The annual inspection of the 13th Regiment was held last evening, Gen. Otter being the inspecting officer. With him were Capt. Layborne, Capt. Shanley, Col. Gibson, Lieut. Col. A. H. Moore, Lieut. Col. Stoneman and Major Tidswell. The Drill Hall presented another brilliant scene, as in the case of the Kilties, and while there was not the picturesqueness of the Kilties' costume, the "Thin Red Line" looked exceptionally well. Every man had every button on his tunic shining to perfection, and every helmet was pipe clayed.

Lieut. Col. Moore and Major Mewburn put the troops through the different battalion movements, and the manner in which the soldier boys went through the drill was very pleasing to the offi-cers. The small space in which the drill was held greatly hampered the men in

Gen. Otter, in speaking to the officers at the close of the drill, said he was highly pleased with the work of the regiment, and outside of a few minor regiment, and outside of a lew man-points the drills had been gone through

THE YORK LOAN.

How Money Could Have Been Saved

of loan companies incorporated by the Government. Mr. J. W. Carry, K. C. Liberal candidate in East York, addressing the annual meeting of the First Ward Liberal Club last night, advocated the appointment of a salaried official to undertake the winding-up proceedings. Loan companies, he said, which failed, and which really were created by the Government, were wound up at immense expense to the shareholders, when by the passing of a simple act the Government could provide for their winding-up cheaply and speedily. In that respect the Government were not carrying out the duty which they owed to the people of the Province.

the duty which they owed to the people of the Province.

He had in his mind the case of the Farmers' Loan Company, the winding-up proceedings of which made some men rich. He was told that it would cost $250,000 to wind up the York Loan Company. When he was endeavoring to secure the conviction of Mr. Phillips and to make him surrender that which Phillips had put away for himself, he thought that something would be saved for the shareholders. It looked, however, as if he had only caved that money for the benefit of his legal brethren. The Government could have appointed an of regiment, and outside of a few minor points the drills had been gone through satisfactorily.

The parade state of the regiment was the largest this season, there being 525 men in line. After the inspection the officers of the regiment tendered Gen. Otter and his staff an informal luncheon in the officers' quarters. The parade state was as follows: Lieut. Col. Moore, Majors Mewburn and Ross, Capt. Domville, Adjutant, Major Herring, Paymaster, Col. Griffin and Capt. Carter, Surgeons, Major Forneret, Chaplain, Staff Sergeants 14, Buglers 40, Band 41, Bearers 17, Maxim 9, Signallers 10, A 60, B 60, C 52, D 46, E 40, F 37, G 38, H 52, total 525.

The past season has been a successful one also in shooting, and the Ninety-First Regiment is rapidly forging ahead in this respect. The junior team which represented the regiment at Toronto and Ottawa and did so well, have become senior shots by their good work, but several new and promising shots have been developed for next year's teams. Both the senior and junior shots representing this regiment at Toronto and Ottawa carried off more than their share of the prizes, the most notable team winning being tie for first place in the junior match at Toronto and second place at Ottawa in the Gzowski skirmiching match against all the best shooting regiments in Canada. In this last match the team was most ably handled by Staff-Sergt. D. Garson, and four of the six-men team were junior shots. In this 1.000 yards match at Ottawa, the most difficult one of all, every man representing the olst was in the prize list, most difficult one of all, every man representing the 91st was in the prize list, a most unique and satisfactory performance. The regiment desires to thank the merchants of this city who so kindly contributed to the prize list for the annual regimental shoots, and thus made it possible for the regiment to make some little returns to those men who practiced so faithfully throughout the season. The prize lists are given below:

GOVERNMENT

The second of the monthly dinners of the Canadian Club was held last evening from 6 to 8 in the private dining room of the Royal Hotel. About fifty members and friends, including a number of aldermen, were present. Mr. W. M. Mc. Clemont, president of the club, occupied the chair. After the excellent bill-off fare had been thoroughly discussed, the guest of lhonor, Dr. Morley Wickett, or Toronto, was introduced and gave a very thoughtful and timely address on "Municipal Problems," showing that he had given a great deal of theongh to the canadian of city government, while Dr. Wickett was quite modest in his address, and did not recommend any particular plan of government, he pointed out some of the City Council as nexecutive for the weaknesses of the present systems in operation in this country. The governing of our cities and towns, as well as of rural districts, should be a cold; bisiness proposition, he said, and should be dealt with as such.

The rapid growth of cities was referred to. A hundred years ago in England only one-quarter of the people resided in cities and towns, while to-day only one-quarter are in the rural districts. The important thing in civic government, as in a large were concerned, although they may be riday.
