John Dyment Will Get Some Guineas.

HAMILTON, April 4.—John Dyment's Orkney Stables were visited to-day by a Herald man. He writes that the Orkney good things are Mayblossom, a 3-year-old bay filly by King Bob, dam Maggie May, and Brother Bob, a 3-year-old bay gelding by King Bob, dam Rosabelle. John has got both representatives well forward in training, if anything a little too fine, considering the fast galloping they will have to do between now and May 22 in order to get their speed.

Brother Bob is a good-looking, racey little gelding, a bit small, but well knit, with a pair of loins that would do a 16-hand horse. John says he is a rapid-moving fellow. How could he be otherwise with such hind propellers? He is as quiet and docile as a child at the post in company.

"I tell you, gentlemen," says John, "this is the year I will get a piece of the plate sure. Brother Bob cannot possibly be worse than third, and remember, I am not joking. I look to see the Orkney colors first past the post."

The filly Mayblossom is pretty sure to be a starter. She is a lass that can stay, and has a fair share of speed, but of late is developing a bad temper, and when coming to the post will not break away with her horses.

Some Kennel Club Specials.

A supplementary list of special prizes for the Toronto Kennel Club's show, principally from New York friends of the club, is as follows: Thomas Terry, secretary Westminster Kennel Club, New York, $5 for best collie dog; $5 for best smooth collie bitch, $5 for fox terrier dog, never having won a prize; James Mortimer, New York, $5 for best kennel of four fox terriers, $5 for best kennel of four setters; E. W. Fiske, New York, $5 for best brace of Cocker spaniels; E. M. Oldham, New York, $5 for best kennel of four field spaniels; I. H. Winslow, president Philadelphia Kennel Club, $5 for be-t Irish setter in show, $5 for best dog or bitch in show, judged by George Bell, Esq.; McAlpin Tobacco Company, a six pound butt of Beaver tobacco for best St. Bernard puppy; J. E. Seagram, six bottles of whisky for best kennel of four pointers; Turf, Field and Farm, subscription for two years for best brace of bull terriers.

SHELBURNE IN A BLAZE

Of Excitement Over the Wonderful Curative Properties of South American Nervine Tonic—Citizen and Farmer—Everyone Talking About the Great Remedy.

It has been said of Abraham Lincoln that his wonderful success in life was due largely to the faculty he possessed of keeping in close touch with the people. It is by rubbing against folks we get to know them and learn what they are thinking about. "This thought came to me with singular force," said a prominent Canadian journalist, "as I spent a brief holiday in the pretty town of Shelburne, Ont., a short time since. I had a passing acquaintance with the two druggists of the town, Mr. E. F. Brown and Gamon & Co., and newspaper-like I talked to them of their business. It was remarked that their shelves were well stocked with the various proprietary medicines, whose numbers are now almost like the sands on the sea shore." "What is the popular medicine of the day?" was asked. Said Mr. Brown, every one seems to be calling for South American Nervine Tonic, and what is most noteworthy is the enthusiasm that takes hold of those who use this remedy." "It has strong virtues then?" was the comment. "Well, I can take you to people in this section," continued Mr. Brown, "who do not want to keep house without it. There is Mr. Davidson, a well-known farmer, 10 miles out of town, he cannot say too much for it. I might mention, too, a Mrs. Johnson, a well-known farmer's wife—she has been a liberal purchaser of South American Nervine, and so with others." Mr. Gamon told, if anything, a more remarkable story. "Only yesterday," said he, "I sold six bottles to one lady. Mr. Swift and Mr. Shaw are both farmers who have thoroughly tested its curative qualities, and do not hesitate to sound its praises. As a druggist I know it is the popular selling proprietary medicine of the day." "Incidentally," says this journalist, "I mentioned the result of these conversations to mine host, Tuck, of the Royal Hotel. 'Yes,' he replied, 'what you say does not surprise me. Mix up among the people and you will learn they have all a good word for South American Nervine. It seems, in fact, to have taken the town by storm.'"

Well, it is surprising! The people of Shelburne are a shrewd people. Wise ones everywhere realize that a medicine that gets at the root cause of disease must be effective. This is the case with South American Nervine. It is based on the fixed scientific fact that all the organs of the body derive their strenth and nourishment from the nerve centres located in the base of the brain. When one takes Nervine it gives strength to these nerve centres, and so long as their strength is maintained, the other organs of the body must remain healthy. Then, what foolishness for suffering ones, and their name is legion—men, women and children—to remain sick and South American Nervine at their hands.

"SELF-PRAISE IS NO MERIT." Some persons are continually praising their own wares. I prefer to allow my patrons to speak for me. THIS IS THE KIND OF EVIDENCE THAT TELLS THE STORY. By kind permission of the writer, I offer the following letter, which is representative of many similar in my possession from various parts of our own country.

TO J. Y. EGAN. December 30th, 1890.

DEAR SIR,—My case was a severe one. Every effort of others only increased the trouble. They failed to hold me in every instance. They either did not understand my case or lacked the requisite skill. My impression is all other trusses, at least those which I tried, are designed on false principles. You divined the difficulty at once, your first effort being crowned with success. It is now about four months since you adjusted your appliance, and during all that time not the slightest appearance of trouble; previous to this I had not known one day's comfort for years. I can now safely attend to my business while wearing your grand appliance. In fact, it is so easy and comfortable I am not physically conscious of wearing it. Such a contrast to all others, which were simply tortures without any redeeming qualities. The interest you evinced, the attention your have given and your success in my case compels me to give you permission to publish these few lines as a slight acknowledgement of your skill and as an encouragement to other sufferers to consult you and be relieved. Very truly,

ALEX. GIBB,
Proprietor Carlton Hotel, Yonge-street, Toronto, Ont.
