INTERNATIONAL LESSON NO. IX. MARCH 4, 1906.

Jesus Tells Who Are Blessed.—Matt. 5: 1-15.

Commentary.—I. The gathering multitude (vs. 1, 2). 1. Seeing the multitudes.—The multitudes referred to in verse 25 of the preceding chapter. Attracted by his miracles the people came in great numbers from all over Palestine. His fame reached even to Decapolis and to the country east of the Jordan. Into a mountain—According to tradition Jesus spoke this sermon on a square-shaped hill with two towers, which gave it the modern name of "The Horns of Hattin." Hattin being the village on the ridge at its base. The hill rises sixty feet above the plain and is situated near the centre of the west coast of the Sea of Galilee, a little back from the sea. Was set for the Jews. They stood to read the Scriptures, but sat to teach. Disciples came unto Him.—They occupied a position near to Him and the multitude was farther away.

2. Opened His mouth.—The expression marks the solemnity and importance of the discourse.—Fara. The Lord has given us a mouth, and we must open it and confess the truth without fear. Plights, then, the moment of the truth when the principles of the new covenant are to be enunciated. II. The character and privileges of God's people (vs. 3-12). These verses contain the eight beatitudes, so-called from the opening word in every Jewish house in the Vulgate. They have also been called benedictions. 3. Blessed—Blessed means more than happy. As happiness is higher than pleasure, so blessedness is higher than happiness. Blessedness is more than joy, for it is more than happiness produced by God's sunshine in the soul.—Whedon. Poor in spirit.—All the beatitudes are affixed to unlikely conditions, to show that the judgment of Christ and of the world are different.—Benson. One who is deeply sensible of his spiritual poverty and wretchedness.—Clarke. The general opinion is, happy is the person who is rich, and great, and honorable in the world. The philosophers did not reckon humility among their moral virtues, but Christ puts it first. There is—Now, at this present time. Kingdom of heaven.—The kingdom of heaven and the kingdom of God mean the same thing, and have reference to that spiritual kingdom which Christ sets up in the hearts of His children. Paul defines the kingdom of God as being, "Righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Ghost" (Rom. xiv. 17). But why called a kingdom? "1. Because it has its laws—the precepts of the gospel. 2. Its subjects—all who believe in Jesus Christ. 3. Its king—the Sovereign of heaven and earth.—Clarke. 4. They that mourn.—That is, those who, conscious of their spiritual poverty, mourn. 1. On account of sin and its consequences. 2. Because of having offended a holy and righteous God. Comforted.—The Lord comforts by speaking the words of pardon and peace to their hearts. True joy is frequently the fruit of sorrow. This promise is positive, "Blessed are they that mourn," and the taking away of sorrow altogether, but transforming and transfiguring it, and compelling it to bestow blessing otherwise impossible.—Peloubet.

