

Notwithstanding all our difficulties, Churches are rising up among us—that at Georgetown is progressing steadily to completion; the Church at Milton is in a forward, though not a finished state; while a liberal grant is anticipated from the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, for the assistance of the Congregation at Grand Rustico, who are desirous of erecting one of stone. At Richmond Bay also, and at Cascumpec, the work is not neglected; and in no great space of time we may hope to look around us through the Island as we pass along, without the humiliating feeling that our own Church does not rear its head to cheer our sight as we make our pilgrimage amongst its settlements.

The sum subscribed and contributed during the past year to the objects of your Society, amounts to £64 4s. 8d. currency—and an increasing interest in the cause may be expected in the coming year. While we act in unison, and with a single eye to the Holy Master's glory, let us be encouraged in His name to look for greater things; He is the director and disposer of all good, and let our views be guided by the satisfactory remembrance that while He is with us, we shall be defended from all which may be against us—should success attend us, His will be the glory—should our efforts prove unavailing, His wisdom will overrule the seeming evil to His own everlasting honor.
