cottin threw him overboard. How to get rid of a cold, is being discussed by be country papers. Put a little nitro glycerine up nose; then hit it with a sledge hammer, and be cold will never trouble you again.—New York Inn. Advertiser.

The Servians have been driven out of Gurguso-The perviane may been driven out of Gurguso-mis; Harvatovitch has fallen back on Alexinata; srenyearsovitch has defeated Crackyerjawigata; Serenyembovisca and pulldownyervestovitch has inflicted a crushing plow on Wipofyerchinoski.—Providence Press.

They never use a bulletin board on the Worcester They merely take the insole out of the chin's slipper and lean it out of the second story sindow against the sidewalk and chalk their depatches on that.—Norwich Bulletin.

s John," said Mrs. Smith, "don't you think a news-spar reporter has rather a low calling, since he goes about poking his nose in everybody's business." "Well" replied Mr. Smith, "I believe it is a sort of lo-calling.

NOVEL FEATURES.-Lady-" Too bad, too bad, Balley! Only your second morning here and you guite intoxicated?" Gardener..." Nosh a bit! no quite inconsission in delication non a bit i she face as you musht git ushed to, and then pull find I aint half she drunkish ash I might heem to a stranger.—Fun.

AS OBJECT OF SUSPICION .- Tourists in Scotland who are of confirmed temperate habits, and liable who are of excess, would to be shocked by any appearance of excess, would to well to avoid Loch Drunkie—at least until a o wen to avoid more present that a satisfied them gentific analysis of its contents has satisfied them here is no whiskey mingled with the water. (N.B. Loch Drunkie is not to be confounded with Loch Bandy. Why is there no Loch Whiskey in Scotland?-Punch.

"CAVIARE TO THE GENERAL."—We rarely meet a oldier without hearing some complaint about the mall pay he is getting. Still, we are startled by the following advertisement: "Wanted, a plain cook. Wages, £16; all found.

Really, such an offer is an insult to the Army, and the Horse Guards ought to notice it. However plty he may deem the pay he is receiving, surely pairy no many mould consent to an exchange which would make him leave the Service for the place of a plain cook .- Punch.

A Novel Use of Pigeons.—Carrier pigeons have been put to a valuable and ingenious use by an Isle of Wight doctor. After seeing his patients in each rillage the doctor writes a list of prescriptions, sfixes it to the leg of a pigeon, and sends the bird home. The prescriptions are thus made up long before the doctor's return and the medicines for those living at a distance are enabled to be despatched at once. As a country doctor's practice is necessarily much scattered, this method might be adopted with great advantage, as delay, in the arrival of medicine is often of serious consequence to the patient.

AN ANIMAL WITH ITS HEAD WHERE ITS TAIL OUGHT 10 Br!-One of the buyers for a wholesale butcher established in Nevada, while on a trip to the upper country, recently discovered among a drove of cattle a animal about two years old, which presents a remarkable freak of nature, and puts other bovine monstrosities completely in the shade. The head of the animal in question is where the tail ought to be-or, in other words, the hind legs of the creature are nearest its head, for when it walks or runs it goes backwards. Even in this awkward manner it has no difficulty in keeping up with its comrades when they walk or run over the pastures. The owner would not dispose of the animal, notwithstanding a good round sum was offered for him.

GENTLEMAN HELP.—An advertisement in a daily paper offers a good opening for any one of too many of our young friends:

"Youth (genteel) wanted at Builder's Office and assist in house early morn, clean knives, boots, and run errands. Good opportunity to learn. Apply, &c."

This is really the only sort of thing that num ben of well-looking boys, sons of poor gentlefolk, are fit for, whilst their parents and friends are vain-lystriving to obtain them employment requiring educated intelligence. The expectations cherished in such cases might be truly expressed by advertisement, as follows: "Wanted, by parents moving ingood society, but of narrow means, a gentleman-ly and lucrative situation for a youth of rudimen-lary knowledge, and of abilities below the average."

A Horse getting Hisself Shop .- A horse having been turned into a field by its owner, Mr. Joseph lane, of Fascombe, in the parish of Ashelworth, was missed therefrom the next morning, and the usual inquiries set afoot as to what could have become of him. He had, it seems, been shod (all fours), a few days before, and, as usual got pinched in a foot. Feeling, no doubt, a lively sense of improper shoeing, and desirous of relieving the cause of pain, he contrived to unhang the gate of his pasture with his mouth, and made the best of his way to the smithy, a distance of a mile and a half from Pascombe, waiting respectfully at the door until the bungling artist got up. The smith relates that he found him there on opening his shed that the horse advanced to the forge, and held up his ailing foot; and that he himself upon examination, discovered the injury, took off the shoe, and replaced it more carefully-which, having been done, the sagacious mimal set off at a merry pace homewards. Soon after, Mr. Lane's servants passed by the forge in quest of the animal, and upon inquiry received for answer-" Oh! he has been here and got shod, and

la gone home again." THE GREAT BELLS OF THE WORLD .- The great bell of Moscow, called the Tsar Kolokol, cr king of bells, is the largest in the world. It is 19 feet three inches high, and measures around its margin 60 feet 9 inches. It is estimated to weigh 443,772 pounds, and the metal in it is valued at more than $300,000. The bells of China rank next in size to those of Russia, but are much inferior to them in form and tone. In Peking, it is stated by Father La Compte, there are seven bells, each weighing 120,000 pounds. One in the suburbs of the city is, according to the testimony of many travellers, the largest suspended bell in the world. It is hung near the ground, in a large pavilion, and, to ring it, a huge beam is swung against its side. A bell takon from the Dagon pagoda at Rangoon was valued at $80,000. Among the bells recently cast for the new House of Parliament, the largest weighs 14 tons. The next largest bell in England, was cast in 1845 for York Minster, and weighs 27,000 pounds and is 7 feet 7 inches in diameter. The Great Tom of Oxford weighs 17,000 pounds, and the Great Tom of Lincoln is 12,000 pounds. The bell of St. Paul's in London is 9 feet in diameter, and weighs 11,500 pounds. One place in the Cathedral of Paris, in 1680, weighs 38,000 pounds; and in Olmutz is another weighing about the same. The famous bell called Susanne of Erfurt is considered to be of the facest bell metal, containing the largest proportion of silver; its weigh is about 30,000 pounds; it was cast in 1497. At Montreal, Canada, is a larger bell than any in England, weighing 29,400 pounds; it was imported in 1843 for the Notro Dame cathedral. In the opposite tower of the Cathedral is a chime of ten bells, the heaviest of which weighs 6,043 pounds, and their aggregate weight is 21,800 pounds. Appleton's American Oyclopedia 11113