5. Meek.—Of gentle and long suffering disposition; of peaceable temper; submissive, unassuming, and unobtrusive. Dictionary. When this due composure of mind has reference to God, it is termed "resignation;" when it is exerted toward men, it is "mildness and gentleness;" when we consider it with regard to ourselves, we style it "patience."—Westley. The meek can be cool when others are hot, and have the rule of their own spirits.—Henry. Inherit the earth.—The land, and expression frequently used by the prophets to signify the land of Canaan. Under this figure our Lord promises the abundance of "spiritual good provided for in the gospel. The Canaan of promise rest and joy and peace is the inheritance of those who are truly meek. It is also true that God's saints get more out of this world than other people. 6. Hunger and thirst.—A figurative expression. Hunger and thirst are the strongest of bodily appetites. After righteousness.—The state, or quality, of being right with God; exact rectitude; holiness, comprehending holy principles, and affections, and that is committed to the divine law.—Webster. Righteousness here is taken for all the blessings of the New Covenant; a full restoration to the image of God.—Clarke. Shall be filled.—With righteousness. Everything else fails in the attempt to fill the heart, created the desire and He will satisfy the soul. Spiritual hungering and thirsting is an evidence of spiritual health. 7. The merciful.—"The merciful," says Erasmus, "are those who weep over the calamities of others, who feel the hungry and the naked, and administer those in error and pardon the offending." Obtain mercy.—As we deal with others God will deal with us. "Mercy is purchased at the price of mercy itself." 8. Pure in heart.—The heart is the seat of the affections, the desires, the motives, the will; with the pure heart these will all be pure. The heart is purified by faith (Acts 15, 9). True religion consists in heart purity. See God.—That is, possess and enjoy God. "None but the pure are capable of seeing God. He must be pure who wishes to enjoy a pure being. 9. Peace-makers.—Those who avoid contention themselves, and labor to restore peace wherever it is broken. Children of God.—God is the Father of peace, and those who promote it are said to be His children. 10. Pious.—Those who are pursued by an enemy. "Fined, oppressed, banished, scourged, tortured, always delivered into death and accounted his sheep for the slaughter."—For righteous sake.—Because of right doing. Kingdom of heaven.—See on verse 3. 11. Blessed are they that are persecuted.—It must not only be false, but for his sake, because we are Christians, and are bringing forth fruit unto holiness. 12. Rejoice.—Rejoice in the persecution, because it is to be crowned (Rev. 2, 10). Be exceeding glad.—Rejoice for joy. There are occasions on which this has literally been done. The prophets—Are to have an inheritance with the prophets. "Persecution has been the portion and the proof of the most eminent saints in all ages." Jesus said "I will unto you, who all men shall speak well of you" (Mat. v. 11).

A HEAVY LOSS.

BROOKLYN MESSENGER BOY DROPPED OVER $30,000.

New York, Feb. 19.—The loss of $30,400 in cash, checks and notes was reported to the Brooklyn police to-day by Frederick J. Ennis, a 17 year old bank messenger. The boy said he lost the money yesterday while carrying it from the Mechanics Bank, Brooklyn, where he is employed to the Ridgewood Bank. The money, he said, was in a parcel in his inside coat pocket and apparently fell out but he did not discover its absence until he reached the Ridgewood Bank. The amount reported lost includes $24,000 in promissory notes, a check for $6,000, drawn by the Jenkins Trust Company to the order of the Ridgewood Bank and $400 in cash.

VICTIM OF THEFT AND BAD LUCK.

Strange Case of "Stranding" of Young Man in Ottawa.

Ottawa, Feb. 19.—Rolled off $140 and disappointed in not receiving a letter containing $200, which has evidently become lost in the mails between Ottawa and Montreal, Fernand Cario, a son of the late J. Cario, who was one of the wealthiest building contractors of France, is stranded in Ottawa, dressed in tatters, and without a cent in his pockets.

LABORITES TO CARRY A MESSAGE.

British Trade Unions Will Send Good Wishes to Colonies.

London, Feb. 19.—The Labor members of Parliament who will visit the colonies this fall will officially carry the good wishes of the British trades unions. Credentials to this effect were granted to-day at a conference of the Labor group and union delegates, it being pointed out that these credentials carry no financial responsibility.

There was some opposition, the opinion being expressed that the members ought to stay at home and look after their constituents and the unions. The charge that the trip was being financed by outsiders was denied.

Some Important Discoveries

Are made only after a LONG TIME of PATIENT and INTELLIGENT SEARCH. Yet we cannot say THAT THE PUBLIC WERE SLOW in DISCOVERING the EXCELLENCE and SUPERIORITY of SEES GHOSTS; OWNS GUILT.

MURDERER MAKES A CLEAN BREAST AFTER APPARITION.

Stabbed a Chinaman, and Now His Ghost Walks—The Murderer Scared Almost Out of His Wits and Tells All About the Crime.

