THE CHIEF CHARM OF LOVELY WOMAN

Soft, Clear, Smooth Skin Comes With The Use Of "FRUIT-A-TIVES".

NORAH WATSON
86 Drayton Ave., Toronto.
Nov. 10th, 1915.

A beautiful complexion is a handsome woman's chief glory and the envy of her less fortunate rivals. Yet a soft, clear skin—glowing with health—is only the natural result of pure blood.

"I was troubled for a considerable time with a very unpleasant, disfiguring Rash, which covered my face and for which I used applications and remedies without relief. After using 'Fruit-a-tives' for one week, the rash is completely gone. I am deeply thankful for the relief and in the future, I will not be without 'Fruit-a-tives'."

DIAGONAL STREETS ARE RECOMMENDED

W. A. McLean, Deputy Minister of Public Highways, gave an address on town planning and good roads to a convention at Hamilton recently. He referred to the fact that most municipalities are laid out on the rectangular principle, and advocated the building of diagonal streets through them to aid in solving the traffic problem. He also advocated the bonusing of the farming industry by municipalities co-operating in the matter of road improvements. In the United States, he said, many cities paid a large share of the cost of rural roads, and this was to the advantage of the cities. He said it was the duty of the cities and towns to look after returned soldiers, and they could do it by having them build roads.

It takes a man with an unusually good disposition not to care a rap about the kind of weather that comes along.

DRIVER C. H. STAMP, A FORMER AYLMEY MAN IS WOUNDED

An Interesting Sketch by Mr. George Mather, Who Was a Great Friend of Driver Stamp.

The Editor Aylmer Express:
Dear sir,—

May I by your kindness draw the attention of some of your readers at least to a notice appearing a few days ago in the London Free Press. It read thus: "Wounded—Driver C. H. Stamp."

Charles Herbert Stamp lived here in Aylmer, working for Mr. John Trim and Mr. Murray Summers and proved a faithful and reliable helper for some years to both these well known local farmers. He was confirmed in the Church of England in the Old Country and together we have attended services in our little branch of the Mother church right here in Aylmer. He has a brother, who is himself a clerk in Holy Orders in England. He has also a widowed mother, I believe, who has written most grateful letters to the good wives of the employees here for the many acts of kindness shown to her son whilst he was a stranger in a strange land.

It seems a comparatively short time since he and another Englishman who was a fellow worker with Bert Stamp and myself, (I refer to Ernest Higginbottom, since enlisted and now "Somewhere in France"), I repeat since we three spent part of Stamp's last leave together at the home of Mr. John Caron, Dingle st., and on reflection I am convinced that it was the personal example of our wounded friend that induced his companion to also prove the sincerity of his patriotism in such a practical way.

Apart from that brief and somewhat curt notice in the Press, we know nothing; but I felt, Sir, that I would be doing nothing amiss to make some record of our sympathy for him and those of his "ain folk," whose intense appreciation of Canadian women's hospitality and forthrightness is beyond doubt worthy of the children of the Motherland.

May I, in conclusion, add too, that our friend was most unassuming and even as I write I feel that I may be "stepping in where angels fear to tread," but for the work of such boys, who risk their lives for us, it is a poor return of gratitude, if we wait until they are dead to extol their noble sacrifices and store up
