

THE HAMILTON TIMES

SATURDAY, JAN. 4, 1908.

THE MEN TO VOTE FOR.

Electors of the City of Hamilton, if you would save the city from the toils of a political ring, which is making a desperate effort to "control" the City Council in the interests of the Tory party you will vote for the following men, who have declared themselves to be opposed to the meddling of politicians with the municipal affairs of the city.

CRERAR
GARDNER
GUY
HENNESSY
KIRKPATRICK
LEWIS
MOODIE
WRIGHT, H. G.

In the interests of good government, and for the sake of the best interests of Hamilton we appeal to the electors, no matter of what shade of politics, to support these men. We do not ask support for them because they may happen to be Tories, but because they are men who will save your own city from the clutches of a gang whose only object is to serve a political party at the expense of the city.

If these men are elected Hamilton will be at the mercy of the set of men who have announced their determination that this city shall be made to serve the Tory party, but all its officials shall be Conservatives, that its business shall be transacted in the interests of that party, that the police and fire departments shall be made Tory preserves, that our schools shall be Toryized, that in short, no man or woman who is not a Tory shall be allowed to do aught but pay taxes should the city carry the power by law, it is the intention of these men that the municipal light and power department shall also be manned by Tories, and none but Tories.

This is a British Canadian city which expects to be governed according to the principles of British rule. The iniquitous attempt to introduce American government, with all its attendant evils, into Hamilton should be checked at once—stamped out as foreign to the genius of a British people. Let all levels of Hamilton, Tory as the Grit, combine at once to oppose any attempt to introduce the American system into the city.

DO NOT LET THE MONEY GO BY-LAW.

The Times of the money by-laws on the subject of the Hydro-Electric power scheme, we see no reason to change our opinion that it will be a poor policy for Hamilton to get mixed up with it. Hamilton today is the leading electrical city in Canada. It has built up its manufactures upon this electric power almost alone. No other city could offer the same inducements it has been able to do by virtue of its possession of Cataract power, and we see the fruits of this power on every hand. The Hydro-Electric power scheme is designed to wrest that electrical supremacy from Hamilton. It aims to put Toronto and the other cities throughout western Ontario in a position to compete with this city on something like equal terms. By voting for the money by-laws, we merely help Toronto and the other towns and cities to take our trade and manufactures away. Do you propose to do so? We should hope not. Then who knows what they are to vote for? What are we to get for our $275,000? Nobody knows; nobody can tell. The Commission cannot tell us. All it says is that it will bring power to our door for $17.50. But even here there is no guarantee—the Government guarantees nothing. We know, if we vote for the scheme, that we will be responsible for some $500,000 advanced by the Government; we know that we will have to pay 4 per cent. interest for thirty years on our share of that immense sum; we know that we will have to pay our share of the transmission line from the Falls, how much we cannot tell; we know that we will have to pay for our transformer, buildings, engines, poles, wires or conduits; we know that we will have to pay for maintenance and operation. But that is all we do know. Nobody has any idea what all these things are to cost. We do know, however, that our $275,000 will be used up, and that we will have to pay a ruinous rate of interest to get the money for it. Other hundreds of thousands will follow the $275,000. There is no end in sight to the expenditure. Pleasant prospect, is it not, for the ratepayers?

There are some, we understand, who are prepared to vote for the by-law because they say the Cataract Power Company is unpopular, and deserves no consideration from the citizens. Granted that it is unpopular in certain quarters, is that reason why we should injure ourselves? The men at the head of the company took hold of it and gave the city cheap power at immense financial risk to themselves when nobody else would touch the enterprise with a long pole. These men risked their all, and won, and Hamilton got the benefit, and the city also makes a good thing out of it. Our manufacturers have nothing to say against the company. They seem to be satisfied at the treatment they receive from it and many of them see in this Hydro scheme a plan to injure Hamilton, and they will vote against it. What hurts the manufacturers must hurt the workmen also, and if it be in the interests of the workers to vote for it.