Sioux Falls, Iowa, Feb. 19.—After having been buried for many months, the ghost of the Chinaman who committed suicide in the county jail some years ago took a walk and scared a confession out of "Big Boy" Burris, who is held on the charge of murdering Richard Tanner, who was knifed in the Hotel Madison, a colored rooming house, a few days ago.

This ghost has been the cause of many a hilarious night in the county jail. Some declared it a myth, but others that it is a stern reality, and among the latter is "Big Boy."

PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS.

VI. "Blessed are the pure in heart" (v. 8). Away back in 1340 Tauler wrote, "A pure heart is the throne of the Supreme Judge; the seat and secret chamber of the Holy Trinity; a lamp bearing the Eternal Light; a treasury of divine riches; a storehouse of divine sweetness; a panoply of eternal wisdom; a cell of divine solitude; a delight to all saints; a joy to the heavenly hosts; a terror to the adversary; a victory over all temptation; a weapon against all assault; a reservoir of divine benefits; a treasury of all virtues; an example to all men; a restoration of all that has ever been lost. A pure heart finds its whole satisfaction in God; relishes and desires nothing but God." (v. 8). An impure heart cannot look upon God's purity any more than God can look upon the impurity (Hab. i. 13). But the pure in heart see God. Dr. Parker, while crossing the ocean, sat for hours watching sea and sky. A young man filially asked him, "What do you see, old man?" The reply was, "Nothing but God." "The pure in heart see Him; see Him in providence, in pleasant surroundings, in the approval of friends, in the persecutions of enemies, in His word; see Him by day and by night; see Him at home and abroad; see Him everywhere."

Tells of the Affray.

He was told that he did not have to talk unless he desired, but he insisted, and in the presence of Chief of Police Dineen, Officer Robert Carragher, and Jailer MacDougall, the confession was made. While telling the story Burris again became calm and at times laughed. He declared he never knew Tanner was cut badly and that he had no intention of killing him. According to his story he was sharpening a toothpick with a pocket-knife, and when the fight between Tanner and Miles took place he tried to interfere. Tanner, he said, made a pass at him, and he slashed back, cutting sideways.

Since he has been put in the jail Burris had very little sleep. He declares that unseen hands pull the covers off him every time he drops asleep, and on his waking he could see the ghostly forms of Tanner and the dead Chinaman, who committed suicide in the cell, walking about the cage. This, he said, has been going on for some time, till finally his overstrained nerves could stand it no longer, and when the two ghosts appeared he thought they were advancing toward him to strangle him, and he screamed for help.

His Full Confession.

Following is the full confession signed by Burris: My name is Henry Burris, aged 23 years. My father's is James Burris, of Andersonville, S. C. My mother's name is Jane Burris, who is separated from my father, and lives at 212 People's street. Tanner and Miles had a fight and me and Flower separated them. Tanner, it seems, gets sore cause I parted them. Having confessed and being willing to plead guilty, Burris may be taken before the judge at any time to receive sentence.

RADIUM ALL GONE.

SUPPLY OF PRECIOUS ELEMENT ALMOST CEASED.

Prohibitive Prices for Few Atoms Obtainable—Experimentalists in a Quandary—A Speck Costs £70—Get in Your Orders.

London, Feb. 19.—The Express says: The supply of radium has practically ceased, and the price of this wonderful substance has become almost prohibitive.

"We would very much like to obtain more for our experiments, but we cannot afford it," said a consulting surgeon at a large hospital recently. "The discovery of radium is so important and revolutionary that efforts are being made both in America and this country to obtain efficient radio-active substances from other sources than pitchblende."

A physicist who has provided many institutions with radium of various qualities said that he was now unable to obtain any more from the great centre in Brunswick.

"It was from the Brunswick centre that Professor Giesel's pure preparation was obtained," he said. "There were, in fact, only two centres—Paris, where the discoverer's preparation, the Curie radium, was obtained, and Brunswick."

"The fact that the Austrian Government prohibited the export of radium is, of course, the reason of its present price."

