

9. The committee recommends that the government should develop an effective, immediate, and long-range industrial strategy for aerospace, aimed at maximizing long-term industrial benefits, developing new technologies, and expanding skilled and other employment. (Pages 46 and 47; and pages 55 and 57.)

10. The committee is as convinced as ever that our armed forces must be provided with the manpower, equipment, and other resources required to accomplish the tasks they are assigned. It believes that this may require that defence expenditures increase to between 2.5 and 3 percent of GNP. (Chapter V, section 3, especially page 48, and 57.)