Mayor Stewart's grand rally in Association Hall last evening was another frost. Billy Maclean talked about the benefits of public ownership—a subject which is a craze with him. Now the Cataract Power Co. does not interfere with Niagara Falls. It gets no power from there. And all this talk about private corporations taking what should belong to the people does not apply to the Cataract Company. Nor does the Hydro scheme give us municipal ownership. Under it we have to buy our power from a company—a United States company at that—which would always have us at its mercy. The Mayor, who has been flaunting a lot of estimates, guaranteed by no one but himself, met his Waterloo at the close of the rally at the hands of young Mr. Fessenden, who, unlike the Mayor, knew what he was talking about, because he is a clever electrician. He showed that Hamilton has today an advantage of from $10 to $15 over Toronto, but that if we help to give Toronto Hydro power we will only have 60 cents of an advantage. Mr. Fessenden's figures as to cost of pumping, etc., were too much for the Mayor, who simply threw up his hands, and the meeting closed abruptly with anything but prayers by the Mayor for Mr. Fessenden. That gentleman's figures and arguments appear in another column.

THE YOUNG MAN'S ERA.

This has been called the young man's age, and so it is, for in every profession, trade and calling the demand is for young men of enterprise, ability and integrity. From among the 42 men who are offering themselves as aldermen for the year 1908 a whole council could probably be selected of men under 40 years of age, and some of them under 30. And it must be admitted that a very good council could be selected, too. There is Roy Moodie, probably the youngest, but whose ability has landed him at the head of a great manufacturing concern; T. H. O'Leary, A. M. Lewis and James Dickson, all successful young barristers; John I. McLaren, who in his first year in the council made a reputation for fairness and sound judgment in municipal matters; Charles Gardner, a successful merchant and able alderman; George Guy, manager of one of the largest coal businesses in the Province; J. A. P. Dunne, a successful and enterprising lawyer; J. A. Williamson, who by his pluck, energy and ability applied to the public business has earned for himself a competency; John Moodie, an acknowledged leader, and others who are by no means beyond being termed young men. These all happen to be Liberals in politics, but the Conservative side is not without its quota of able young men. Hamilton might do worse than elect all of the men named.

COUNT THE COST.

Hamilton ratepayers would do well to carefully count the cost before deciding which way to vote on the Power by-law. The City Council is asking leave to borrow $275,000 for establishment of an electric distilling plant and for electric pumps at the Beach pumping station. It is very generally admitted that this is a very bad time to borrow money, and finance experts do not hold out much hope for improvement in the near future. The aldermen hope to be able to sell the debentures at a loss of not more than $300,000. They have no expectation of being able to do any better than that. And it is freely admitted that the $275,000 for which the people of Hamilton will have to pay $300,000 is only a beginning. No one supposes for a minute that that amount will see the city through with the Hydro-Electric scheme. Some experts, whose figures are as worthy of acceptance as the Hydro-Electric engineers' estimates, place the amount at $500,000 to $600,000, besides the city with a load of interest, and sinking fund which will cripple future Councils for funds for current purposes. For years the aldermen of Hamilton have been complaining that the fixed charges were so great that there is never enough money left for necessary road repairs, the construction of new roads, the grading of new streets, the laying of water mains and the carrying on of the general business of the city. Now it is proposed to greatly increase the burden at a time when the city's policy should be to avoid increasing the debt. In face of the uncertainty surrounding the cost to the city of the power project, the voting of $275,000 at this stage is not good business.

KEEP POLITICS OUT.

No matter of what shade of politics, the citizens of Hamilton on Monday should see to it that no political party will be allowed to take control of the City Council with the avowed purpose of using it for political and party ends. Brockville has tried both ways, with the result that that city gets better and cheaper government under the non-partisan than the other kind of government. Referring to this, the Recorder (Liberal) says:

The success that has attended the efforts of the citizens are not confined to any particular department of municipal life, but the advanced position of the town's business affairs to every department. Never, it can be truthfully said, in the history of Brockville has the spirit of progress and good business acumen so greatly permeated its municipal life. The reason for the present good state of affairs and healthy spirit prevailing are attributable to one cause, and that is the action of the citizens taken four years ago when it was decided that politics should not enter into the deliberations of the Town Council and other municipal bodies.

