They Get Down to Business.
At this juncture Ald. Macdonald moved

For the substitution of Mr. Jennings' name terday.

Ald. Shaw said the third reading of the bylaw had never been moved so there was no previous question.

The Mayor ruled that the previous question was the adoption of the report of the committee of the whole. The vote was the same, 13 to 11, in favor of adopting the report.

Ald. Saunders moved the third reading of the bylaw and at the same time Ald, dictured with the previous question, which meant exactly the same thing. The vote was exactly the same, 13 to 11 in favor of the third reading of the bylaw.

The bylaw carried with Mr. Keating's name at a salary of $4000.

Ald. McMurrich moved that the Board of Works be requested to build a new sidewalk from. Front-street to the Esplanade on the west side of Yonge-street.

Ald. Shaw introduced a bylaw ordering street cars on King-street, from Dufferin street to Roncesvalles-avenue; on Gerrard street, from River-street to pass a did to the control of the clirk in the control of the council for two months.

Ald. Macdonald moved that the Free Methodist Church be granted permission to hold capp meeting in a certain billin street vanuing off Queen-street ast.

Ald. Shaw moved that the Board of Works be empowered to award a list of contracts which he read, and also that the treasurer be authorized to furnish funds. This is necessary owing to the adjournment of the City Council for two months.

Ald. Score moved that the engineer be requested to consider the practicability of putting the gates at the Queen-street bridge over the Don so that when closed the public will be excluded from the bridge.

All the above mentioned resolutions and bylaws were passed with very little discussion.

Ald. Score moved that the clirk agree to place a caretaker in charge of the Metropolitan Church grounds on that condition only.
