NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Non Letter—
The stock market was slow and firm most of the morning. General comment was about the scant supply of stocks on the upturn, which was regarded as indicating that important interests had accumulated large lines at the low levels reached on last week's decline and had practically exhausted the small holdings of commission house clients. The Gould stocks exhibited weakness, both Missouri Pacific and the Denver stocks showing declines. The market is dull and holding firm, evidently waiting for the President. stocks showing declines. The President's message will be out today, but the general tone ofo the document will be conservative, so that the effect on the market should be favorable. Discussion centres around the returns from the call of controller of currency as regards the situation. ity the tendency is toward dullness. Ethel Kohen and Jacob Kohen, her husband, are charged in the local police court with obtaining $58 under false pretences. Mrs. Kohen has now been in custody for a week, but her husband has not yet been arrested. The Kohens arrived in London about a month ago, coming here from Montreal. Kohen in some manner obtained possession of a discharged G. T. R. check for 58 cents, which, it is said, he raised to $58, and induced a fellow Mebrew named Abraham Rosenfelt to cash. The Kohens boarded for some time on Clarence street south, but are strangers in London. The local detectives hope to effect Kohen's capture very shortly, and in the meantime Mrs. Kohen, as an accomplice, has been remanded for another week. Kohen after cashing the check promptly left town, but the detectives are aware of his present whereabouts.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6 —The President's annual message was delivered to Congress today. It deals with many subjects, some of which are: Foreign relations, arbitration tiations, merchant marine, rights of aliens, revenues, Payne tariff act, tariff board, bank and currency reform, Panama Canal, judicial procedure, injunction bill, army and navy, conservation, Alaska, and interstate commerce commission. Discussing the tariff negotiations, the President refers to the recent reciprecity conference at Ottawa, which were adjourned to be resumed in Washington in January, when, he says: "It is hoped that the aspiration of both governments for a mutually advantageous measure of reciprocity will be realized."

The message is, in part, as follows: Tariff Negotiations. The reciprocation on the part of the Dominion Government of the sentiment which was expressed by this Government, was followed in October by the suggestion that it would be glad to have the negotiations, which had been temporarily suspended during the summer, resumed. In accordance with this suggestion, the secretary of state, by my direction, dispatched two representatives of the department of state as special commissioners to Ottawa, to confer with representatives of the Dominion Government. They were authorized to take such steps for formulation of a reciprocity trade agreement as might be necessary, and to recive and consider any propositions which the Dominion Government might care to submit."

Dr. Munro stated that he was not opposed to union, but to the methods which have been followed. The methods pursued would tend to show that the leaders of the church were afraid to submit the question to the free discussion of the people.