The Brockville Times (Tory) is equally emphatic in its declaration that the city has profited since the electors four years ago decided to drive the politicians out of the council. It says:

The supporters of the citizens' ticket do not claim that it is perfect, but they do claim that it is far better than the old political town council elected after a mischievous party squabble every New Year. The men who effected the compromise between the representatives of the two political parties four years ago did not imagine that it was going to revolutionize matters in Brockville, nor did they expect that it would accomplish improvements all at once. But they did expect a measure of gradual improvement in town management and their expectations have been realized. The one item of the prompt collection of taxes alone is justification for the continuance of the compromise arrangement.

With both Grit and Tory papers in Brockville testifying to the benefit that city has received from eliminating politics from its municipal affairs, Hamiltonians should not hesitate to drive the party into the Tory aldermanic slate.

OUR "GRACEFUL" TRIBUTE.

Speaking of the references in the newspapers throughout the Province to the death of the late Mr. Cameron, editor of the Hamilton Spectator, the Ottawa Journal says:

One of the most graceful is that of the Hamilton Times. The Spectator is a conservative paper, though Mr. Cameron, a vigorous fighting Conservative, could show always an ability to discuss the signs of absolute fairness the things that really counted. He was a student of Canadian newspaper work, and his was the bitterest antagonist. Yet this is what the Times says of Mr. Cameron:

[It then quotes the Times' tribute to the late editor, and continues:] The lesson is, we fancy, that differences of opinion, however great, should not become personal enmity. It is within the knowledge of most men of the seeing eye that honest differences of opinion, clearly expressed and stoutly held, are more apt to beget respect and even affection between big men than they are apt to beget the gangster's rancor to which small and shallow minds are subject. Mr. Cameron undoubtedly had the faculty of making most of his opponents' weaknesses at times, but his deepest enemy now has most handsome tribute on his name. The Times honors itself and honors Canadian newspaper journalism in honoring the memory of the man with whom its several editors have been embroiled for years.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The workman who wants his taxes increased should vote for the money by-laws.

Now, honestly, where would Hamilton have been had it not been for the Ontario Government?

The ward by-law should be carried. The present at-large system is unworkable and unsatisfactory.

The north end branch library idea should see Mr. Williamson to the Council with a big vote.

Young Mr. Fessenden had the laugh on the Mayor last night, when he showed him how he could save about two hundred dollars a year in his power bill.

The answers the Herald got from some of the leading merchants about Hydro-Electric power were not exactly what it was looking for.

Electors should take care not to vote for John Allan, thinking they are voting for Ald. Thomas Allen. The latter is not a candidate this year.

It must not be forgotten that if we take up the Hydro-Electric power scheme the city will lose the many thousands of dollars it gets annually from the street railway company. The Mayor did not put that in among his bogus figures.

Suppose the Yankee concern that is to sell us Hydro-Electric power should run short of power, we would be the first to suffer, and our industries and civic plants paralyzed. That company sends the most of its power to United States points, and they will be its first care.

In Barton township it is expected that Mr. Frank Croswaite will have no trouble in capturing the deputy reeve ship. But Frank wants every vote possible to make sure. Messrs. Rymal and Taylor, the candidates for Councilor, also expect their friends to help them to reach the top of the pile.

What alderman who ever served Hamilton can show a better record in his first year than John I. McLaren. From the very first Ald. McLaren showed a grasp of civic affairs that surprised even his friends, who expected much of him. He has been straightforward, clear sighted, energetic and independent. No wonder many citizens expect to see him among the leaders next Monday.

The Government of Manitoba has decided to buy out the Bell Company's telephone system in the Province. Seemingly it has the people of the Province behind it. It will give them what they want. Whether the process will be good for itself is another thing—Montreal Gazette.

That is a better plan than building an expensive duplicate plant, as the Hydro-Electric Power Commission proposes to do, and wishes us to pay for.

Hamilton has been electing its Mayor and aldermen from the whole city, a general vote, and is favoring a return to the ward system. The present method is
