injuries, and although he rallied last night for a while the improvement was only momentary and he passed away this morning about eight o'clock. The affair was purely accidental, such collisions often happening in a ball game.

His father and mother survive him as well as five brothers, three of whom are on active service. The brothers are Gunner Alfred in France with the C.F.A., Pte. Fred at Barfield, with the 139th, Pte. Oliver at Barfield with the 93rd, Ben at home, and Will in Cobourg.

DEATH OF MRS. GEO. E. HTM.

Mrs. George E. Graham, a highly esteemed lady of the Loderoose neighborhood in Hungerford township passed away yesterday morning after a brief illness from paralysis. She had not been in good health for a year past, and on Wednesday last week she was stricken with paralysis which terminated fatally as stated above.

Deceased, whose maiden name was Annie Sayers, was a daughter of the late Robert Sayers and was born in Hungerford township about forty-six years ago. In addition to her husband she is survived by three sons, Roy, druggist of London, Ontario, and Clarence and Kenneth at home. She is also survived by one brother, Herbert of the same neighborhood.

The late Mrs. Graham will be greatly missed in the church and in the community at large. She was one of the most earnest and enthusiastic of church workers and made herself very useful in the neighborhood where she was greatly respected and loved.

MASSASSAGA PARK.

Rev. Chas. G. Smith conducted service at Massassaga Park on Sunday in the pavilion. The guests and many farmers attended.

Mr. Fleming is entering to the best class of summer vacationists. The tone of the Sunday at the park was much enjoyed.

The Baptists have selected Massassaga as their 1916 picnic ground.

POLICE COURT.

In police court yesterday two Greeks Gavis charged with receiving stolen goods and Lemper accused of stealing were committed for trial. They later appeared before Judge Deroche and elected trial by him. Trial was set for July 13.

In police court on Saturday in the trial of the men Walkinshaw and Coveney on a charge of assault on David Livingstone, after the crown evidence was in, the counsel for the defence suggested a settlement if satisfactory to the crown, defendants and the court. On this account the cases were adjourned until next Saturday.

NEW STATION FOR CAMPBELL-FORD

A representative of the Grand Trunk Railway was here one day recently trying to arrange with the town for streets which will be needed when they move the track and the station.

The company contemplate raising the track nearly twenty feet to do away with the heavy grades between the station and the cuts. The site of the station will be about twenty-five feet south of the present site. It is probable that the work will be done this season.—Herald.
