TOOK THE PLEDGE FROM FR. MATTHEW

John Sullivan, Respected Citizen of St. John For Long Life Has Passed Away

Many residents of this city will learn with regret of the death of John Sullivan, an old and respected citizen of St. John, who died at his home in Duke street last night at ten o'clock. Mr. Sullivan was enjoying fairly good health up till last week, when he took ill. He was very prominently known in shipping circles at this port, and was also a strong advocate of temperance. His last distinction of having taken the total abstinence pledge from the late Father Matthew himself, having done so in Ireland as a boy, soon after Father Matthew was ordained. His promise he always faithfully kept, and in his later days he did much to further the cause of temperance in this city.

REDUCTION OF PILOTAGE

Commission Recommends Lower Charge for Shifting Vessels in the Harbor

A reduction in the pilotage charges for the transfer of vessels in the harbor was recommended by the St. John Pilotage Commissioners at their annual meeting which was held yesterday. The shipping men have been protesting for years that the rates were too high and, after discussing the matter, the Commissioners decided to make the recommendation for the reduction to the department of marine, which has final authority in the matter. The only other business of importance was the adoption of the annual report of the secretary, J. U. Thomas, which was published in The Times some time ago. Those present at the meeting were:—James Knox, H. C. Schofield, J. Willard Smith and Edward Laidlaw. At present these are the only members of the board, which is supposed to include seven commissioners, but which was reduced by the resignation of several members. There is considerable public interest in the action which will be taken with regard to the membership of the commission. The board of trade and the common council have recommended that a committee of three pilot members be appointed to govern pilotage matters at this port, and a recommendation has also been made that the pilotage be administered directly by the minister of marine, though a superintendent located here, as is done in Montreal. It is not likely that the vacancies will be filled until these recommendations have been considered by the department and a decision reached regarding the future of the board.

TUG LILY IS SUNK AT INDIANTOWN

Filled Last Night and Went Down—All Covered Except at Low Tide

Another boat is sunk in the harbor at Indiantown today, the tug 'Lily' having gone down last night. She is thought to be in a worse condition than the Hampton, which became partly submerged early Monday morning. The tugboat was lying at winter quarters at Stetson & Carter's mill wharf, and it is thought some ice loosened fastened to her side, so that when it left it took some of the oakum from her seams, causing the water to pour in with the most a fraction portion of her is now to be seen above water except at low tide. It was found late yesterday afternoon that the tug was shipping water and the cause being learned, the tug 'Danish' was sent to her assistance to aid with the pumps. It seemed to be of no avail, however, for the tug sank in short time. She is owned by a company of men composed of R. C. Elton, C. Scott, Harry Miller, Parker Hasler, D. J. Purdy, P. Jordan and C. D. Dolan. The tug had been in charge of Captain Reid, but being laid up for the winter there was no one on watch at the time.

SUICIDE, SAYS REPORT, RELATIVES SCOUT THEORY

(St. Andrew's Beacon.) A telegram received by Messrs. Grimmer & Ross from Los Angeles, Calif., on Saturday, conveyed the information that Edgar Greenlaw, formerly of Bayside, had committed suicide there. The form of suicide was not stated. The sender, J. D. Batten, asked that the relatives be informed. His relatives at Bayside were immediately informed of the receipt of the telegram. They scout the suicide theory, and say that they think his death was due to an overdose of morphine which he had been using for a physical trouble. Mr. Greenlaw was one of the most industrious and capable farmers of Bayside and had a very comfortable home. His sister, Mrs. Oda Greenlaw was his housekeeper. He was unmarried. His health prompted him to go to California. When he went west a few months ago, it was thought that he had been washing away routes, as no word was received from him. Subsequently, it was learned that he had reached his destination safely.
