GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

IMPERIAL PATRONS

The doors of Imperial Theatre will be thrown open at 6.30 Monday evening and the first show of "The Battle of The Somme" pictures will commence sharply at 7 o'clock, preceded by patriotic overture. The second show will commence at 8.30 and in this matter regular patrons of the theatre are warned against being late for this second performance. Ordinarily the Imperial's second shows have not commenced until about a quarter to nine, but as the "Somme" pictures will be the only feature in the bill, the intermission will occur earlier than usual. The matinee will start at two o'clock and 3.30.

Tickets are now being sold at the Imperial box office at the following prices: Reserved box chairs both afternoon and evening, 35c; children in the afternoon, 15c.; adults, 25c.; evening prices: rear balcony, 15c.; front balcony, 25c.; orchestra floor, 25c and box chairs 35c. Such widespread interest is being displayed in the showing of this actual picture of the great battle still unfinished, that the public is advised to make reservations early and if possible, to see the picture at the matinee shows when there is less risk of rush. FIRST VAUDEVILLE

The Gem will present its first vaude-The Gem will present its first vaudeville programme on next Saturday. The acts will be supplied by Marcus Loew, which will put the Gem on the noted Marcus Loew circuit, which includes many theatres in the United States and Canada. The Gem stage is being rebuilt for presentation of vaudeville and with the scenery provided, patrons will see quite a change on next Saturday.
The programmes will include both pictures and vaudeville and should prove the most popular in the city.

WILSON'S FIRST SPEECH SINCE THE BALLOTING
Williamstown, Mass., Nov. 11.—In a speech here last night before several thousand persons who came from nearby towns to congratulate him on his relection, President Wilson said: "I want to say that now the campaign is over we must think of only one thing, and that is not of parties but of the interest of the great country we all love. Let us forget all our differences and unite for compon service. Only in that way can we work, for the great nation that has given us liberty and peace."

Demonstration for Wilson
Washington, Nov. 11.—Democratic leaders and officials of the American Federation of Labor made plans yesterday for a big demonstration when President Wilson gets back to. Washington on Sunday. They estimated that 20,000 persons would be in line to greet the president and march behind him to the White House.

Sir:-I read an article in last night's

Los Angeles, Cal., No. 10—Mrs. Inez Milholland Boissevain, woman suffrage leader, who collapsed while delivering a political address in this city a short How They Explain it Different explanations of this are offered by German-American leaders, but the leading one was that Hughes in the latter part of his campaign had failed to measure up to German-American expectations in his speeches, and had been much injured with that element by the association of Colonel Roosevelt with his campaign.

George Sylvester Viareck, editor of The Fatherland, said that a careful analysis of the results showed him that both candidates had been rebuked and disowned by the German-Americans. Viareck, who opposed Wilson bitterly, did not support Hughes through the campaign. He and his followers took the position that the Republican candidate's endorsement of Colonel Roosevelt and some of his utterances as to foreign policy showed him to be as unsympathetic to German-American sensibilities as President Wilson.

Mr. Vlareck said that certain other influences counted out in the Middle West, principally the support of the German-American brewers in Milwauke eand St. Louis and the German antiprohibitionist element who had constructively and some of his utterances as to foreign policy showed him to be as unsympathetic to German-American brewers in Milwauke eand St. Louis and the German antiprohibitionist element who had constructively and the site is deal political address in this city a short time ago, lies in a critical condition in the Good Samaritan Hospital, having suffered several sinking and fainting spells.
