BIRTHDAY PARTY.
On Wednesday evening Mrs. Edward Ramsay gave a very pretty little party in honor of her daughter, Beatrice, who was celebrating her tenth birthday.
About fourteen little friends gathered, and after a dainty supper, presented to Miss Beatrice a tray filled with pretty gifts. Games and music were enjoyed, and at nine o'clock the happy little ones departed, wishing Miss Beatrice many happy returns of the day.

PRESENTATION.
A pleasant event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Welford Marks last evening, when friends gathered to bid farewell to Miss Florence Fletcher, who is returning home after a residence of two years at Grand Bay, where she has been employed with the Thompson Manufacturing Company. Daniel Usher, on behalf of the assembly, presented to Miss Fletcher a purse. Games and music were enjoyed and refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

NEW PHILATHEA CLASS.
The young ladies of the Ludlow street Baptist church met at the home of Mrs.
B. E. Belyea on Tuesday evening to organize a Philathea class. The following were elected: Honorary president, Mrs. B. C. Reid; president, Miss Lillian Cameron; secretary, Miss Muriel Harned; vice-president, Miss Nora Cameron; governors, Mrs. William Christopher and Mrs. B. E. Belyea. The members of the class through the winter will be to aid the needy in West St. John.

the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mc-Aleer, 27 Victoria street, last evening when their daughter, Miss Martha Mc-Aleer, entertained a number of friends given under the auspices of the Choral Society of St. Philip's Church. In the evening, the difficulties of the winter season were discussed, and a large number of friends gathered and shared in the many games recommended by the church and shared in the fine spirit of interest continue they look forward to greater accomplishments in the work of the society. The sum realized goes toward the funds of the church.

BOWLERS HOME FROM CALAIS.
A team of Y. M. C. I. bowlers arrived home today from Calais where they were defeated last night by the Calais team, 1,346 to 1,328. J. L. McNulty was high man for the local team with a total of 278. The high man of the Calais team rolled 287. The local team was composed of N. P. Jenkins, J. Harrington, W. J. Stack, H. F. Gibbons and J. L.
McNulty. Gerald Keane, of St. John was referee. The Y. M. C. I. team were guests at a football match between St.
Stephen and Calais yesterday afternoon, and were entertained at a banquet and dance after last night's match. Mr. Mc-Nulty spoke at the banquet, and thanked the St. Croix club for their hospitality.
All the boys spoke very highly of the treatment which they received at the border town.

LADY BYNG AT RECEPTION OF OUR AUTHORS

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—Her Excellency Lady Byng, who is honorary president of the Canadian Authors' Association, was the guest of honor at a reception at the Chateau Laurier last night given by the Ottawa branch of the association.
Lady Byng is herself an author, and two of her books, "Barriers" and "Anne of the Marshland" have had wide circulation both in Great Britain and this country. It was a happy function at which most of the members of the association in the city with their wives or escorts were present.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF SHIPPING CONFERENCE
London, Nov. 25.—The international shipping conference yesterday adopted a resolution recommending The Hague rule of 1921, concerning bills of lading, for voluntary international application, and, as far as may be necessary, for adoption by an international convention between the maritime countries.

Other resolutions carried yesterday were in favor of the adoption of international rules governing the carriage of deck cargoes of wood and the introduction of international load line regulations.

TWENTY YEARS IN PRISON FOR SPELLMAN

Judge Barry Imposed Sentence Today.

Not Permitted by Law to Take War Record Into Consideration, But Would Report Counsel's Plea to Department of Justice.

Mr. Justice Barry this morning passed sentence of twenty years in prison on James Thomas Spellman, convicted of manslaughter on an indictment charging him with the murder of Albert Norris. An order of the appeal court affirming the conviction was read and ordered filed in the records of the court asked by the judge if Spellman had anything to say before sentence was passed on him. G. Earle Logan asked the judge to take into consideration the prisoner's war record and his physical condition.

Mr. Mullin said that reputable citizens had testified to his good character and his war record had shown him as a volunteer for the First Contingent, from which he was rejected on medical grounds. Spellman, however, worked his way across to England and enlisted as a gunner in the Royal Field Artillery. He was shell-shocked in the Battle of the Somme and gassed at the Battle of Passchendaele.

Where his physical condition is due to the performance of his patriotic duty, Mr. Mullin submitted that this should be taken into consideration. While it was true his condition was aggravated by his drinking of lemon extract, Mr.
Mullin said that his plight was due greatly to his service at the front, and he asked the court to deal leniently with the prisoner.

Judge Barry said that the jury had acquitted Spellman of the charge of murder, but convicted him of manslaughter.
The maximum penalty for this crime was life imprisonment. He said he was impressed with the fact that he had done meritorious war service, but the law did not permit him to take this into consideration. He saw no reason why the plea of Spellman's record should not be presented before the executive of the country.

Norris, he said, was knocked on the head like a dog for a bottle of liquor.
It was a crime that deserved and called for severe punishment. He did not intend to inflict the extreme penalty, but he was going to inflict what might be called a severe sentence. He said in reporting to the justice department he would lay before them the facts presented by his counsel.

He then passed sentence of twenty years in Dorchester on Spellman.

FIRST PASSENGER VESSEL SUNDAY

Tunisian Nearing St. John With 142—Grain Vessel Expected Today—Winter
Port Workers Arrive.

A radio was received at C. P. R. headquarters this morning to the effect that the C. P. R. liner Tunisian will arrive here Sunday about noon. She is the first passenger boat of the season and is bringing from Glasgow forty-eight cabin and ninety-six steerage passengers.
The first grain boat of the season will be the S. S. Regia, which was due to reach port today. She is to take away approximately 250,000 bushels of rye for an European port.

At the present time the C. P. R. elevators in West St. John contain 1,042, 000 bushels, 980,000 in the new elevator and 60,000 in the old. More is en route here and will in all probability arrive some time next week.

Some freight is beginning to arrive here for the steamers. Only a small amount has been received to date as the port of Montreal is still open and traffic is still being routed there. More freight is expected daily for the liners.

James McKenna, travelling passenger agent of the C. P. R. and J. O. Apps, general agent of baggage, mail and freight, arrived in the city this morning from Montreal to arrange for the season's activities. Members of the various staffs are arriving daily and are making preparations to handle the freight and passenger traffic.

CELEBRATION OF 35TH ANNIVERSARY

With thirty-five years of married life completed with the coming of November 24, James L. Driscoll of the post office staff and his good lady were the central figures in a very happy celebration of the anniversary at their home in Rodney street, West End, last evening. None in the large company of relatives and friends who gathered to do them honor were more happy than the bride and groom of November 24, 1886. It was an entire surprise to them when they returned after having their evening meal with their son, J. Harry Driscoll, Richmond street, to find their home brightly lighted and occupied by friends and in a conspicuous place a large basket filled with gifts in remembrance of the day, midnight and then all sat down to a table with Mr. and Mrs. Driscoll in the seats of honor and sons and daughters and other relatives grouped about them. How it all had been done without the knowledge of Mrs. Driscoll was a marvel to her. The nicely decorated table had as special features two bridal cakes on either of which was a miniature of bride and groom. Happy speeches of felicitations were made by several of those present and were responded to by Mr. and Mrs. Driscoll and also on their behalf by J. H. Cobalan, brother of Mrs.
Driscoll. Among those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perry, of Quebec, the latter a sister of Mrs. Driscoll.
