Tin horns, cow bells and other machines did serviceable duty. And above all the din

ohn Blake's voice was plainly heard. The students were favorites with non-interested spectators. They were easily 10 lbs. per man heavier and skated equally as fast. At the outset there was little difference, and the game waxed fast and furious. One goal and the other was threatened for the first 10 minutes. Then Kerr's switt swop from the left tallied, and Osgoode Hall was ahead. Smellie shot through immediately afterwards, but the point was disallowed for offside play. The Blackstone men kept peppering at Walker and in 6 minutes more Kerr scored again. A pretty combination sent the forwards down from the face and Smellie tallied in 30 seconds. A pretty combination sent the forwards down from the face and Smellie engaged in a friendly scrap just before Mack put on the fourth point and s60n the whisto blew for half time and the colts had nary a point. Early in the second half Sankler and Smellie took a run, passed to Mack, who was offside, and the goal he shot was not allowed. It was nine minutes after restart that Smellie skated down, passed to Kerr and the score was 5 to 0. In seven minutes more the Colts' supporters set up a howl, for Creelman's switt scoop from the left went past Smith and the first point was made for his side. Now the play was mostly defence. For 14 minutes play was mostly defence. For 14 minutes both sides strived in vain. Then Smellie sprinted down the rink and ended the sprinted sprinted the sprinted down the rink and ended the sprinted the sprinted down the rink and ended the sprinted sprinted the various clubs the financial standing of the va

The Colts were clearly outplayed. The lesperate pace made their passing simply at landom. When Osgoode settled down their combination was superb and pot fail to win. Smellie's their combination was superb and could not fail to win. Smellie's play was really remarkable, and it required to be to show above that of the other three trushers.
