

Queen's Park Races Close Tomorrow Card Will Be the Best of the Week

Fastest Mile of the Day Made by Wisdom King

Barrett's Horse Took Place in Field of Eight— Bar's Easy Win.

The third day of the London Trotting and Pacing Association's meeting was the biggest crowd of the week at Queen's Park. Wednesday afternoon being observed by many of the stores as a half-holiday, hundreds who would otherwise have been unable to do so found it possible to attend the races, and as a result there were fully two thousand paid admissions.

While as a rule the racing was of interest on the part of the spectators, there was less delay in getting the horses away than was experienced on the preceding day, and Starter Dan Ferguson was patted on the back accordingly. Dan was firmer with the drivers. He gave them to understand: 1. That time was valuable. 2. That they had to score with the pole horse.

3. That he would not hesitate to lay an fines if they failed to do so.

Drivers Fined.
That he meant what he said was shown during the afternoon, two drivers being taxed for failing to score with the pole horse when there was apparently nothing to prevent them doing so.

The plan of deciding all races in five heats, if not in less, has been found to work with the greatest satisfaction. In past years, when it was necessary to continue a race until one horse had taken three heats, it not infrequently meant that the programme was not completed before 7 or 7:30 o'clock. Under the new plan, the purse is divided according to the work of the horses in five heats, regardless of whether or not any one has taken three heats. Six o'clock also sees the card cleaned off.

Wisdom's King's Race.

The 2:15 pace was beyond doubt the best on the programme yesterday. It went to Wisdom King, owned by Charlie Barrett, of Parkhill. Wisdom King was started in the 2:15 pace, and in the first heat, in a field of eight, he came in on the tall end of the string. However, the heat looked like a warning-up for him, as in the second and third he had things his own way. He landed the fourth heat, but only a challenge by Sidney Mac, winner of the opener.

Walk-Over for Ian Bar.
The half-mile race for 3-year-olds,

Ian Bar had a walkover, winning three straight, hands down.

Charlie Crow was a contender for premier honors in the first two heats, but dropped into fifth position the third time away.

The running race was somewhat of a burlesque, there being but three starters, and but one game horse in the bunch. Mizzen Mast, the Ohio horse which finished second to Renaissance on the opening day, won out in a walk over Flying Brook and Charlattan in two straight heats.

In the first dash Mizzen Mast took the lead at the start of the first heat, and was never headed, but in the second trial Flying Brook led until the last turn, when Mizzen Mast came by him like a flash and won out by several lengths.

Previous to the start of the first heat Charlattan got the bit in her teeth and carried her rider completely around the track before she was stopped. And after she was started she wanted to stop, and was distanced, although allowed by the judges to start in the second heat.

NO OFFICIAL ENTRY LIST.

Despite the announcement to that effect, there is no official entry list for the running races at Queen's Park. Yesterday some seven horses were alleged to be scheduled to start, when in reality but three nags faced the starter. The correct entries for the trotting and pacing races tomorrow, however, appear in another column on this page.

SURPRISES IN BATTING AVERAGES.

The American League batting averages to date contain many surprises, showing, as they do, that some of the sluggers of the 1906 season are away down in their batting. Take George Stone, for instance. Last year he was the top-notch batter of the league, being tied with Clarke, of Cleveland, for first place, with an average of .358. To date, Stone is batting only .200. Keeler, of the Yankees, the bunt hitter of the league, batter .304 last year. His figure at present is .219. Congalton, of Boston, is now batting at a .205 clip, whereas last season he was fifth on the list with .320. Grimsshaw, of Boston, has been acting as though he could not hit a balloon, his percentage being .127. Others in the slump are Bemis, Stovall, Chase, H. Davis, and Hemphill. Charley Jones, the ex-Canadian Leaguer, is one of the players who is showing a decided improvement in their stick-work. His average in 1906 was .241, while his average is now .304. Niles, of St. Louis, is showing the greatest improvement, however. He heads the league at present with an average of .384, whereas last season the best he could do was .229. In 99 times at bat, Niles has made 38 hits, four being two-baggers, three triples and one a home run.

MULLIN IS NAPS' HOODOO.

George Mullin, of the Tigers, is the Naps' hoodoo. He has pitched four games against Cleveland, and he has won three of them, all shut-outs. His only defeat was experienced a few days ago, when he was knocked out of the box in the second inning. In the three games he won the Naps were able to make only three hits in each instance. Mullin's achievement is a feat never performed by any other pitcher. Lieberhart, Hess and Joss were the losing pitchers in those games.

A TWENTY-THREE-INNING GAME.

The longest game of baseball in many years, possibly, was played recently in the Western Association between the Hutchinson and Oklahoma teams. It went 23 innings, and ended in favor of Oklahoma, 2 to 1. One pitcher did all the work for the Oklahoma nine, and two were utilized by Hutchinson. Seven errors were the total for the game. Down in the Southern Atlantic League, also, they are having great ball. Jacksonville and Columbia recently played a 17-inning tie, 4 to 4, while Savannah and Macon played thirteen innings, 5-4. That's ball of which the major leagues would not be ashamed.

KID MOHLER DOES HIS SHARE.

Kid Mohler, at one time a member of the London Canadian League team, is still doing his share to help "Frisco" win the championship of the Pacific Coast League. In fact, the "Kid" is nearly the whole works. In one week recently he was at bat 26 times, and made six hits, three of them being good for two bases. His fielding for the week was perfect, no errors being charged up against him in 44 chances. In addition to doing his share with the stick and in the field, Mohler managed to purloin a few bases.
