

Housework Drudgery

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dusts and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household, her back aching, her temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the stress of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest in bed is not refreshing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak, nervous women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It Makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.

This "Prescription" removes the cause of women's weaknesses, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures those weaknesses so peculiar to women. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep.

Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know what his "Favorite Prescription" contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle-wrapper. Do not let any unscrupulous druggist persuade you that his substitute of unknown composition is "just as good" in order that he may make a bigger profit. Just smile and shake your head! Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cures liver ills.

Father Was Neglected.
At first David did not like to have his teeth brushed. His father said to him one evening when the three-year-old struggled more than usual against the sanitary performance of his mother: "David, I wish my mamma had brushed my teeth when I was a little boy. I would not have lost any then."
"Don't you wish your mamma had brushed your hair?" was David's revengeful reply, with a look toward papa's bald head.—Exchange.

A Delicate Compliment.
"My new gown received a very sincere compliment the other day."
"How was that?"
"The proprietor of a restaurant I went into asked me to sit near the window; said it would lend tone to his place."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

High aims form high characters, and great objects bring out great minds.—Edwards.

PERMANENCY OR THE PRESENT.

We never knew or heard of a farmer who did not prosper financially when he made it his first object to keep up the fertility of his soil. We have known many farmers who grew poorer each year when they made it their first and often their only object to get a crop.—Kansas Farmer.

To Fertilize Potatoes.
Furrow the ground for planting and distribute in the row. A good method is to put the fertilizer in a tight bag, swing it over the shoulder and make a small hole in the lower corner that will let the fertilizer run as the workman walks along the furrow. Then drag a log chain along the bottom of the furrow to mix the fertilizer with the soil and to straighten the row. Where the field is large enough to justify the use of a common two horse corn cultivator attach chains to the stocks and let them drag in the furrows. When applications of fertilizers exceed 500 pounds per acre broadcast and harrow in one-half and put the other half in the row.—National Stockman and Farmer.

Alfalfa Seed Per Acre.
With reasonably good seed and a fairly well prepared seed bed about twenty pounds of alfalfa seed are required per acre. If the seed bed is very carefully prepared, made level and free from lumps and unusual pains taken in seeding perhaps half this amount of seed is quite enough, but under ordinary conditions twenty pounds of seed ought to be about right.

Perfect Stand of Potatoes.
When I plant my potatoes, about every tenth row I plant double the amount of seed that I do in the other rows. Then when I hoe them I can take some from these rows to replace any missing hill I may find and so get a perfect stand.—Cor. Farm Journal.

Be on good borrowing terms with your neighbors, but do not abuse the privilege. A little co-operation in using the expensive farming tools can save many dollars.

There is nothing equal to Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator for destroying worms. No article of its kind has given such satisfaction.

Narrow Belts Smart.
The fashionable belt of the moment is about an inch and a half in width and is made of black patent leather decorated with a buckle to match or with an antique silver one. A perfectly plain belt has its votaries, but in some cases an introduction is made of tiny white button trimmings, which look very smart indeed when the buttons are clustered at the back in a pyramidal form designed to give grace to the figure.

Narrow satin belts are being issued also, and some of the dressmakers introduce by their means a contrast in colors to the rest of the costume, using shades of pink, blue and mauve most dexterously folded into the narrow compass at their command.

WOODEN culverts are unsightly, dangerous, expensive, short-lived.

Which kind of a culvert does your waggon cross?

DOES the road you use pass over rickety, dangerous wooden culverts, that are constantly in need of repairs and often washed away entirely? Or is it carried safely across the low places by modern, everlasting culverts? Build your which not only cannot be washed away, but actually grow stronger with age and use.

Every farmer owes it to himself to insist that the money he pays for road-taxes be spent to the best advantage. As a ratepayer, he is entitled to the best roads that can be made with that money. When culverts are washed out, and the road rendered impassable, he not only suffers inconvenience but may also be caused financial loss by inability to get necessary supplies in time for spring planting. And at best, with wooden culverts, part of the money that should be used to make better roads must be spent every year for repairs.