"About three years ago it was possible to obtain the highly active radium at £5 for ten milligrammes, or one fifty thousandth part of a pound."

"Then the price crept up to 7, 11, 13, £25, and now a fair price for this mere speck of the element would be £70."

"The process of extracting these specks of radium from tons of ore is so costly and tedious that it only pays to extract it in its highest and most active form. In this form it is found only in Bohemia. Hence the present difficulty."

SEED TIME

The experienced farmer has learned that some grains require far different crops than others; some soils need different treatments than others. He knows that a great deal depends upon right planting at the right time, and that the soil must be kept enriched. No use of complaining in summer about a mistake made in the spring. Decide before the seed is planted.

The best time to remedy wasting conditions in the human body is before the evil is too deep rooted. At the first evidence of loss of flesh should be taken immediately. There is nothing that will repair wasted tissue more quickly or replace lost flesh more abundantly than Scott's Emulsion. It nourishes and builds up the body when ordinary foods absolutely fail.

This the inspector disputed, whereupon the young fellow said he would prove it, and at once began rolling up his sleeve. The inspector was ready for trouble, but the visitor simply showed his bared arm, on which his name was tattooed, with the words, "Born September, 1885." "No man would have that inscription on his arm unless it were true," said the inspector, as he scratched the tax of the book.

HOW TO MAKE BABY SLEEP.

The baby that cries half the night does not cry for nothing. It cries because it is not well, and the chances are the trouble is due to some derangement of the stomach or bowels, which would be speedily removed if a dose of Baby's Own Tablets were given the little one. These Tablets make children sleep soundly and naturally, because they remove the cause of crossness and wakefulness. They are a blessing to the little one, and bring relief to the tired, worried mother. Mrs. A. C. Abbott, Hudson's Heights, Que., says: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets a splendid medicine for stomach and bowel troubles, from which my little one was troubled, and to the relief of the Tablets have given my baby now sleeps quietly and naturally, and is in the best of health." The Tablets are absolutely safe—they always do good—they cannot possibly do harm. They will cure the ailments of a new-born baby or a well-grown child. Sold by druggists, or sent by mail at 25 cents a box, by writing The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BANK CLERK MISSING.

St. John, N. B., Feb. 19.—There is a mild sensation in banking circles today. A clerk named A. Roberts, of the Bank of British North America, is reported missing, and the bank authorities admit a small loss by his departure, but say it is not at all serious. The young man in question is an Englishman, who came here only recently.

He is said to have been leading a rather fast life. The speculations have extended over the past three months. Manager Hazen to-night said he was not sure about taking criminal proceedings.

Bradstreet's Trade Review.

The movement of wholesale goods in all lines continues more or less quiet. The volume of general trade, however, compares fairly well with that of this time last year. There is a fair sorting movement in heavy sorting drygoods lines and spring deliveries are active. Orders for spring lines continue heavy. Price advances have been announced for printed cottons, flannels, dresses, satens and other lines of printed goods ranging from 5 to 12 1/2 per cent. to take effect on the 15th inst. Groceries are quiet and sugar is displaying an easy tone with the buying merely for immediate wants. The lines of goods and metals there in some firmness noted, particularly in iron and lead. Collections are mostly fair and payments are well up to the average.

Corn.—Sorting trade in wholesale lines has shown some improvements during the past week. More reasonable weather throughout the province has resulted in a better movement of retail goods, especially in drygoods. Spring trade continues active. Wholesalers are now receiving large shipments of millinery and the coming season promises to be a good one in this connection. Hardware trade continues active with the volume of business better than that of previous seasons. Prices generally hold steady to firm. Groceries are quiet. A feature is the great strength in canned vegetables. It has been discovered that stocks of canned tomatoes are much lighter than has been estimated. Large orders for all lines of goods are being received from Western Canada and collections from that part of the country show a welcome improvement but are still a little on the slow side. Ontario collections are fair to good.
