Oats—There was more disposition to sell the September by local crowd, but was nothing doing in cash or June to speak of. Visible supply decreased 81,000 bushels.

Provisions—The tone of market was easy, caused by liberal runs of hogs, rather heavy trade in lard between packers, one branch buying, another selling and another prominent packing context buying the selling and another prominent packing to more without the selling and another prominent packing to more without the selling and another prominent packing the selling the selling to more without the selling the selling the selling to the selling to the selling the selling to the selling the selling to the selling the sel

Trade in fibs was unusually light. Estimated hogs to-morrow 1590.

Schwartz, Dupee & Co. wired Dixon: Wheat closed $4c over Saturday, really a disappointment to the bulls, considering the news they had; but at the same time not entirely satisfactory to the bears. The strength was a matter of weather chiefly, partly of frosts on this side and partly of sleet on the continent. Continental markets were higher. Liverpool, however, detracted from their influence by showing weakness. The best prices were made in the first hour. The low prices were made in the list. The close showed a reaction from the bottom on buying by private wire houses. The decrease in the visible supply was larger than expected, but was taken in an indifferent manner. It was a day of liquidation all around, shorts covering and holders realized. We generally felt that the frosts of Friday and Saturday had presented a new contingency. But so many apparent crop perils have been successfully escaped there was a feeling this latest one would also be. The seaboard and the other winter wheat markets larged as usual.
