PROF. BELL IS PREPARING TO TAKE WINGS AND FLY

He Has Large Force of Experts at Baddeck Working on His New Airship.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 15.—(Special)—Prof. Alexander Graham Bell will not be a competitor in the race for flying machines for the Gordon Bennett cup which is to take place in Paris early this summer," says W. F. Bedwin, superintendent of Prof. Bell's kite laboratories at Baddeck.

During the winter the full force of experts have been employed putting together a large number of tetrahedrons, which in a short time will be placed in one piece, the whole body to form the body of an airship.

In a former airship that was experimented with on land, a covering of small triangles was made of silk, in future all trials will be conducted over water and a specially prepared oil surface will be used for all cloth that may be necessary to use in the work.

He says there are no deviations from experiments of former years. The general outline of the machine will remain the same. Practically the propelling power will be obtained by means of a specially constructed electric motor. This engine is of 20 horse-power, in weight far below that of the ordinary motor of the same power, and it is expected to send the airship along at the rate of six or seven miles an hour. No outside agency, such as gas, will be used in the trials to be made during the summer. The flight of the machine will depend entirely on the action of the air on the plane of angles assisted by the motor. Mr. Bedwin says it is ready to be placed in the water after the new air is added. After the trial is over on the lake surface the apparatus will be attached to the airship, and an effort will be made at flying with an operator aboard to look after the machinery and guide the ship. Professor Bell and family will arrive in Baddeck early in June.
